GOD SPEED THE DAY

When Square Deal Shall Prevail.

Judge McPherson Denounces the Setting of One "Crowd" Above Another.

Post Moves East to Preach the Gospel of Association to All Men.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOPEKA (Kan.) July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Judge Smith McPherson of the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of Iowa has rendered an opinion regarding the right of strikers to establish a picket line. Santa Fé officials here today received notice of the opinion. It is attracting much attention.

In one portion of the opinion, Judge McPherson says: "There can be no such thing as 'peaceful picketing,' any more than there can be 'chaste vulgarity' or 'peaceful mobbing' or 'lawful lynching.'"

The case that brought forth Judge McPherson's words arose over the differences that the Santa Fé road had with its employés during the machinists' strike of 1904. Judge McPherson says there would not have been the slightest occasion for bringing this case if there had been any sincerity and honesty of purpose by the local authorities to maintain peace and order. Intimidation, force, violence and brutality were all winked

...rights of man for property," he says, "is not to be measured by braggarts or bullies, or vulgarity, or profanity, and the saloons must not be the place where supposed rights are to be decreed, as the evidence in this case showed has been attempted many times by some of those on the strike.

"This court has a concern that peace and quiet prevail, and that a state of serfdom shall not exist by a so-called system of picketing of one crowd of men over another."

RIGHT OF ASSOCIATION.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] C. W. Post of Battle Creek, Mich., president of the Citizens' Industrial Association of America, the organization which started the "open shop" movement, has moved its national headquarters from Indianapolis to the St. James Building, Twenty-sixth street and Broadway. Post has come east to take personal charge.

Secretary Emery said today: "We are not fighting labor unions. We believe in the right of labor and of employers to organize, but we do not believe in an invasion of the rights of unorganized people by those who are organized. We will begin in August to issue the first number of a monthly magazine called "The Square Deal," devoted to the defense of the principles of the association."

"THE GREATEST CURSE."

POLITICAL AND LABOR BOSS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "There can be no great reform in the affairs of American municipalities until the political boss and the labor union cease to be dictators. They are the greatest curse the United States has to contend with."

This is the keynote of James Dalrymple's famous letter, in which he reported to Mayor Dunne his suggestions on the municipalization of Chicago's street railroads. The much-discussed epistle of the Scotch traction expert to the Mayor of Chicago has never been made public.

No such reform as the proposed municipal-traction system can be successfully brought about where American labor-union principles find support, he declares, adding that the same is true of American political methods.

PENNYPACKER'S LIBRARY.

PHILADELPHIA, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Early in the fall, it is reported there will be placed on sale at public auction the finest library of historical works held privately in this country, the owner of which is Gov. Whittaker Pennypacker. Collectors will have an opportunity of bidding on about fifteen thousand books, the estimated value of which is $100,000.

TURKS TRIED TO KILL SULTAN.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 25.—The commission which has been inquiring into the attempt on the life of the Sultan Friday last is believed to have obtained information indicating that it was a Turkish plot. As this would never be admitted, even if proved, the authorities are industriously creating the impression that the bomb outrage was the work of European anarchists.

MORE THAN TEN MILLIONS.

Net Increase in Steel Trust Earnings for the Quarter Ending June 30. Bear Market's Scramble.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] In a statement issued by the directors of the United States Steel Corporation, late this afternoon, in relation to the quarter ending June 30, it is shown that the net increase in earnings above the corresponding quarter last year amounts to more than $10,000,000. The net earnings amount to the enormous sum of $30,305,163.

Shortly before closing time on the Stock Exchange, the report gained credence that the statement would show the net earnings to be under $30,000,000, and, in fact, in some quarters it was believed the total amount would fall to $25,000,000. This report sent the bear market into a wild scramble to sell, and thousands of dollars were lost by the brokers on that side of the market, who parted with their holdings, believing that the drop was to come.

The regular quarterly dividends of 1¾ per cent. on preferred stock was declared. The earnings for six months this year were $52,830,000, making it possible that the earnings for the full year will easily exceed $100,000,000.

UNUSUAL FEATURE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—The statement contained several unusual features, including an appropriation of $1,000,000 charged to "special improvement and replacement." $5,000,000 on account of "expenditures made and to be made for additional property," etc., and $2,500,000, "specifically set aside for contemplated appropriations and expenditures, the character of which is not disclosed."

THEATER TRUST'S "BRAINS" BACK.

CHARLES FROHMAN RETURNS TO FIGHT THE SHUBERTS.

He Brings With Him from Europe Some Ammunition in the Shape of New Plays—Belasco and Fiske Expect to Astonish the Syndicate. Talk from Inside.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 26.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Charles Frohman arrived from Europe, tonight, bringing with him a score of new plays for production the coming season and to face the bitterest fight he has ever had yet in the war of the Shubert-Belasco-Fiske combine to destroy the "theatrical trust" While Klaw & Erlanger are nominally known as the trust heads, Frohman is really the "head and brains" of the affair, and on him will fall the brunt of the battle.

The Shuberts do not claim to be fighting Frohman's trust, but the situation was set forth by a man on the inside tonight as follows:

"The Shuberts mean fight, and they mean it hard, too. They are getting new theaters fast, and they have attractions to fill the houses. Don't make any mistake. With assistance of David Belasco and Harrison Grey Fiske, they will upt up a fight which will astonish Frohman and Klaw & Erlanger.

"The last named firm is trying to cut into Froham's business to their own profit. That statement may not be believed, but it is true, nevertheless. I know positively that for a long time Frohman has been sick and tired of the syndicate, and has been intending to get out of it. Belasco's suit against Klaw & Erlanger made him more tired than ever. Just watch for developments."

ANACONDA COILING UP.

BUTTE (Mont.) July 25.—The Anaconda Company has filed notice to the effect that it has lowered its capital stock from $1,000,000 to $100,000. The change is made preparatory to the closing-up of the affairs of the company. The Anaconda company is one of the early corporations organized by the late Marcus Daly and out of which the present Anaconda company of the Amalgamated Copper Company was formed.

GERMAN SLICK TRICK DENIED.

BERLIN, July 25.—It is semi-officially declared that there is no ground for the alarm among the German residents of New Guinea and New Britain at the report that the German government proposes to establish a penal settlement in the Admiralty Islands (northwest of New Guinea,) with the ultimate object of colonizing the group and thus increasing German influence in the Pacific.

VENEZUELA FOR VENEZUELANS.

CARACAS, July 25.—The congress of Venezuela has ratified the contract made by the government with C. Madueno for the establishment of the National Bank of Venezuela and granted him the exclusive right of manufacturing cigarettes. Congress also ratified the contract entered into with Jose Rilario Mora for grinding wheat. Both contracts are very important transactions. Gen. Antonio Velutini, vice-president of Venezuela, who has vice-acting as fiscal agent of the republic in Europe, where he succeeded in the unification of Venezuela's debt, has arrived here from Europe.

THE GREAT WAR.

MORE TROOPS BEING SENT TO LINEVITCH.

Baron Komura Arrives in New York, and Through His Official Spokesman Says Japan Both Expects That Peace Will Be Made at Portsmouth and That Russia Will Pay Indemnity—Meeting of Czar and Kaiser.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] Reinforcements for Gen. Linevitch are steadily being forwarded. The Thirteenth Army Corps, the headquarters of which are at Smolensk, will leave for the front next week.

MUST MEET TERMS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Aimar Sato, secretary and spokesman for Baron Komura, speaking for the latter, said today:

"Japan is for peace, but for justice first, and Russia must meet Japan's terms. Japan was never in such good condition to continue war as at present. The country is very prosperous and our credit greatly improved."

TOKIO, July 25.—An official report from the headquarters of the Japanese army in northern Korea says: "On Monday, July 24, the army succeeded in dislodging the enemy from the neighborhoods of Puku and Puryong and occupied a line to the northward."

STIFF FIGHT EAST OF RAILWAY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

FUSAN, July 25.—The fight reported Friday was the first worthy of ... which has occurred ... the railway. Two Russian reconnoitering forces approached the Japanese line, one about twenty miles, the other about seventy miles east of the railway. The first contingent consisted of two squadrons of cavalry, the second of two battalions of infantry Both retired after brief encounters. The Japanese sustained no losses, but those of the Russians are supposed to have been nearly one hundred. In the first encounter, the Russian cavalry, with its front side a thousand meters long, advanced upon the Japanese line until it came under fire, when it retired in confusion and the infantry advanced. The Japanese fired forty rounds with a captured Russian battery, when the Russians retired, the Japanese infantry following them for ten miles.

WAR'S MOST QUIET PERIOD.

The past three months, with both armies, has been the most quiet period of the entire war. There have been no engagements at the front and the only encounters have been those of reconnoitering expeditions sent out by both armies, similar to that of last Friday, with a small total of the losses, and a few trifling encounters at the outposts.

The Russian and Japanese lines are seven miles apart. The Russians maintain a screen of cavalry outposts some miles in front of their trenches, to guard against attacks. Reconnoitering forces from both sides traverse the neutral zone frequently, each feeling the strength of the other at the front, and making a small weekly list of killed, wounded and captured.

MEETING OF EMPERORS.

HAS GOOD EFFECT ON BOURSE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 25.—Gossip and conjecture are busy with reasons for and results of the meeting between Emperor William and Emperor Nicholas off the Island of Bjoerkoe, but the return of the Russian imperial party to Peterhof has added nothing definite to the information regarding the subjects discussed or the conclusions reached at the interviews between the two sovereigns.

The belief that the meeting will make for peace was reflected on the Bourse today, imperial fours rising a full point, to 85½, in a firm market.

The importance of the meeting is recognized in the press, comments of all shades of opinion being expressed.

TO LOOK OUT FOR KOREA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—One of today's arrivals on the steamer Alameda from Honolulu was P. K. Yoon, who is on his way to Washington for the purpose of acting as an official delegate appointed to look after the interests of Korea during the peace negotiations. He is minister of the Korean Methodist Church in Honolulu. He stated that his object was to get the most favorable terms for Korea for the present, with a view of obtaining independence in the future.

OIL FIELD FIRE OUT.

Flames Extinguished Save for Bottom of One Tank—Eight Corpses Found.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HOUSTON (Tex.) July 25.—The fire in the Texas Company's tanks at the Humble oil fields is practically extinguished tonight. There is still a bit of oil in the bottom of the eleventh tank, but this, it is thought, will be burned out before morning. The charred remains of eight persons have been found, and the search still continues.

BOTH PEACE AND AN INDEMNITY.

WHAT JAPAN EXPECTS FROM PORTSMOUTH CONFERENCE.

Official Spokesman for Komura Interviewed, During Which It Is Learned that, While Willing ... Will Never Consent to Continue War.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—That Japan will demand an indemnity of Russia in the negotiations for peace and that the war will be declared at an end at the conclusion of the negotiations at Portsmouth, N. H., next month, is the belief of Baron Komura, head of the Japanese peace delegation, who arrived here today, as voiced by Aimar Sato, official spokesman of the Baron on this mission.

After arriving at the hotel, Mr. Sato said that, while a desire for peace was the sentiment of Japan, it was not a desire for peace at any price.

"Japan is in a very prosperous condition at present," he said, "and the war taxes do not fall heavily upon the people yet. There has already been subscribed $250,000,000 to a new internal loan, and our prosperity is further indicated in the success of our foreign loans."

Mr. Sato, in an interview tonight, said: "I am confident that peace will be successfully negotiated by the appointed delegations. The Japanese will be guided by moderation, and no excessive demands will be made, but the sentiment in Japan and Russia is for peace, and in the interests of humanity and propriety there must be peace.

"The cost to Japan has been very great. On both sides, the loss in men has been 570,000, Russia losing 370,000 of these. The war is costing Japan one million dollars a day, and there is a feeling that there ought to be an indemnity."

AS TO ARMISTICE.

Asked as to the probability of an armistice, Mr. Sato said that probably this subject would be among the first questions the plenipotentiaries would decide.

Basing the form of the negotiations on previous treaty negotiations, Japan will make the demands for Russia's consideration, he said:

"The peace terms, while held inviolate by those who knew their text, were formulated by the Emperor of Japan and his council."

Mr. Sato was asked if in the flush of victory the Japanese people would not feel entitled to more than any treaty would allow. He said: "The Japanese are not so gentle as to abide by any decision we may make, but they pay great respect to the offices of President Roosevelt, and his acts have done a great deal to emphasize the need for peace."

Mr. Sato further said that the Japanese would prefer to have the negotiations in the English language, as neither Baron Komura nor himself speak French. The matter, however, would be settled after the President had met the two representatives.

As to the attitude of the Japanese members toward the Russian delegates, Mr. Sato said: "We admire M. Witte and Baron Rosen. The announcement of M. Witte's appointment to the peace conference was

GUNNING EVEN IN DEATH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH (Pa.) July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The will of Miss Anna M. Gunning, a well-known and wealthy maiden, who died July 18 at the age of 55 years, was filed for probate today, and is one of the most remarkable of documents. She leaves the entire estate of half a million, after making bequests amounting to $48,000 to relatives, to Carl F. Miller, a well-known business man, on condition that he divorce his present wife, or that she dies. Otherwise, he does not receive a penny.

Years ago, Miller was the sweetheart of Miss Gunning, and she is said to have loved him devotedly. But, after courting her for some time, he married his present wife, who was Miss Jane Wilkins. Miss Gunning never forgave and never forgot.

Miss Gunning also wills to Miller all pictures, bric-a-brac and household furniture that he may desire, but in no case is Mrs. Miller to have any article or the use of any article.

HIS NEGRO NEIGHBOR.

Gov. Hoch of Kansas by Entertaining Booker T. Washington Encourages Nick Chiles' Ambitions.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOPEKA, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The "Four-hundred" here are deeply outraged because Nick Chiles, a negro, has purchased a home near the Executive Mansion, right under the nose of Gov. Hoch. Chiles is editor of a negro paper, and announces that he desires to live in a swell neighborhood. He says he will be a good neighbor to Hoch, and that the executive may borrow from him when he wishes.

The effrontery of Chiles, as it is characterized by the "upper crust" of society, is attributed to Gov. Hoch's cordiality toward Booker T. Washington, last winter, when the Governor walked up the aisle of Representative Hall, arm in arm with Washington, and made a speech to the Legislature introducing the latter. Hoch also sat beside W. T. Vernor, a noted colored orator, at the Kansas Club banquet in January. The Governor is now receiving many letters ... criticised Hoch last winter.

RUSH FOR OVERALLS.

Bargain-sale Stampede of Pittsburgh Women Results in Eight Being Seriously Injured.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

PITTSBURGH, (Pa.) July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] "Bargains. Men's overalls 10 cents, men's shirts 10 cents."

The above sign in the window of a store on Fifth Avenue at noon today caused a disastrous stampede of bargain hunters. Eight women were seriously hurt in the rush to secure overalls or shirts for their better halves, and a reserve force of police had to be called out in the downtown district. Ambulances and patrol wagons backed up to the doors of the store, and for a time it looked as though there would be great loss of life. As a result of the trouble and danger incurred, it is likely that there will be a rule issued by the police against bargain-day sales in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Mary Hoover was worst hurt of the women who got caught in the crush. She fainted at the head of the stairway, and would have fallen to the lower floor had the crowd not been too dense.

More than a dozen women fell in a faint, and the police had to use their clubs. After about twenty-five hundred of the women had got out of the store, which by this time looked a wreck, it was turned into a hospital, and the injured women were revived and sent to their homes. The condition of Mrs. Hoover is considered serious.

KELLY FILES PERSONAL BONDS.

TOPEKA (Kan.) July 25.—State Treasurer T. T. Kelly tonight filed with the Secretary of State $381,000 of personal bonds. The amount of bond required from Kelly by the Governor, and which he could not secure from the bonding companies, was $750,000. The State Executive Council will meet tomorrow morning, at which time Kelly's bond will be considered, along with that of S. W. Moore, who thought to have been appointed Treasurer by Gov. Hoch.

JAPAN'S TEA CROP.

Shortage of Seven Million Pounds Predicted, but the Quality is Away Ahead of Last Year's.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TACOMA (Wash.) July 25.—There will be a shortage of 7,000,000 pounds in the tea crop of Japan for 1905, as compared to that of last year, according to T. Furya of T. Furya & Co., New York City, who returned on the steamship Iyo Maru from the Orient. Furya says:

"The tea crop is much smaller this year, but the quality is away ahead of last year. The reason is attributed to the heavy rains that fell just about the time the second crop was reaching maturity, and it proved very disastrous. Fully 43,000,000 pounds were imported into the United States this year from Japan and 17,000,000 pounds from Formosa, out of a total of about 90,000,000 pounds consumed in this country."

BREAKS UP CABINET.

Norwegian Question Disturbs Sweden.

Special Committee of Riksdag Reports in Favor of an Arbitration Convention.

Also Specifies Terms to be Insisted Upon if Dissolution Follows.

It Points Out that All Threatening Action Should be Avoided.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

STOCKHOLM, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Cabinet has resigned, following a report by the committee appointed to deal with the Norwegian situation. The committee declares that while Sweden would be justified to enforce the laws of the Union, it would be against her interests to do so.

STOCKHOLM, July 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The Cabinet has resigned.

The special committee appointed by the Riksdag to deal with the crisis which created the revolution today delivered its report. The committee declared unanimously that the government bill cannot be adopted in the form in which it was presented to the Riksdag, and proposes that the Riksdag shall signify its willingness to ... Norway for a dissolution ... or if such request is received from Norway after the Norwegian people, by a plebescite, have declared in favor of a dissolution of the union. The committee reports that in the event of a dissolution Sweden should insist upon the following terms:

First—The establishment of a zone on each side of the frontier, separating the kingdoms, within which the present fortifications will be razed.

Second—The right of pasturing reindeer belonging to Swedish Laplanders in North Norway.

Third—That the transit trade through both countries shall be secured against objectionable obstruction.

Fourth—That the status of Sweden in respect to foreign powers, as established by treaty, shall be clearly defined, so that Sweden shall be completely freed from responsibility for Norway to other States.

The committee also regards an arbitration convention between Sweden and Norway as desirable, although it does not consider it an essential condition for the dissolution of the union.

The committee further proposes to authorize the government to raise a loan of $25,000,000, which can be by a resolution of the Riksdag made available for such readjustments and arrangements as may be necessitated by the new conditions.

"Whatever may be demanded for the welfare and dignity of Sweden as a condition of the repeal of the act of union on the part of Sweden and of the recognition of Norway, must be claimed and adhered to with rigor and determination."

The preamble of the committee's report is a lengthy recitation of the events leading up to the committee's appointment, claiming that Sweden made all possible concession in order to maintain the union. Despite the efforts, the differences grew until the climax was reached in revolution.

"Self respect," declares the committee, "impels the statement that the Union was not dissolved by the Storthing. A contract cannot be broken by one party's parliament. Therefore the Storthing's action can only be considered as Norway's declaration that she does not desire any longer to maintain it. It is for Sweden to decide what action is necessary. According to the laws, she would be fully justified in using the necessary force to reestablish the union. This would seem to be the natural course in the first extreme, but reflection shows that it would be against the true interests of Sweden. Sweden should not employ force, but must insist that its permission is necessary to its dissolution. Sweden must agree to the cancellation of the act of union on certain conditions, insisting, as a preliminary, on a satisfactory settlement of all affairs mutually affecting the two countries."

The committee emphatically disapproves of any action by Sweden in the direction of a dissolution of the union or recognition of Norway's independence until the Norwegians have had an opportunity, through elections or a plebescite, of expressing their wishes. If the vote favors a dissolution, the Storthing must legally approach Sweden to this end, and if a satisfactory agreement can be reached, the committee recommends Sweden's assent.

The report points out that all threatening action should be avoided, as it is important that the two peoples should live in peace, even if separated.

The committee, in conclusion refuses to recommend that the Riksdag request the Cabinet to negotiate with Norway, as demanded by the bill, but says that if Norway approaches Sweden, appropriate negotiations may be reopened.

SATISFACTORY NEWS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

STOCKHOLM, July 26.—Editorials in the newspapers this morning generally express satisfaction over the unanimity of the special committee in its report to the Riksdag dealing with the Swedish-Norwegian crisis.

According to well-informed persons, the reason for this unanimity was that the committee had privately received information to the effect that Norway was willing to submit to a referendum the questions of the establishment of a neutral zone and the razing of minor fortifications, but that she would not consent to a general election. It is understood that a referendum could be arranged to take place within a fortnight. Altogether the prospects are regarded as peaceful.

Much depends upon the character of the new ministry. If it is not of a too conservative or nationalist color, negotiations are expected to proceed smoothly. The King is being urged to choose strong men who, having decided upon a moderate and conciliatory policy, will not be turned from it by agitation in either country.

Several prominent members of the Riksdag yesterday privately expressed the opinion that Norway would agree to a plebiscite, and that the question of fortifications would not raise serious differences.

Many Swedish politicians are more concerned over the after effects of a dissolution, taking the ground that secession would so seriously weaken Norway in a military sense that she would be compelled to seek alliances which might lead to foreign complications, both Norway and Sweden then becoming active counters in the game of international politics.

The first news of the conditions the Riksdag special comittee wished to impose on Norway caused strong resentment among a large section of the Norwegian people, but already there are indications that reflection will bring calmness. Though both the newspapers and the public appear to strongly object to a general election there is less opposition to the idea of a referendum.

The resignation of the cabinet was received without outward manifestations of excitement. Crowds gathered in the vicinity of the newspaper offices, but there was no demonstration.

CONDITIONS NOT ACCEPTABLE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHRISTIANIA, July 25.—Commenting on the situation in Stockholm, all the newspapers prefer to await the debate in the Riksdag on the report of the special committee before considering the conditions Sweden desired to impose, but the majority incline to the opinion that these conditions will not be acceptable to Norway.

FLIGHT OF KNABENSHUE.

HE WILL ENCIRCLE LIBERTY'S STATUE IN AIRSHIP.

For Successful Trip the Aeronaut Will Receive a Bonus of Five Thousand Dollars—Lee Stevens to Fly Over the Boer War Encampment With a Lady.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Roy Knabenshue visited Luna Park, today, to complete arrangements for the airship flight from Coney Island playground around the statue of Liberty and return, for which, if successful, he will receive $5000, under contract with Thompson & Dundy.

After Luna Park flights, the inventor is to have a station near the city, most probably in the Upper Harlem or Bronx, where he will make frequent experiments.

Leo Stevens, who expects to race in the California Arrow with Knabenshue, made a short trip over the Boer War encampment. Miss Mabel Thomas, a westerner, has asked permission to sail with him, and will make the ascension in the California Arrow possibly tomorrow. If all goes well, Stevens will sail the ship over the Coney Island marshes to Gravesend Bay, landing at South Beach and returning by way of Sea Gate and Coney Island.

Capital Bright With Decorations, Loud With Banzais.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

TOKIO, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The steamer Manchuria, having on board Secretary of War Taft and his party, including Miss Roosevelt, arrived off the Japanese coast at daybreak.

The voyage was uneventful and the party arrived all well.

The Manchuria was met at the entrance of Tokio Bay by three steamers, chartered by the American Friends Society. These vessels saluted the Secretary with hundreds of bombs and a display of day fireworks when the Manchuria arrived off Uraga, where Commodore Perry's expedition anchored in 1853.

From Uraga, the Manchuria was escorted by warships detailed for the purpose to Yokohama. The bands of the warships played and their yards were manned in honor of the American guests.

After a brief stay in Yokohama, where the Governor and various deputations welcomed them, the party proceeded in special train to Tokio.

Lloyd C. Griscom, the American minister; the attaches of the legation and Consul General H. B. Miller of Newchwang, together with representatives of the Japanese imperial household, the foreign office, the War Department and the Asiatic Society boarded the Manchuria at Yokohama and extended formal greetings to Secretary Taft and Miss Roosevelt, who held an informal reception on deck.

The party was then driven to the railroad station through the crowded streets, and boarding a special train, departed for Tokio at 10 a. m., amid cheers of the assembled multitude. Upon arrival at Tokio, Secretary Taft and his personal staff were taken to Shiba, where a detached palace was provided for their accommodation. Miss Roosevelt accompanied Minister Griscom to the American Legation.

WELCOMED AT TOKIO.

The citizens here had been notified of the arrival of the Manchuria early in the morning and began to gather at the railway station to welcome the Americans. The square at the station was decorated with brilliant red and purple banners of numerous municipal guilds and corporations.

The streets in the vicinity of the station were jammed with humanity for many blocks. All the city was bright with decorations, conspicuous among which were the flags of Japan and the United States. Even street cars bore the word "Welcome."

The party arrived at 11 o'clock in the morning and received a popular demonstration that exceeded any that was ever given here to a foreign prince. The welcome given to Admiral Togo on his return from his victorious operations at Port Arthur can alone be compared to the ovation accorded Secretary Taft. The party was received by Viscount Tanaka, Minister of the Imperial Household; court dignitaries, the Governor and the Mayor.

After cordial greetings were over, the Americans were escorted to the imperial coaches waiting for them and were driven to Shiba Palace.

The streets were lined with immense crowds and a continuous roar of "banzai" which followed the party from the station to the palace showed the place Americans hold in the hearts of the Japanese people.

DEATHS, SO FAR, THIRTY-FOUR.

YELLOW FEVER STATISTICS OF NEW ORLEANS FURNISHED.

United States Marine Hospital Service Takes Charge of Inspection of Trains, to Co-operate With Local and State Authorities—No Cases at Mobile.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW ORLEANS (La.) July 25.—Tonight, in response to the request of the State Board of Health, the City Board of Health compiled the figures of suspicious and actual cases of yellow fever and deaths, and the figures, as issued by the State Board, show, between July 13 and July 21, that there were about one hundred cases, suspicious and positive, and twenty deaths. Since then there have been fifty-four cases and twelve deaths up to July 24, making in all 154 cases and 32 deaths. Today there were two deaths, making thirty-four to date. There are about fifty cases under treatment.

George B. Young, United States Marine Hospital Service, has been assigned to take charge of the inspection of trains, to coöperate with the States and localities which have instituted quarantines, and he will make his headquarters in Jackson, Miss.

OF A VIRULENT TYPE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 25.—A report received here today from Surgeon White of the public health and the marine hospital service, who is stationed at New Orleans, and who under instructions of the Acting Surgeon-General, is engaged in an effort to determine the exact condition with regard to yellow fever in that city, says that the city authorities concede twelve cases and eight deaths, but he adds that there probably are many more cases. Those so far observed are of a virulent type. Surgeon Wasdin, stationed at Memphis, who rendered signal service during the epidemic at Ocean Springs in 1897, has reported, after a careful inspection along the coast from Mobile to Pass Christian, Miss., and Past Surgeon Young have been ordered from Chicago to Jackson, Miss., to confer with the Mississippi health authorities relative to train inspection.

CO-OPERATION URGED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

NEW ORLEANS, July 25.—In the mail was sent a circular to every physician urging the prompt report of any cases of yellow fever, malarial fever or otherwise, so that the appearance of new foci may be immediately established, screened and watched. The doctors are also asked to surrender any individual opinions they may have and to coöperate with the State and Federal authorities in as rigid an application as possible of the mosquito theory.

The Board of Health is today compiling a careful record for the State board of all cases of sickness and of deaths since the fever appeared.

Subscriptions are being taken to a fund of $100,000 for the maintenance of a detention hospital.

Sanitation in the French market quarter, where the disease incubated, continues. That section is now probably in a more cleanly condition than it has been at any time since the war.

The more rigid regulations which are to be put into effect to prevent further introduction of disease by increasing the period of detention of ships from Central American ports and the Indies threatens to temporarily drive the fruit trade to Mobile, Galveston, Pensacola and other ports. The fruit commissioners are now ordering change of entry, fearing that their fruit will spoil if subjected to the increased detention.

New quarantines are being put on, but a number of towns refuse to put up the bars. The Piney Woods section of St. Tammany has refused to quarantine and has extended a general invitation to New Orleans people to come there.

FOUR CASES ON STEAMER.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

FORT MORGAN (Ala.) July 25.—It was announced today that four cases of yellow fever have developed on the steamer Columbia, which arrived in the bay Sunday from Colon, from Boca Del Toro. The Columbia was not permitted to the quarantine station at Ship Island, to go up the bay but was ordered to go up the bay but was on Island, ten miles below here, at the entrance to Mobile Bay. There is no suspicious sickness at the army post here.

NO FEVER AT MOBILE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

MOBILE (Ala.) July 25.—Dr. Eugene S. Wasdin, surgeon of the marine hospital service, detailed by the government to make an inspection of the coast cities, has concluded his investigation into conditions at Mobile and states emphatically that there is no yellow fever here.

THE REVOLT IN RUSSIA.

PLAN RISING AGAINST JEWS.

ODESSA AUTHORITIES WARNED OF COMING TROUBLE.

Disturbances from Strikes Reported from Several Places in Caucasia. Nine Thousand Workmen in Warsaw Strike—Kaiser Deliberately Planned Meeting With the Czar.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ODESSA, July 25.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The authorities have been warned that an anti-Jewish uprising has been planned for July 25. The soldiers and populace are embittered against the Jews, attributing to them the recent bomb throwing.

CONFLICTS IN CAUCASIA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 25.—Disturbances resulting from strikes are reported from several places in the Caucasus. During a conflict between Cossacks and a mob in Perm, the Cossacks fired, killing two and wounding many.

BIG STRIKE AT WARSAW.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WARSAW, July 25.—Four thousand workmen in the Warsaw Iron Works and 5000 in the Dombrowa Steel Works struck today for higher wages. The striking bakers destroyed a baker's shop in Grochowska street and in the disturbance which followed one person was killed.

OF THE KAISER'S MAKING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There is a consensus of opinion here that the German Emperor deliberately planned and imposed the meeting with the Russian Emperor for the purpose of bringing his influence to bear upon the Czar in internal, rather than foreign, affairs. The advice of Emperor William has notoriously enormous weight with the Czar.

A well-informed personage said today: "You may shortly expect startling developments as the result of the imperial conference. The Kaiser's versatility compelled him to enlarge upon every current question. People fear further repression."

ABOUT INTERNAL AFFAIRS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

ST. PETERSBURG, July 25.—The St. Petersburg Zeitung, a German journal which has very close relations with the German embassy, lays significant emphasis on the relations of the conference between Emperor Nicholas and Emperor William to the internal affairs of Russia. It declares that Franco-German relations or any questions of great world politics could hardly have been the immediate occasion of the meeting, but that on the other hand the internal situation in Russia is the most burning question now before the Emperor and that His Majesty may well have welcomed the opportunity to lay the problem before "his brotherly friend," whose verdict would have the greatest weight. The interview, the paper declares, must certainly have had a bearing on the peace negotiations, adding:

"It cannot be a matter of indifference whether a belligerent in Russia's situation can, on commencing pour parleurs, boast such warm and mighty friendship or not."

FRIGHTFUL MINE TRAGEDY.

Three Men Killed Instantly and Twenty-nine Imprisoned as Result of Dynamite Explosion.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

VANCOUVER (B. C.) July 25.—A special from Banff says:

"A frightful tragedy occurred here yesterday in the Bankhead mine, two miles east of this place. There was an explosion of many cases of dynamite. Three men were killed outright, literally blown to fragments, and twenty-nine were imprisoned in the mine. Outside workers are making frantic efforts to release them. Information received here is to the effect that dozens of men are badly burned and some may die. The dead are:

"THOMAS SMILEY.

"JOHN WILLIAMS.

"Just how the explosion came about no one yet knows.

"There is much uncertainty regarding the number injured. It is feared that the list of injured will reach a considerable number, as it is known that quite a large force of men was at work in the mine. One report says that all who were at work in the mine were killed, but this cannot be confirmed."

"Bob" Burdette's Weekly Letters.

The Times is publishing each Sunday a letter written by the famous "Bob" while he is on his European tour. Judging by the installments already printed, they promise to be more than interesting, loaded with his old-time humor, and well worth reading.

HARRIMAN GIVES UP POLICY OF SILENCE.

Does Not Deem it Advisable to Keep the World Incommunicado, and Tells of His "Open Book" Relations with the Equitable Society.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Before leaving for Japan today, E. H. Harriman gave out the following typewritten statement:

"There has been nothing in the relations of myself or the interests I represent to the Equitable Life Assurance Society and its allied companies that will not bear the closest scrutiny. We have never requested or received a favor from them. The financial transactions between our interests have been insignificant, and never on terms that could not have been readily obtained elsewhere. On the other hand, we have given the Mercantile and Equitable Trust Companies many valuable trusteeships, and all transactions between us have resulted in material advantage and profit to the Equitable and its allied companies.

"I personally had one loan with the Equitable Life which could have been obtained without difficulty at any other like responsible institution on as good or better bonus. It was paid because the rate of interest was lighter than he was willing to pay, and without even my attempting to have it reduced.

"There is nothing in the Union Pacific preferred stock syndicate that can be criticised. An opportunity was availed of by Hyde to join myself and associates in the acquisition of Union Pacific preferred stock on a favorable basis. There was no profit or advantage to any one member of the syndicate over another, and neither the Equitable nor any of its allied companies or anyone else was ever requested to in any way aid the financing of the syndicate.

"The Equitable controversy was started by an attempt on the part of the Alexander faction to oust the Hyde faction, and it was during that contest that the main body of directors became informed for the first time of the prevailing methods of conducting the company business of both these factions. This led to the appointment of a committee, of which I was a member, and to the Frick report, which I signed, and which fully expressed my views. I believe this new management will correct the extravagant methods of conducting the company's business pointed out in that report. In my opinion, these methods involved vastly greater loss to the policy holders than the particular transactions dwelt upon so extensively by the public press.

"There has been too much mystery surrounding Equitable affairs. I have always been ready and willing to answer any questions asked by anyone entitled to make inquiry, and have never tried in any way to avoid it, and will return in ample time to give any testimony that may be desired."

POLICY HOLDERS' CONVENTION.

NATIONAL MOVEMENT STARTED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 25.—The Inter-Ocean today says that a big convention of policy holders for the purpose of demanding an investigation of the affairs of every life insurance company in the country is the aim of the Iroquois Club of Chicago, which has taken the initial step toward starting a national movement.

At a meeting of the Executive Committee of the club, held yesterday, a resolution was adopted empowering the organization to appoint a committee of five members to invite delegates from other clubs to meet and consider the feasibility of the plan.

HAYNES IS BITTER.

ROASTS MORTON AND TARBELL.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Paul Morton and Gage E. Tarbell were denounced in most scathing terms by Archibald C. Haynes, at a meeting of his agency force in Broad Exchange Building. Haynes asserted in the most bitter manner that Tarbell has deceived the agents; that he has made false statements to them, and has failed to stand by the promises made by him in the most solemn manner.

More than a hundred men were present at the meeting, among them being many of the greatest producers of the life-insurance business in New York.

Haynes is one of the most forceful life-insurance men in the country, and his action today indicates that he is out to fight the Morton-Tarbell régime in the Equitable, and it is a legitimate inference that, if he follows the plan indicated, the agency force of the Equitable, which cost millions of dollars to bring to its present state of efficiency will, in a few months, be a thing of the past.

BRITON WINS AMERICAN GIRL.

LONDON, July 25.—Judge Charles Montague, member of Parliament for the southern division of Huntingdonshire, and Miss Alberta Sturges were married today at St. Paul's Church, Kingsbridge. Her stepfather, Francis Leggett of New York, gave away the bride. The six bridesmaids included Misses Florence E. Padelford, Leila Paget, Mary Sturges, and Frances Leggett. The ushers were Secretary Carter of the American embassy, and James MacVeagh of Chicago, Ambassador and Mrs. Reid were among those present.

PITH OF NEWS FROM THE MIDDLE WEST.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Fickle weather, such as prevailed today, with showers at half-hour intervals, will hold away over the lower lake region for several days, according to Forecaster Garriott, who predicts that the amateur weather prophet will be kept guessing whether there will be rain, sunshine, or just plain Chicago weather. Only slight temperature changes are predicted. The range today was from 59 to 73 degs. Middle West temperatures:

MATTER OF COURTESY.

In reply to the comment of Baron Komura on the fact that neither Mayor Dunne nor his representative, Corporation Counsel Lewis, accepted the Baron's invitation to luncheon yesterday, Col. Lewis today asserted that the Japanese envoy failed to return the call made by the Mayor's representative. Therefore, he added, it was impossible for either the Mayor or the corporation counsel to have made a second call upon the Baron. Col. Lewis pointed out that the President of the United States is the only superior upon whom the Mayor of Chicago may with propriety call twice in succession.

Black Swan mine at Mooney Flat, yesterday, the roof of the tunnel caved in, allowing the waters from a small lake above to drop suddenly into the mine. All seven narrowly escaped by fleeing to and up the main shaft, with the incoming water close at their heels. The rush of water caused such air pressure that many timbers were blown from the bottom of the shaft to the surface.

The lake above the tunnel covered several acres. The water ran into the workings of the mine, which has been completely ruined. The loss is probably about $75,000.

HENSLEY'S TRIP SOUTH.
IT BEGINS TONIGHT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] George A. Hensley, accompanied by A. H. Piepenburg of this city, Capt. H. D. Ryus of Los Angeles and a mechanic, will leave the Chronicle office in a White touring car at 10 o'clock tomorrow, Wednesday night in an effort to break the San Francisco-Los Angeles record of 24 hrs. 50 mins., held by the Pope-Toledo car and also to win the Chronicle cup offered by Fred A. Jacobs for a car carrying four people, whose driver shall deliver a letter from the Chronicle to the Los Angeles Times in 29 hrs. 31 mins., or less.

Hensley, Ryus and Piepenburg arrived from Los Angeles, coming up over the road in order to familiarize themselves with the route. Hensley and Piepenburg made the down trip, and state that their running time was 25 hrs. 25 mins. They drove only in the day time, desiring to make arrangements on the way for gasoline supply, etc. Ryus joined the party at Los Angeles, and expresses a desire to participate in the trial, as he may want to go for a record himself later.

Hensley stated tonight that he was making the run purely for sport and to satisfy himself that his car, recently purchased, will do the work claimed for it. He states that he is not in the business of booming any particular make of car, but is after a record for his own satisfaction, and that whatever controversy has arisen over the claimed merits of his car has been entirely outside his purpose or encouragement.

SLOPE BRIEFS.

Sockeye Salmon Galore.

ANACORTES (Wash.) July 25.—One hundred and seventy-five thousand sockeye salmon were piled up at six canneries this morning, and the number was increased to a quarter of a million by this evening. The canneries have all the fish they can handle, and will make night runs. Reports from Blaine indicate that nine canneries there have more fish than they can handle.

Two Hours in Cold Storage.

REDDING, July 25.—John Dixon, a cutter in a meat market here, was accidentally locked in the refrigeration room of the cold storage plant last night and spent nearly two hours in a freezing atmosphere. He was discovered by a man passing the shop, who released the butcher. Dixon was stiff and numb, and nearly frozen to death.

Workmen's Bad Fall.

Washington Town in Ruins.

CONNELL (Wash.) July 25.—Two-thirds of Connell's business district is in ruins as the result of a fire which originated today in the Connell Progress building by the explosion of a bottle of acid. A box of matches ignited the wallpaper and then the roof. The losses aggregate $150,000, with considerable insurance. A Chinese was badly burned on the hands, feet and back. Nine families are rendered homeless.

Horse Kicks Boy, Who Dies.

SAN JOSE, July 25.—The body of Nelson Garrison, the 11-year-old son of B. F. Garrison, a real estate dealer of this city, arrived here this morning from Santa Cruz. Young Nelson was kicked by a horse in his father's camp at Waddell Creek, Sunday, and the injury proved fatal.

Jews Want Palestine Restored.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Dr. Berhard S. Schwars, late Deputy Grand Master of the Knights of Zion, a branch of the Federation of American Zionists, has forwarded a communication to the Zionist Congress, now in session at Basle, Switzerland, urging that an appeal be made to the powers to join in concerted action to prevail upon the Sultan of Turkey to restore Palestine to the Jews.

Two Men Fatally Burned.

SANTA ROSA, July 25.—Two men have been fatally burned in a fire that destroyed the residence of J. W. Dollar, near Trenton. Henry and Jackson Dollar, two young men, were asleep in the building when the flames broke out. They were badly burned before they awoke and fought their way out. They were removed to the County Hospital, where they died late last night.

Campaign Against Pear Blight.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—M. B. Waite, pathologist, having in charge investigations for the United States government relating to the diseases of orchard fruits, is about to visit California to confer with Prof. Smith of the University of California concerning the pear blight, which has wrought so much damage in many orchards in this State. A campaign will be planned against the blight and will be waged next winter.

Librarians Return from Alaska.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Twenty members of the American Library Association, which held its annual convention in Portland, have arrived here after a visit to Alaska. Among the more distinguished members of the party are Dr. E. C. Richardson of Princeton, retiring president of the association; Melville Dewey, State Director of Libraries of New York; A. H. Hopkins, head of the Carnegie Library, Pittsburgh, and Merica Hoagland, State Organizer of Libraries in Indiana.

PRISON AND FINE IS MITCHELL'S FATE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

PORTLAND (Or.) July 25.—United States Senator Mitchell, convicted of using his office of United States Senator to further the law practice of the firm of Mitchell & Tanner of this city, was today sentenced to pay a fine of $1000 and six months' penal servitude. Pending a review of the case by the Supreme Court of the United States, execution of the sentence will be deferred. In the meantime, Mitchell will be placed under bail to the amount of $2000.

In pronouncing sentence upon the aged United States Senator, Judge De Haven said, in part:

"The statute under which the indictment was found provides that the Senator shall be punished by imprisonment of not more than two years or by a fine of not more than $10,000. It also renders the defendant incapable of again holding any office of trust or profit in the United States. The court may make the punishment merely nominal.

"In reaching a conclusion in this case I have given consideration to the age of the defendant, which may be taken into account in mitigation of punishment, and the further fact that he is forever hereafter disqualified from holding office.

"In view of these facts and in consideration of the nature of the offense, the judgment of the court is that the defendant be imprisoned for six months in the County Jail of Multnomah county, in this State, and that he be fined in the sum of $1000."

SHOOK WITH EMOTION.

During the pronouncing of judgment Senator Mitchell watched the face of the judge with intense interest. His face was flushed and troubled. John H. Mitchell, Jr., the son, who had been in close attendance upon his aged father, sat by his side, and when Judge De Haven uttered the words about imprisonment and the age of the convicted man, his frame shook with emotion and tears came into his eyes.

The Senator said not a word. When the words "county jail of Multnomah county, in this State," fell upon his ears, he sat as one transfixed. Then, when it was all over and the crowds started for the door, the aged defendant arose and painfully made his way out of the scene of judgment.

Ex-Senator Thurston, senior counsel for Senator Mitchell, said there was nothing to say on behalf of his client other than that the case would be carried to the higher tribunal in the regular way. There are now three bills of exceptions on file in the case. The convicting and sentencing of Senator Mitchell does not render his office vacant. If the Supreme Court affirms the decision of the trial court, however, the action of the higher court will vacate the office.

WILLIAMSON TRIAL.

In the Williamson Gessner-Biggs trial today, Charles A. Graves, county surveyor of Crook county, and Parker, a former resident of Prineville, were called to the witness stand. These witnesses, who did not appear at the first trial, told of their entry upon lands at the suggestion of Gessner, who loaned them money to make proof. However, the testimony of both was in some particulars favorable to the defendants, as both stated that there was no contract with Gessner to transfer the lands to him upon proof being completed, and they said they felt at liberty to sell to any one else if they received better offers from them.

MONTANA FRAUDS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

HELENA (Mont.) July 25.—The trial of R. H. Cobban of Missoula, under the indictment returned by the United States grand jury four years ago, charging subornation of perjury in connection with timber land entries in Western Montana, began before Judge Hunt today. Special Assistant United States Attorney Maynard, in outlining the case to the jury, said it would be shown that Cobban and C. L. Griswold entered into a conspiracy to induce many men and women to enter upon land to be afterward transferred to Cobban. The land was subsequently acquired by Senator Clark, and in another suit now before the United States Supreme Court, the government is seeking to set aside Clark's title to the land. Griswold is a government witness, the indictment against him having been annulled.

WRECKED BY "WRECKERS."

RUIN CONFRONTS THE CHICAGO FEDERATION OF LABOR.

Several Unions Threaten to Withdraw from Organization Unless Its Officers Aid State Authorities in Breaking up Sluggers' Outfit Which Stopped Election Recently.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

CHICAGO, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Federation of Labor faces dissolution as the result of the reign of terror in union circles that has followed the raid at Bricklayers' Hall during which an election was broken up and Michael Donnelly was slugged.

Several unions in Chicago, led by men who do not condone the methods of "wrecking crews," have threatened to withdraw from membership in the federation unless officers of the organization aid State's Attorney Healy to capture and prosecute eight men who composed the slugging gang. This, officers are afraid to do, fearing personal violence of the kind that laid "Mike" Donnelly low.

The position of the Federation of Labor has put assistant State's Attorney Olsen all at sea in his investigation. State officials and inspector wheeler are sure they have the names of the union thugs, but not one of the witnesses who were in Bricklayers Hall when the raid occurred has the nerve to make a positive identification. The statement of President Dold, made the day after the assault, has been ringing in the ears of the union "leaders" and keeping their mouths shut.

Dold said tonight: "My life would not be worth two cents if I were to discuss this matter. I can say nothing about it."

BODY BLOW TO BOYCOTTERS.

SEATTLE STRIKERS ENJOINED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SEATTLE, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Federal Judge Hanford has delivered a body blow to boycotters by issuing an injunction against nine officials of local labor unions who have been waging a guerrilla warfare against the Seattle Brewing and Malting Company, restraining them from unlawful acts against the company.

Some months ago, the union brewery employes went on strike and their places were promptly filled by non-union men. The strike itself is a closed incident, so far as the company is concerned, but the brewers have been subjected to many gross annoyances by the defeated strikers, who have been using the boycott as a means to brings them to terms. Action was accordingly brought against the strike and boycott directors to restrain them from their unlawful acts.

Affidavits in support of the brewing company contention that the strikers were guilty of numerous unlawful acts were filed and Judge Hanford held that the company was entitled to an injunction, on the common-law ground that a boycott is unlawful.

In granting the temporary injunction the court said: "The applicant is entitled to an injunction against those served. The chances are, however, that there are many persons involved in the strike who have not been made parties to the suit. The question is, how can the court punish for contempt, in the event of a violation of its orders, men who are not a party to the record and have no knowledge of the injunction?"

The applicant's attorney assured the court that if it was found necessary they would be made party to the action and evidence would be offered to show their connection with the boycott.

With this understanding, the temporary injunction was granted.

PORTO RICANS HAVE IDEAS.

CONVENTION AT SAN JUAN TO MEMORIALIZE CONGRESS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN JUAN (P. R.) July 25.—Delegates representing sixty-five out of sixty-six municipalities of Porto Rico and both political parties assembled in convention here today to memorialize Congress with a view of bringing about sweeping changes in the government of the island.

The memorial to Congress adopted by the convention recites that this is the seventh anniversary of the American invasion of Porto Rico and complains that the preponderance of power still rests with an executive council composed of heads of departments appointed by President Roosevelt.

"These heads of departments," it says, "arrive here knowing nothing of the language, customs or needs of the country and twenty-four hours after disembarking take their seats in the executive council and determine the fate of the island."

The memorial calls for no change in the composition of the house of delegates, which consists of thirty-five members elected by the people, but demands the following amendments to the Foraker law:

"First, the organization of an insular Senate to be composed of two Senators, each from seven districts in place of the executive council.

"Second, that the proposed Senate and house possess the same privileges granted to the house under the Foraker act.

"Third, that the Secretary of Porto Rico, the Attorney-General, the Treasurer, the Auditor, the Commissioner of Education and the Commissioner of the Interior, continue in their present office under the present titles, but they form no part of the Executive Council.

"Fourth, that the officials named be appointed by the Governor with the consent of the Insular Senate and not by the President of the United States."

The amendment was adopted by a rising vote, the delegates cheering for five minutes.

The convention also adopted a petition for presentation to the Insular Legislature for the protection of the municipalities and the granting to them of autonomy.

Several speeches bitter in tone were made against centralizing the power in the islands in the hands of the Secretary of Porto Rico and the Executive Council.

The gathering was serious and dignified and several of the delegations present were headed by Mayors. R. H. Todd, Mayor of San Juan, initiated the movement and was chairman of the convention. His reason for calling the members of the municipalities together was the growing anti-American feeling throughout the island. One result of the convention is the permanent establishment of an organization known as the Porto Rico Municipal League, with Mayor Todd as president.

BEEF TRUST PROSECUTION.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Criminal prosecutions of Pennsylvania representatives of the so-called "beef trust" are about to be instituted by Dr. B. H. Warren, State Dairy and Food Commissioner, according to a Herald dispatch from Harrisburg. Various charges will be used, it is alleged, to the effect that meat sold in Pennsylvania has been subjected to treatment with preservatives. Samples upon which the cases are to be made were brought principally in the counties of Dauphin, Allephany, Huntington, Philadelphia and wyoming. It has been decided that the first prosecutions shall be made in Harrisburg. No indication has been given as to the company which will be attacked first.

THE PRESIDENT RESTING.

OYSTER BAY, July 25.—This was one of the quietest days the President has had since his arrival at Sagamore Hill for the summer. Comparatively little executive business was brought to his attention, and no official visitors were received.

APOLOGIZES TO JOHN.

American Firm Deprecates the Boycott and Has to Make Amends or Lose Its Business.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SHANGHAI, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The compradores of American firms have received threatening letters in connection with the boycott of American goods. The British firm of Noel & Murray was boycotted by Chinese because it issued a trade circular in which it deprecated the boycott of Americans. The firm had to postpone its auctions owing to the fact no bidders appeared, and eventually, to regain its trade, it had to apologize.

Recognition by the Emperor Accorded for the Saving of the Statue of Frederick the Great from Damage by Explosion of Dynamite Placed by a Vandal.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Baron Busche, the Charge d'Affaires of the German embassy, has presented to the State Department a silver watch and chain with the request that they be handed to George C. Ellis, a negro laborer at the Washington Barracks, as a recognition by the German Emperor of the action of Ellis in saving the statue of Frederick the Great from damage by the explosion of a package of dynamite placed on the fence surrounding it by a man named Rooseau, with the intention of destroying it. On the back of the watch appears the imperial monogram. The watch and chain are inclosed in a handsome leather case.

MEXICAN TARIFF.

SYNOPSIS OF INCREASES.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The publication of the Department of Commerce known as the Daily Consular and Trade Reports will tomorrow contain a synopsis of the new Mexican tariff supplied by Consul Kaiser at Mazatlan. Among the increases are the following:

Butter, per legal kilo, 25 cents; cheese, per legal kilo, 15 cents; barley, per 100 kilos, $1.50; corn, per 100 kilos, 80 cents; cotton, unmanufactured and unginned, per gross kilo, $2.30; cotton, ginned, per gross kilo, $7.70; cotton, carded, per legal kilo, 22 cents; crackers, all kinds, per gross kilo, 16 cents; fish or fish products, per legal kilo, 15 cents; fresh, per legal kilo, 3 cents; foodstuffs, preserved, animal, per legal kilo, 18 cents; furniture from 20 to 70 cents per legal kilo; hogs and suckling pigs, per kilo, 6 cents; meat, fresh, per net kilo, 10 cents; meat, dried, etc., per legal kilo, 15 cents; machines of all kinds for industry, per 100 kilos, $1.65; oats, in grain, per 100 kilos, $1.50(?) oil, impure material, per net 100 kilos, $3.30; oil, refined mineral, benzine, paraffine and mineral wax, per legal kilo, 9 cents; plows, sickles, scythes and other implements for agriculture and clearings, per 100 gross kilos, $1.65; rails, iron or steel, per gross kilo, 2 cents; steel in bars, per 100 gross kilos, $5.50; tobacco, chewing, per legal kilo, $1.10; tobacco, Virginia unmanufactured, per kilo (50 cents gross kilo,) 55 cents; tobacco, unmanufactured not otherwise specified filling, per gross kilo, 80 cents; tobacco wrappers, per gross kilo, $2.50; tobacco, sifted or cut for cigarettes, per legal kilo, $2.20; tobacco, manufactured into cigars, per legal kilo, $7.70.

The gross kilo includes the entire packing or casing; the net kilo is the goods without packing or casing. The legal kilo is that prescribed in the tariff act.

Secretary Wilson Recovers.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Secretary Wilson of the Department of Agriculture, who was taken ill yesterday with an attack of acute indigestion, has almost entirely recovered. He spent some time at the department during the afternoon.

IRISH KEEP BALFOUR BUSY.

Redmond Manages to Bring on an All-night Session of House of Commons.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

LONDON, July 26.—[By Atlantic Cable.] The members of the opposition in the House of Commons, led by John Redmond, the Nationalist leader, who was the mainspring of the recent defeat of the government, yesterday inaugurated their threatened plan of making governmental business impossible, in pursuance of which they managed to keep the House in a sorry session until 3 o'clock this morning, compelling Premier Balfour to have constant recourse to closure. Supporters of the government, warned by the recent disaster, loyally stood by Mr. Balfour, maintaining a majority in the neighborhood of sixty.

One phase of Mr. Redmond's obstructionist tactics is likely to arouse great resentment. It consisted in blocking private bills for enterprises promoted at vast expense by municipalities and commercial companies for public works, such as railroads and tramways. No less than twenty-seven such bills were blocked yesterday, the effect being to delay their operation for a whole year.

KANSAS WHEAT CROP.

KANSAS CITY (Mo.) July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Reports from 400 grain shippers and millers in Kansas indicate that the wheat crop of the State this year is a little short of 75,000,000 bushels, or about 25,000,000 less than the full normal crop on the acreage planted and 10,000,000 more than the crop of 1904. This year's crop falls 1,000,000 bushels short of the five-year average. Yet it is larger than the crop that any other State will produce this year.

THE GREAT WAR.

more welcome to us than that of any other person could have been. We recognize him as a great statesman."

JAPAN AND CHINA.

Of the future of China, Mr. Sato said: "If the central government could work in harmony with the district or provincial governments China would become a great power, but at present that seems impossible."

Japan's attitude toward China was most friendly, says Mr. Sato, and while maintaining no moral Monroe doctrine over the empire, she felt that it was more or less under Japan's protection. This protection, by way of illustration, Mr. Sato said, was "not so strong over China as that of the United States over South America."

Mr. Sato emphasized the announcement, made frequently before, that Japan does not seek territorial aggrandizement, and on this point the speaker said: "We want in Manchuria equal opportunity, or what Mr. Hay called the 'open door.'"

In response to further questions, Mr. Sato said Japan is overpopulated and that in the opening of Manchuria and Korea an attractive field for immigration would be nearer home than offered in Hawaii or America.

RELATIONS WITH AMERICA.

As to Japan's attitude toward America, Mr. Sato laughingly asked: "You mean the 'yellow peril?'" Then he became more enthusiastic in his conversation than upon any previous topic. He said:

"We are almost boyish in our enthusiasm and friendship for America. While we are friendly with China, as Orientals, our greatest friends are America and England. Why, the first monument ever erected to any foreigner in Japan was that to Commodore Perry and the policy and conduct of the American people for the last fifty years has been one of help to us. We regard America as an ally without a treaty."

The question was put to Mr. Sato as to any possibility of conflict with the United States in the future, as suggested by some of the American press at the outbreak of the war, and Mr. Sato asked what could bring about such a conflict. When it was suggested that Japan might covet the Philippines he laughed heartily, and replied that Japan would not have the Philippines as a gift, even though a bonus accompanied the gift.

THE BARON'S PROGRAMME.

The Baron met his colleague on the commission, Kogoro Takahira, minister at Washington, and they lunched in the Baron's apartments.

Tomorrow, President Roosevelt will be officially notified of Baron Komura's arrival and later in the week the Baron will make an informal visit to Oyster Bay.

There is no stated programme mapped out for the distinguished Japanese, pending the arrival of M. Witte, who is expected to arrive next week.

WHY KAISER GOT BUSY.

ENVIED THE PRESIDENT.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Herald's Paris correspondent says that from a highly-placed French diplomatist, who is particularly well qualified to define the opinion prevailing in official circles, the correspondent has been able to gather in what way the interview between the Emperor of Russia and Emperor William is interpreted in the French diplomatic world. The diplomatist said:

"The Kaiser, who considers it his duty to intervene in every pending question, political, economic, religious or other, could not allow the serious question of peace in the Far East to enter a phase admitting perhaps of an early solution without playing therein, if not the part of the arbiter, at least an active and influential one.

"The predominance of President Roosevelt's action over German influence cannot have been easily acceptable to him."

Commenting on the alarmist tone of reports published abroad, he said to the Herald correspondent today: "Not only is the extent of the agitation much exaggerated, perhaps designedly, but its intensity also is outrageously magnified."

ARIZONA COPPER PROFITS.

BOSTON, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] A report of the Arizona Copper Company for the six months ending March 21 is issued today, showing total net profits of $774,505, with a surplus after dividends for six months, of $143,215. The total surplus is now $194,645.

Fire started last night in the Russ House, in the northwestern part of Missoula, Mont., and $15,000 damage resulted. Burning brands were carried to the Northern Pacific Hospital, but it was saved.

INSULAR AFFAIRS INTEREST TAFT.

WILL COMBINE THEM UNDER ONE BUREAU'S DIRECTION.

Thinks Free Trade With the Philippines Should be Established as Soon as the Treaty With Spain Expires—No More Coolies to be Admitted.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

HONOLULU, July 19.—[Wired from San Francisco, July 25.] During his visit here, Secretary Taft expressed himself as continuing to hold the opinion he had expressed before, that free trade should be established with the Philippines as soon as the treaty with Spain, by which Spain has equal privileges with the United States, expires, which will be in two years. The Secretary also stated that he favored a 25-per-cent. reduction of Philippine tariffs at once.

At the close of his address at a luncheon given in honor of the party, he said that he meant to unite the affairs of Hawaii, Porto Rico, Alaska and the Philippines in one executive bureau of the government.

"All matters of information about these various islands and Alaska could come to such a bureau," he said, "and Hawaiian citizens in Washington could go to it to discuss the affairs of Hawaii."

Secretary Taft said in an interview that the question of fortifications for Hawaii was one that must be solved soon. To all interviewers he stated in connection with the Chinese exclusion Law that there was no intention to admit any more coolies, and when informed that some of the Hawaiian planters would like more such laborers, he said that no change of policy in that respect was intended.

MINERS BLOWN TO PIECES.

BANFF, N. W. T., July 25.—While a number of miners were at work in the Bankhead mine an explosion of dynamite occurred which wrought awful havoc in the mine and killed three men. The bodies of the men were blown to pieces, not enough being left by which they could be recognized. Several others were injured. The cause of the explosion is not known.

PREVENTED COLLISION.

Brave Act of Two Nervy Policemen in Stopping Runaway Team Applauded by Crowd.

Patrolmen Murray and Broadhead made a sensational stop of a runaway team at First street and Broadway yesterday afternoon which was witnessed by a large crowd. A team of horses attached to a heavy wagon of the Blake & Moffatt Transfer Company became frightened while the driver was loading near Franklin street, and started down the Broadway hill. They were beyond the control of the driver when they crossed First street, and Murray, quickly realizing the situation, grabbed one of the animals by the head and swerved the team just in time to prevent a collision with a street car. Broadhead went to Murray's assistance, and together the policemen finally stopped the team. The crowd applauded the officers.

BUSINESS WOMEN

A Lunch Fit For a King.

An active and successful young lady tells her food experience:

"Some three years ago I suffered from nervous prostration, induced by continuous brain strain and improper food, added to a great grief.

"I was ordered to give up my work, as there was great danger of my mind failing me altogether. My stomach was in bad condition (nervous dyspepsia, I think now) and when Grape-Nuts food was recommended to me, I had no faith in it. However, I tried it, and soon found a marked improvement in my condition as the result. I had been troubled with deathly faint spells, and had been compelled ot use a stimulant to revive me. I found, however, that by eating Grape-Nuts at such times I was relieved as satisfactorily as by the use of stimulants, and suffered no bad effects, which was a great gain. As to my other troubles—nervous prostration, dyspepsia, etc.—the Grape-Nuts diet soon cured them.

"I wish especially to call the attention of office girls to the great benefit I derived from the use of Grape-Nuts as a noon luncheon. I was thoroughly tired of cheap restaurants and ordinary lunches, and so made the experiment of taking a package of Grape-Nuts food with me, and then slipping out at noon and getting a nickel's worth of sweet cream to add to it. I found that this simple dish, finished off with an apple, peach, orange or a bunch of grapes made a lunch fit for a king, and one that agreed with me perfectly.

"I thrive so on my Grape-Nuts diet that I did not have to give up my work at all, and in the two years have had only four lost days charged up against me.

"Let me add that your suggestions in the little book, "Road to Wellville," are, in my opinion, invaluable, especially to women." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

FINDINGS OF BOARD.

Inquiry Officers Finish Preliminary Survey of the Bennington—Nasty Hearst Trick to Be Probed—Capt. Young Contradicts Engineer Nelson.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The Bennington board of investigation, which finished its session on board that ship this afternoon, finds that only one boiler exploded, whereas the number has been given as two.

Boiler B was the one which did the damage, although the investigation finds that the crown-sheets of the vessel are not bent. Boiler B was thrown against boiler D, portions of it being driven through the steel bulkhead and against the bed-plates of the engine on the port side.

If the débris had found its way forward to the magazine there would have been an explosion which would have blown the ship into atoms. Such a catastrophe was averted by the instant closing of the approaches to the magazine when the boiler burst.

The board finds that all the steam pipes of all the boilers were broken, which accounts for the presence of water and soot in all sections of the ship.

HEARST METHODS.

Capt. Young, commander of the gunboat, was asked tonight about an official letter from himself to Admiral Goodrich, which appeared in a Los Angeles newspaper Monday. Capt. Young said that the letter was stolen from his letter book and that it had left him without a copy. He states that the proper officials at Washington have been notified, and that an investigation will be made.

Capt. Young denies the statement published in a San Diego paper to the effect that the explosion took place with a steam pressure in the boilers of 185 pounds. The statement purports to have been made by O. F. Nelson, a survivor of the boiler-room, now among the injured at Agnew Sanitarium.

Nelson is quoted as saying that the safety valve had been set to blow off at 165 pounds; that the steam had run up to 180 pounds and had been eased off to 165. Nelson is further referred to as stating that he stepped forward to turn the engines over, preparatory to starting. The indicator showed 130 pounds pressure at the moment of the explosion. He says he was thrown into a storeroom by the shock of concussion.

But Capt. Young denies Nelson's reported statement, emphatically declaring that the pressure was not over 118 pounds. At 8:45 o'clock in the morning, he explains, the gauge showed a pressure of 118 pounds. He says that Nelson was not in that particular part of the ship when the explosion took place, and that this accounts for the fact that only his feet were scalded.

ARMY SURGEONS IN CHARGE.

Although officers of the marine hospital service had arranged otherwise, the navy authorities at Washington have decided to remove all Bennington patients from the hospitals to the United States barracks, as fast as their condition warrants. In this the hospital ambulance corps have been kept busy making the transfers. Agnew Sanitarium, which has had as high as seventy-seven Bennington patients, has only fifteen tonight. Another were transferred to the barracks hospital today, together with half of the number at St. Joseph's Sanitarium. Temporary hospital quarters have been fitted up for the sufferers, who from now on will be in charge of army surgeons.

The change in the programme occasioned some surprise at the city hospitals. At the Agnew, for instance, it had been arranged with Dr. Smith, who was sent here from the North to take the care of the wounded, that no charge should be made either for the sanitarium or the services of its surgeons for the first three days, the contract providing that a certain price would be paid from that time on, and that the sufferers should remain there until recovered. A number of good-natured patients voluntarily left the hospital in order that the Bennington victims might get treatment.

WILL NEVER BE WELL AGAIN.

BENNINGTON SURVIVORS CRIPPLED FOR LIFE.

Pathetic Scenes in Hospitals Where Everything Possible is Being Done for the Unfortunates—Not a Word of Complaint Heard from Them Despite Nearness of Death.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Many of the Bennington's crew, who will eventually recover, will be cripples for the rest of their lives. Nearly every one of the more than forty in the hospitals has scalded hands, and some of these will never be able to straighten out their fingers. It would not be surprising to hear that in some cases the surgeons will find amputations necessary, so deep into the flesh went the cooking steam.

William Weller, a big shouldered fireman, who is one of the most severely injured of those now being cared for at Agnew Sanatorium—one of the latter described in Tuesday's Times as being "the face of a negro and the body of a white man," so dark with coal dust has become his scalded, blackened face—was on the starboard berth-deck, directly over the boilers B and D when the explosions occurred. He was, like many others, instantly enveloped in white-hot steam, and several of his companions were scalded to death outright. Weller sprang through the death cloud to the iron ladder leading up to the main deck. Up this companionway he helped each other, and some of them left patches of the skin of their hands on the iron rungs.

Weller was one of several who hurried to the rail over the starboard bow and lowered themselves down into the water by the anchor-chains—a proceeding, which added their scalded hands most cruelly. Weller left the hall from Weller's room with J. A. Gries, ordinary seaman, a lad of 17 or so. He dived from the gunwale into the bay, naked, for at the time of the explosion he was taking a bath below, and a couple of hours later was found by Dr. Kneedler lying in a bunk on board a collier to whose crew had put off in a launch and picked him up. The burns and the inhalation of steam had combined to produce pneumonia, and he hardly a chance for him to live. In his delirium he reaches out his bandage-muffled hands to his nurse and calls her "Archie, Archie!" That is the name of his chum, who now lies buried on the lofty slope of Loma with the forty-six others who were consigned to a trench last Sunday afternoon.

In yet another room lies H. O. Metlus, paymaster's clerk, aged 55, so horribly injured that they keep him under an opiate most of the time. He is dying. He walked most of the way from the water front to Agnew Hospital, on that fateful Friday morning, and presented himself for treatment. But seeing how full were the hands of the doctors and nurses, he leaned a moment against the front-door jamb and said, unsteadily: "Never mind about me, I guess I'm not hurt very bad. I'll get a carriage or something and go some place else. You gentlemen have all you can do."

A moment later, while they were making ready a cot for him, he quietly disappeared. An hour afterward he came back, afoot, partly delirious, and this time he was quickly borne to a room and stripped, some of his flesh coming off with his clothes.

A. J. Worthen, ordinary seaman, of Dayton O., is in fearful shape, but brimming over with pluck. He has steadfastly retained consciousness. When they change his dressings, and the dead, oil-soaked outer skin is stripped from him with silver forceps, to prevent blood-poisoning from decomposition, he grits his teeth and hums snatches of tunes. "I'm going to pull through all right, ain't I doctor?" he smiles. "Bully boy!" says the surgeon cheerily, "you bet your life you are!"

Dr. Charlotte Baker, one of the foremost women physicians of the city, who gave up her large private practice at a moment's notice and has been literally living at Agnew among the wounded and the dying, had among her patients Seaman Kennedy. She was standing at his opened door, speaking with one of the nurses. They thought the man inside was asleep. "Kennedy is pretty bad," said Dr. Charlotte, running her eye over the chart the nurse had handed her. A moment later, as she entered the room, she was grimly amused to hear this little speech mumbled by the blackened lips of the sailor: "Huh! So Kennedy's 'pretty bad,' is he? Huh! They don't know Kennedy—just watch me." He died at noon today.

Friday night a dying fireman in the south wing of the sanatorium, lying in agony in the twilight, sang softly these words:

"Nearer, my God, to Thee,
Nearer—to Thee,
E'en though it be—a cross
That—raiseth—me."

He passed out an hour later, whispering the name of his wife.

HE PROMISES NO WHITEWASH.

SECRETARY OF NAVY SAYS NO SCAPEGOAT, EITHER.

Bonaparte Asks Everybody to Suspend Judgment Until All Facts of Bennington Disaster Are Made Known—In Return, Agrees to do Justice Impartially.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

WASHINGTON, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Secretary of the Navy Bonaparte today promised the public that there will be no whitewashing in the investigation of the Bennington disaster, and that so far as the service itself is concerned he will make a scapegoat of no one. He said:

"The department is not yet ready to make any statement as to the probable or possible causes of the disaster. When the facts are better known and a reasonable basis for an intelligent opinion may perhaps exist, the department will hold back no information in its possession to which any fair-minded man could think, the public entitled.

"For the moment I wish to urge by example as well as by precept on every one, whether in or out of the service, the advisability and even the duty of refraining from loose, unwise and untruthful talk on the subject, so delicate, so hard to understand, so painful. I ask all good citizens to have patience, and if it shall appear that there has been a failure of duty on the part of anyone, I promise the public no one shall be whitewashed, and I promise the service that nobody shall be made a scapegoat."

THIS LOOKS BLACK.

Evidences are found on every hand that it was a matter of general knowledge, at least with a number of officers, that the boilers of the Bennington were in a weakened condition. Commander Kossuth Niles was so informed by Fleet Engineer Herbert in November last. Commander Niles informed the department in November of 1904 that unless the furnace boilers of that craft grew materially worse there was no urgent need of sending her to the navy yard at once. It is now learned that he added the important statement that the boilers would probably last "several months" longer without tinkering. Shortly after making that report Commander Niles was relieved from the Bennington and was succeeded by Commander Lucien Young.

Whether the attention of Commander Young was drawn to the conditon of the boilers is not known, for there is no record of his having made a demand on the department for extensive repairs.

ONE MORE DEATH.

POOR KENNEDY PASSES OUT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN DIEGO, July 25.—Another death among the injured of the Bennington's crew occurred today, the victim being W. V. Kennedy. His brother arrived on the noon train, but was too late, the unfortunate man having just passed away. The body will be taken to Alliance, Neb., where the deceased formerly resided.

Surgeon Peck of the Bennington reported upon his return from the hospital tak. this afternoon that Paymaster Clerk Matlus and Seamen Schults and Hallett were in a critical condition, and recovery is doubtful.

Apothecary Schacklet is also reported in quite a serious condition, Schacklet had his head covered with a jacket and probably would have escaped serious burns had he not thrown off the covering to assist a comrade to the deck. The man whom he helped died in the hospital. Schacklet is quite seriously burned about the face and hands.

Mrs. Campbell, a sister of Seaman Schultz, has arrived from San Francisco. His sister did not even know that he was in the navy until she saw his name in the papers as among the injured. The mother and brother-in-law of George Hallett have arrived at the Agnew Sanatorium.

SYMPATHY FOR BEREAVED.

SAN DIEGO COUNCIL'S ACTION.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN DIEGO, July 25.—The considerate sympathy of those who are strangers may soften the grief of mothers, sisters and sweethearts who can now look only to the eternal reunion for the homecoming of their boys of the Bennington. The City Council of San Diego last evening, adopted and ordered spread upon the minutes a report in commemoration of the burial of the sailor dead on Point Loma last Sunday, and ordered that a copy be sent to the nearest relative of each lad who lost his life in the Bennington disaster. The following is an extract descriptive of the little cemetery:

On the rugged slope of Old Point Loma, clad in all the primeval beauty of countless different shrubs and flowers, on the very crest of the slope, kissed by the first bright glance of dawn and the last slanting rays of the setting sun, lies the charming little national cemetery, looking down upon the mighty Pacific, breaking in ceaseless silver surges upon Coronado's sandy shore and the calm, beautiful bay of San Diego, encircling as with turquoise the city, and over all the rock-ribbed and ancient mountains rise in hazy grandeur for an eternal background.

No one could wish for earthy couch more beautifully restful after the agony and strife of life is over than was prepared in this ideal spot for those brave boys who were there laid reverently and lovingly to rest, comrades in life and death on that Sunday afternoon, committed to the tender care of God and country. May the Almighty rest their souls in peace, and the nation, and this, our city, in particular, the scene of their last fearful struggle, cherish their gallant lives, deaths and last resting place in perpetual and fond memory.

FLAGSHIP EN ROUTE.

GOODRICH AT SAN FRANCISCO.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Admiral Goodrich, with the Chicago, flagship of the Pacific squadron, arrived today after a hurried run down from Bellingham Bay, where the admiral first heard of the Bennington disaster.

The Chicago anchored in the stream off Broadway, after receiving the customary salute from the guns at Goat Island. Before leaving for San Diego, the Chicago will take on board supplies and wrecking machinery. It is possible that the hospital ship Relief may be got ready to sail south with her.

PLATES NOT SPRUNG.

BENNINGTON MADE SEAWORTHY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

WASHINGTON, July 25.—A brief report of a preliminary examination by Naval Constructor Evans of the inside of the gunboat Bennington, whose boilers exploded last Friday, was received at the Navy Department today. The dispatch sent by Capt. Drake, in charge, follows:

SAN DIEGO (Cal.) July 25.—Constructor Evans has made a preliminary examination of Bennington inside; finds no leak through hull plating; all leaks through sea valves and broken pipes stopped. Present list to starboard due to shifting of boilers B and D and some free water below berth deck in intercostal spaces.

Will pump this water out by hand pumps and then trim even keel; transfer unnecessary equipment to Iris to make examination outside hull with divers; secure boilers, cleaning up living quarters, then if constructor satisfied tow Bennington with Iris to Mare Island. Fortune escorting.

Wounded remain in charge naval surgeons until transferred to the naval hospital at Mare Island. Surgeons McCullough, Kindsberger and Lewis. Mitchell and Latimer reported last night, will relieve civilian doctors as soon as possible.

The steam log of the Bennington for the second quarter, covering the period between March 30 and June 30, was received at the Navy Department today. This does not include the trip from Honolulu to San Diego, but will show the report of the inspection for that quarter. The department concluded not to make public these records until after the investigating board is convened by Rear-Admiral Goodrich at San Diego.

TOW BENNINGTON NORTH.

IRIS BRINGS FOUR DIVERS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] When Admiral Goodrich arrives here Thursday on the flagship of the Pacific squadron, the Chicago, he will find the gunboat Bennington in condition to be towed to the Mare Island navy yard, and it is expected that the order will be made for the transfer. The plan is to tow the wrecked gunboat north with the supply ship Iris, which arrived here this morning, the two to be convoyed by the tug Fortune, which has been here since Saturday night.

Today's efforts on board the Bennington were confined to changing the position of the armament and equipment in order to get the vessel on an even keel. In this Capt. Drake's men were largely successful, reducing the list of the ship from 10 to 5 per cent.

The Iris brings four divers, who will be ready tomorrow morning to proceed with the work, this feature being in charge of Naval Constructor Evans.

UNDER MOTHER'S CARE.

LOS ANGELES BOY RECOVERING.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN DIEGO, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Harvey C. Deane of Los Angeles is one of the sufferers from the Bennington, who will remain at the Agnew Sanitarium after the government chooses to settle the bills. This is because his mother, Mrs. Arthur Simpkins of Los Angeles says so and she has the means to enforce it.

Deane was assistant electrician on the ill-fated gunboat and had seen about three years of service in the navy, most of it on the Bennington. Within an hour of the explosion he wired his mother that he was "burned just a little." As a matter of fact he was burned very seriously and for a while his recovery was doubtful. Mrs. Simpkins arrived Friday afternoon and she has ministered to the wants of her boy ever since.

"Harvey had written us that he was coming home for a few days that Friday," said Mrs. Simpkins today. "I had arranged his room and had invited in one or two of his friends to enjoy the first meal with him. We had even bought theater tickets for Friday evening. And then to get the news of the explosion. It was a terrible shock. My boy has suffered severely and yet he has never murmured. He likes to have me near him, says that he can sleep better when I am around and so I am remaining with him all I can. Yesterday they told me that he must shortly be removed to the barracks, along with others, or else I must pay the bills for keeping him at the Agnew. Rather than have him go there I have arranged for him to be cared for here. I cannot understand this great haste to get the dear boys out of the hospitals where they have been so well treated. It does not appear to me that some of them are in a fit condition to be moved. As for Harvey I intend to take him home with me where I can give him a mother's care."

LUXURIES NOT WANTING.

INJURED TENDERLY NURSED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

SAN DIEGO, July 25.—There is little hope that the burial chapter of the Bennington incident is finally closed, for half a dozen of the badly injured sailors are lingering between life and death, and for some of them there is little chance of recovery. The six who are battling bravely for life are receiving every comfort and assistance that skill and sympathy can give.

A well equipped temporary hospital has been arranged at the army barracks in this city, and, thence such of the injured as could be safely moved were taken from the hospitals last night. The sufferers are not in want of comforts or whatever luxuries are good for them. Flowers, fruit and delicacies, with cigars for those who are permitted to smoke, are offered in abundance to cheer them.

COME TO DRESS WOUNDS.

HOSPITAL MEN START SOUTH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Eight hospital corps men left the General Hospital at the Presidio today for San Diego. They go to assist the post surgeon at San Diego in caring for the sick and wounded of the Bennington disaster.

The hospital corps at San Diego has been working night and day ever since the explosion on the gunboat, and are now exhausted. The men who left here last night are all expert surgical dressers. They go in charge of Sergt. James H. Todd from the chief surgeon's office.

WROTE A NOTE, TOOK A BULLET.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Within five minutes from the time Charles Marshal, a Wall street broker, left his wife, apparently sleeping soundly in bed, today, the woman wrote her husband a note telling him not to let the world blame him for what was going to happen, and then shot herself. She was unconscious before Marshal could reach her from another bedroom, and died shortly afterward. Mrs. Marshal was formerly Miss Grace Starr, and is highly connected in New York society circles. No cause for her suicide has been discovered. The tragedy occurred in the Raleigh, a fashionable apartment hotel overlooking Central Park at Ninety-second street.

ARSON LAID TO WOMAN.

Arrest of Pretty Keeper of Rooming-house.

Accused on Account of Fire in Long Beach.

[STAFF CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

LONG BEACH, July 25.—Late this evening Mrs. Grace Getz was arrested at her residence, corner Fourth street and American avenue, charged with complicity in the fire which on the 13th inst. partially destroyed the Casa Palma, a two-story business and apartment house, at the corner of Second and Locust streets. The arrest was the work of City Marshal J. J. Conklin and Special Agent Fred Phillips of the bath-house, who have been at work on the case for the past ten days, and was the result of a confession made to Phillips and Conklin in the County Jail by Leroy Andrews after a three hours' sweating process.

On the morning after the fire Special Agent Phillips in looking through the ruins found a mass of partially-burned paper which smelled strongly of coal oil. Andrews, who occupied an adjoining room, has been in Long Beach for a few months and is believed by the police to be a crook and was consequently under surveillance. The rooming-house part of the building was conducted by Mrs. Grace Getz, who is the daughter of Capt. Felts of the city chain gang, and whose husband is foreman for a Los Angeles concern. On the night of the fire Mrs. Getz was absent in Los Angeles visiting her father and mother. Phillips shadowed Andrews for several days, and, seeing the fellow was becoming alarmed, arrested him Saturday on a charge of stealing a bathing suit. Andrews told Justice Brayton that he would plead guilty if given a thirty-day "hoater" to get out of town, but this was not done, and he was sent to the County Jail to await trial.

FOLLOWING THE CLEW.

Meanwhile Conklin and Phillips learned some facts concerning Andrews and visiting him in jail, after a long quiz, charged him with being Roy Sagendorf, one of a gang of firebugs sent to prison in Massachusetts for burning the Mahaill Block, the Great Barrington Hotel and two fine residences in Great Barrington, Mass., in 1901. Sagendorf or Andrews got a sentence of six years, but after serving a year turned State's evidence on the rest of the gang and was released. His identity disclosed, Andrews wilted and offered to tell the story of the Casa Palma fire.

He said that he was a crook and associated with them, and that there was a nest of them in the Casa Palma. Early in July Mrs. Getz told him she was in hard luck and must have money. He discovered that she carried $800 insurance and says he told her how she could make a stake and on promise of $100 agreed to commit arson. On Saturday a lot of the goods in the house were packed up in boxes and shipped to Los Angeles over the Salt Lake under the name of Fred A. Peabody. He says he called for the goods Monday, but the way bill had not arrived and that subsequently the goods were sent to the home of Mrs. Getz's parents. (This statement was later found to be correct.) Monday Andrews says that Mrs. Getz loaded an inside room adjoining his with paper and saturated it with coal oil. He was to set fire to it that night, but Mr. Getz and a niece arrived from Los Angeles and the crime was postponed until Thursday night, when Mrs. Getz went to Los Angeles, taking the niece home. At 8 o'clock Andrews threw a match into the saturated room, closed the door, then awoke a roomer named Towers and got him to go downstairs after a book. They sat in the reception hall until a crackling noise alarmed Towers and running out, they found the attic on fire. They hurriedly carried Mrs. Getz's packed trunks to safety and then gave the alarm. After making this statement, Andrews wrote and signed the following:

"This is to certify that I, Leroy Andrews, on the instance of Mrs. Getz of Long Beach, Cal., set fire to the rooming-house known as Casa Palma on the night of July 13, 1905, and that the said Mrs. Getz applied the oil and had everything fixed for the starting of the fire. LEROY E. ANDREWS."

Marshal Conklin and Officer Phillips returned to Long Beach and warrants were issued for Andrews and Mrs. Getz, charging them with arson. Mrs. Getz was arrested and tonight arraigned before Justice Brayton, who set her preliminary examination for Saturday morning at 10 o'clock and fixed her bond at $1000, which was furnished.

MAKES VIGOROUS DENIAL.

Mrs. Getz, who is comely and young, with eyes swollen with weeping, denies the whole story and says the goods shipped to Los Angeles were a lot of miscellaneous plunder for which she had no room and that the $800 insurance would not cover the value of her household goods in the rooming-house. She says she had heard Andrews was a crook, but can conceive no reason for his accusation of her. She spent the day and night on Thursday with her parents and in this she is corroborated by her father, Capt. Felts, and her husband, both of whom came down tonight to see that bail was secured. Capt. Felts says the stuff shipped by his daughter is at his home and can be examined. Regarding the name under which it was shipped Mrs. Getz says Andrews did the packing and attended to the shipping and used the assumed name for reasons of his own.

SLASHED BY CHINAMAN.

FRESNO WOMAN INJURED.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

FRESNO, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Today, at her home in this city, Mrs. Ella Brockway was cruelly slashed with a huge butcher knife wielded by an enraged Chinaman. The servant was about to leave her employ, and in paying him the wages due, the Chinaman claimed another day's pay, which his employer refused to give him, whereupon he seized a knife and began slashing.

The first slash cut an ugly gash in the woman's right arm and screams of fright brought the husband to the scene. He seized the first available weapon, knocked the heathen down, and then turned attention to his prostrate wife, who lay swooning on the floor. The Chinaman is in jail.

EVIDENCE AGAINST CARLTON.

CROSS PURSUING CLEWS.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Evidence continues to accumulate against Frederick Carlton, whom Inspector Cross believes is the greatest of criminals. Developments today revealed that Carlton had, in 1897, represented himself as a rich Brazilian planter named de Rodriguez, and as such married Mrs. Lulu Ketterling, a wealthy Rochester widow. Mrs. Ketterling, who has recognized Carlton by his picture, declares he disappeared with diamonds valued at $2000, after trying to poison her. Soon after marriage they quarreled, and de Rodriguez brought home some dates as a peace offering. She ate a few, and became deathly sick, and for three months was in a dangerous condition. De Rodriguez left with the diamonds.

It will take another week yet to complete the poison tests, and will show whether the tetanus bacilli or other deadly germs killed Mrs. Carlton.

It will aid in the development theory that Mrs. Carlton might have been murdered with fiendish ingenuity by the inoculation of deadly bacilli into her system, through a nail in a shoe or by some similar means.

FLASHY ACTOR; STOLEN COAT.

POLICE WANT EDWARD QUILLINAN OF MELODRAMA.

Fellow-actor Accuses Him of Stealing His Pension Papers and His Tuxedo—A Story of a Forged Order for a Valise and a Silk-lined Overcoat.

So grave are the charges that a warrant was issued yesterday for the arrest of Quillinan, who is said to be prospering as a real estate dealer in San Francisco.

Rice is a theatrical man, and was for a considerable time connected with the Ulrich Stock Company and played with them during their recent engagement at the Grand Operahouse. He is a veteran of the Spanish War, and a pensioner, having received a gunshot wound during a skirmish with the Filipinos.

The troubles of Rice are not connected with the gunshot wound, however, as that would be the least of his worries could he recover goods that he claims Quillinan has stolen.

The story as told by Rice is to the effect that several months ago Quillinan applied for a position with the Ulrich company and was accepted. He proved to be a bad actor, and after a few rehearsals was dropped from the role.

Because he was sorry for the man who was down on his luck, Rice befriended Quillinan, paid for his meals and helped him in other ways. One day a silk-lined overcoat was missing from the apartments of Rice, but little was said of the matter at the time.

Some time afterward Rice had occasion to leave the city for a few days, and during his absence left a suit case in charge of the proprietor of the Saddlerock restaurant. Incidentally he told Quillinan about the suit case and mentioned several valuable articles which it contained. When Rice returned he at once applied for the valise, but found that during his absence the case had been taken away. Rice claims that a forged order was given for the valise by Quillinan, who signed Rice's name.

The suit case is valued at $2000 and contained two suits of clothes, other necessary articles of wearing apparel, jewelry, and, what was more precious, the pension papers.

Letters have failed to bring a response from Quillinan, who is believed to be enjoying the Tuxedo of his friend while viewing the sights of the northern metropolis.

Yesterday Rice took the necessary steps to prevent the collection of money on the pension papers. Several months, however, must elapse before the new budget can be obtained from the government.

Should Quillinan be located in San Francisco he will be brought to Los Angeles for trial, as Chief of Police Hammel, in a letter to Rice, declares that Quillinan is wanted here on several other charges and there is a disposition on the part of the local authorities to put the fellow through, as he is believed to be a crook.

While in this city Quillinan was known as one of the flashiest of sports who frequent the tenderloin. His boast was that he had "all colors of money." As he always appeared well dressed, this statement was believed.

VAINLY SEEKS HIS CHILDREN.

CASE OF ALLEGED KIDNAPING REPORTED TO POLICE.

Anxious Father Accuses His Divorced Wife of Securing Illegal Possession of His Son and Daughter for Whom He Was Providing a Good Musical Education.

After caring for his children and striving for four years to give them a musical education, during which time he was separated from his wife, Eugene Esposito, an ironworker of No. 610 San Fernando street, lost his little ones—Angelina, aged 13, and Eugene, aged 11—last night. He accuses his divorced wife, Mrs. Albert Bilderrain of having kidnaped them.

When mere tots, the children showed marked musical ability and when, four years ago, the husband secured a divorce from his wife, he devoted all of his energies to making money for the sole purpose of educating the boy and girl in this country and then sending them abroad to pursue their studies under some of the Old World's masters.

Mrs. Joseph Ramirez of Alpine and Figueroa streets was made custodian of the children and she kept them until last Thursday, when she turned them over to Mrs. M. L. Lariux of No. 549 Buena Vista street. The mother of the boy and girl was permitted to see them occasionally, but because he feared they might be kidnaped, Esposito, who had been awarded their custody by the courts, watched them carefully. Saturday last, the mother was married to Bilderrain and yesterday afternoon while Esposito was at work and Mrs. Lariux was in Santa Monica, Mrs. Bilderrain called at the Lariux home and asked for her children. Lariux was caring for them and he permitted the woman to talk with the boy and girl. Eventually the woman departed and shortly afterward the children asked to be permitted to go to a near-by store and purchase some fruit. They were allowed to go, but they never came back.

Esposito thinks his former wife induced the children to visit the store and then hurried them away to a place of hiding. He has asked the police to assist him to find them.

Bigler Johnson Hanged.

TOWANDA (Pa.) July 25.—Bigler Johnson was hanged today. The crime for which Johnson was hanged was the murder of his wife, Margaret Johnson, from whom he had separated, and her niece, Annie Benjamin.

SHIELDS MAN WHO CUT HER.

Fatally Stabbed, This Woman Refuses to Talk.

Willing to Die, but Not to Tell Who Knifed.

Detectives Unable to Find the Slightest Clew.

Stabbed in half a dozen places and hovering between life and death, Mrs. Kate Butler, an octoroon, of No. 712½ East First street, lies in the Receiving Hospital and only smiles when the police question her regarding the identity of the man who inflicted the dangerous wounds. The police surgeons say she probably will die.

That one of her dusky admirers stabbed her during an altercation she admits, but tell the name of her assailant she will not.

"It was my fault. I hit him with a pitcher and he cut me with a pocket knife, but I'll never tell his name though I die," said the woman grimly.

Mrs. Butler was found in her room weltering in blood at 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon shortly after neighbors had heard sounds of a violent altercation. She was sent to the Receiving Hospital, where the surgeons found she had been stabbed just over the heart, under the left arm, in the left shoulder and in the small of the back. The wounds appeared as if quick, vicious lunges had been made by the knife-wielder as he tried again and again to sink the steel in some vital spot. Had the woman not received medical attention quickly she would have bled to death.

Several police detectives made a round of the woman's acquaintances last night, but as there were no eye-witnesses to the fight, no clew to the identity of the woman's assailant could be obtained. Should the woman die with sealed lips, the authorities will have small chances of convincing the murderer.

CLEMENCY FOR A "PERVERT."

SANTIAGO HERO ESCAPES DEATH.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

ALBANY (N. Y.) July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Through commutation by Gov. Higgins, Emil Totterman, a Santiago hero, will escape death by the electric chair at Sing Sing. Totterman was condemned to die the first week in August for the brutal murder of Sarah Martin in New oFrk City. Totterman was found to be a "pervert" and this fact, together with the fine record the man had made while on the Oregon during the Spanish-American War, induced the Governor to commute the sentence to life imprisonment.

Totterman possesses several medals from congress for his bravery. The application for clemency in his behalf was strongly supported by Admiral Clark, who, as Capt. Clark, commanded the Oregon at Santiago, and by the Committee on Naval Affairs of Congress. Counsel for Totterman presented letters to the Governor showing that Totterman came of good family.

The crime was committed in one of the dives along the wharves on the East Side. The victim was disemboweled and hacked.

Robbed by Three Negroes.

Gus Pancap, a fruit peddler of No. 120 North San Pedro street, was the victim of three hold-up men at North San Pedro and Jackson streets last night about 10 o'clock.

Pancap was returning to his home when he passed three negroes near his gate. One of them knocked him down and the other two went through his pockets, relieving him of $20. Pancap could not give a clear description of his assailants.

Annie Grant Sentenced.

LONDON, July 25.—Annie M. Grant (or Annie Gleason) of Chicago, who was committed for trial July 6 on the charge of stealing a necklace valued at $10,000 from Christie's, was found guilty in the Old Bailey today and sentenced to three years' penal servitude.

This is the finest bay in the State of California, navigable at all stages of the tide, and peerless in its advantages for still-water boating, bathing and fishing.

Permanent Improvements of High Character

Two splendid piers have been built, one into the ocean and one into the bay. One of the finest scenic speedways on the coast, the Bay View Drive, skirts the bluffs. Artesian water has been developed and is now being piped. A handsome bridge spanning the bay will connect direct with the Huntington electric lines. All streets will be graded and oiled without expense to purchasers.

Mr. Huntington's Important Interests in Newport Bay

Mr. Huntington's interests are an important factor in beach values. Two electric lines are being built into Newport. Mr. Huntington owns over 300 acres of islands in Newport Bay and over a mile of ocean front besides. Corona del Mar outclasses for scenic beauty, safety and general desirability, every other beach location on the coast.

...Angeles was Miss Christina Reedal, the pretty daughter of John Reedal, a retired capitalist of Vermont avenue. She may be seen almost any day spinning about the streets in her big Rambler surrey, and, together with her cousin, Miss Sophia Mackenzie of Pasadena, who is also an enthusiastic "bubbler," she has enjoyed many a country run. Miss Reedal is a singularly pretty girl with beautiful hair of a real Titian hue and the fair skin and rosy complexion that goes with it. She began with a runabout, but last Christmas her father replaced it with a big surrey and a couple of months ago she made a run up the coast to Santa Barbara with four girl friends and established a precedent thereby in being the first to make the trip without a man or a chauffeur along. Miss Reedal knows all about the machine and can rip a tire off or repair a puncture without so much as looking at a chaffeur or a mechanic. This fall she is going on a trip to Honolulu and is trying to determine whether she shall take her beloved Rambler along with her. She drives very evenly and has made a speed of forty miles an hour.

Another girl who is an expert auto driver is the 16-year-old daughter of E. J. Price, a retired capitalist of Severance street. Besides knowing how to drive her Elmore Pathfinder, a five-passenger touring car, she knows all its mechanical devices and can make all the adjustments without delay. She takes the entire care of her machine and is a careful, cool-headed driver. She may be seen whizzing down Broadway almost any day in her big, royal blue auto with its yellow wheels.

Miss Weiss, daughter of Mr. Thomas Weiss of West Twenty-seventh street has just become the happy possessor of a Wayne, 16-horse-power runabout. For some time she has been running an Olds machine and she understands perfectly how to get over the ground.

In the endurance run to Santa Barbara which comes off next week society people will be well represented. Among those who will be likely to go, accompanied by the ladies of their family are Messrs. A. H. Wilcox, C. A. Canfield, George Easton, Nat Myrick, E. Stimson and A. L. Glassell. A ball at the Potter and a vaudeville entertainment and smoker are among the pleasures planned for the entertainment of those who make the trip.

EVENTS IN SOCIETY.

IN the heart of a fluffy snowball, a tiny piece of paper bearing the legend: "Clara Louise Garbutt-George Nathan Turner, October, 1905."

This was the message that set a score of the most popular young ladies of the University of Southern California into a furore yesterday afternoon at a gathering of the Alpha Rho Sorority at the home of Miss Lena Turner, No. 1155 West Thirty-eighth street. It was an announcement that was almost wholly a surprise; it was prettily planned, and it concerned two of the most interesting young people in university circles. It was the more unusual and interesting for these reasons.

Miss Turner entertained her guests with games, in which Miss Mable Poindexter won a prize. It was a suggestive picture—Cupid spearing hearts and laughing over it, but it did not enlighten the guests. After the games they went into the dining-room, that was a bower of white—white napery, white veils from chandelier to every corner of the table, a glistening Christmas tree in the center and the whole covered with snow and big, pure, white magnolias. On the tiny tree were snowballs, one for each guest. Inside each snowball was a fortune for the finder. Everyone read her fortune and then Hazel Newsome unfolded the last one and read the announcement. There were tears and laughter and congratulations and many other tokens of surprise and pleasure and a little sorrow at losing another member to the mere man. Then the girls snowballed the bride-to-be.

Miss Clara Garbutt has been an Alpha Rho for four years. She is the eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Garbutt of No. 514 South Figueroa street, and a leader in society at the university where she attended. She is a lovable, jovial girl, with a host of friends outside, as well as in her sorority and her college.

George Turner is assistant cashier of the Union Bank of Savings, a member of Alpha Upsilon Chapter of Sigma Chi fraternity of the university and a man with friendships in many different circles. The wedding will occur some time in October, but the details are yet to be arranged. Several social events are planning for Miss Garbutt.

Those who were present to hear the announcement were Mmes. Isaac Garbutt, Clarence Jones, Emma Cook, Arthur Campbell McNab, Paul Hancock, Wilbur Keim, Case, McBurney; Misses Katurah Paul, Sarah Miller, Katherine Brady, Miriam Cook, Daisy Sinclair, Hazel Newsome, Leonore Montgomery, Katherine Adkinson, Mabel Poindexter, Frances Thomson, Mabel St. John, Mabel Yerxa, Annie Bannister, Clara Parmelee, Blanch Dulberson, Mabelle Payton, Adelaide Ball, Bessie Gibson, Cleo Collins, Freda Averill, Helena Oakley, Chamberlain and Marguerite Garbutt.

Short, Sporty Career.

For many years a certain doctor practiced medicine in a little country town in Wyandotte county. He was careless of his dress. Half the time perhaps, his socks were not mates. Finally the doctor moved his family to Kansas City, Kan., and began to spruce up. He insisted on wearing socks that were mates. This made his wife suspicious. She thought he was getting sporty. The doctor has moved back to the country.—[Kansas City Journal.

A certain fabric, very good of its kind, but for some reason a very slow seller, lay upon the shelves of department and dry goods stores all over the United States. The stores were overstocked.

The manufacturers were persuaded to try a small amount of advertising. The advertisements measured but twenty-eight lines, and appeared, once a month, in THE LADIES' HOME JOURNAL only. This advertising within a comparatively short time exhausted the stock upon the shelves of department and dry goods stores throughout the country, and sent back orders to the manufacturers which amounted in seven months to one hundred thousand pieces more than the manufacturers could make.

These results were not obtained upon any startling novelty, but on a cloth which had been almost a drug on the market until the advertising gave it life.

Charming Antwerp

At ¼ to ½ Less

We stirred things up in the furniture business this week when we announced a reduction of 25 per cent. to 50 per cent. on all Antwerp Furniture. We took this step simply to stimulate the sluggish trade of an in-between-season, and, as buyers have come from all over the city and adjoining districts, we think we have ample reason for self-congratulation.

We have all classes of furniture, all sorts of pieces, in the "Antwerp Finish," which is a rich, lustrous brown, and there is not a room in your house whose beauty would not be enhanced by some article to be found in our comprehensive stock.

In looking over the list below, bear in mind that room is given for only a few of the many bargains, and that everything "Antwerp" in the house is reduced this week ¼ to ½.

$20.00 Attractive Corner Chair, $12.50.

FOR SALE—BARGAIN! BARGAIN!

ONLY $135 per acre for 22½ acres of the very finest kind of soil, located 2½ miles north of Hollywood and within 9½ miles of the center of Los Angeles; 6-room California house on the property. We have just sold the land immediately adjoining, and one-half of it will be planted to walnuts this coming season. The soil cannot be surpassed for growing walnuts, alfalfa, berries or vegetables of any kind, and we will put it against any ranch property to be bought in Los Angeles county at from $250 to $300 per acre. It can be planted to walnuts or alfalfa at little expense, and will be worth double its cost within six months after planting. Will grow 12 tons of alfalfa or 150 sacks of Irish potatoes per acre per year. The new electric road now building to Burbank will increase its value very much within the next few months. This is without question one of the best ranch bargains on the market.

THE CITY IN BRIEF.

NEWS AND BUSINESS.

Water Bulletin.

Hawkeyes' Annual Outing.

The Charles City (Iowa) Social Club held its semi-annual outing at Long Beach yesterday. Forty-four members were present, which is indeed a good representation from a Hawkeye city of 5000 inhabitants. The next gathering will be at Laurel Cañon.

Postoffice Clerks.

At a meeting of Branch No. 57 of the United National Association of Postoffice Clerks, held last evening in the clerks' reception room of the postoffice, steps were taken in the interest of sending a State delegate to the national convention at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, in September.

Bankrupts.

Belle Brown, a Los Angeles dressmaker, has filed a petition in bankruptcy with the United States District Court, scheduling debts of $676.50 and assets of $34.36. Bills for drugs, medical attendance and hospital care are the principal liabilities. H. A. Kelly, a Santa Barbara painter, with debts of $670 and assets of $100, claimed as exempt, has filed a similar petition.

Duncan and Lantz Fight.

While patching up an ancient grievance yesterday, Boaz Duncan, the real estate man, and Charles Lantz, lawyer, chanced to mention who had been wrong in the first instance. The end of it was a fierce fist fight with the crowd who had gathered to the auction on the Courthouse steps, looking out for their own corns. Three times Duncan and Lantz were separated and three times leaped at each other like terriers. Ed Hutch officiated as peace maker. Growing weary, at last, of chasing the belligerents around, "Hutch" threatened to hit them with his celebrated cane; whereupon the fight ceased.

Scalpers Lose.

Local ticket scalpers have lost their fight for the right to deal in return portions of excursion tickets sold by the Santa Fé and its connections for various events at Portland, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other Pacific Coast points this summer. United States Circuit Judge Wellborn handed down a decision yesterday in the case of the Santa Fé against J. C. Wiggins and other Los Angeles scalpers, in which he grants the temporary injunction requested by the plaintiff. In his opinion, Judge Wellborn says that the defendants' traffic in the tickets in question so seriously affects the complainant as to justify equitable relief.

BREVITIES.

The volume of "Liners" in the Sunday Times has become so great that it is found necessary to ask patrons to get their Sunday advertisements in earlier; especially Sunday real estate announcements, which, in order to be printed, must be in the office not later than 10 o'clock Saturday nights. The printing of all real estate matter, including advertisements, in a part by itself on Sundays involves somewhat slower press work, making it essential, in order to get the paper out on time, to stop receiving real estate ads. at 10 o'clock Saturday nights. Dealers will confer a favor on The Times office if they will turn in Sunday copy on Fridays, when possible; or, at least, a part of it, and the balance early on Saturdays. Sunday "Want" ads. will still be received by 'phone and over the counter until 11 o'clock Saturday nights.

The ladies' rest room on the top floor of the new wing of The Times Building is open daily from 9 to 5. Ladies from town or country will find this a convenient place to write, rest or read. Stationery provided for correspondence. Both 'phones available. Take elevator in business office. All are welcome.

Special announcement. In order to make room for fall goods, Terrill, 338-340 S. Hill st., will sell all summer materials at cost.

IMPRESS YACHT FOR HOT CHASE.

PRIVATE CRAFT PURSUES WILY CHINESE SMUGGLER.

Government Officers Take Boat from Protesting Owner and Continue Vain Pursuit for Three Days and Nights, but Lawbreaker Makes His Escape.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Capt. Merry of the auxiliary yacht Vishnu, was getting his craft ready for a fishing party when she was boarded by three men.

"Your boat is under our orders," said one of them.

"No she isn't," replied the captain. "I am just waiting for a party of fishermen. I can take you out tomorrow."

"No you won't. You will take us out right now, and stay as long as we desire," and the speaker displayed a badge on his coat that showed him to be a government official of the Immigration Department, and added that if the boat did not sail under his orders at once, the captain would be prosecuted.

That was early last Saturday morning, and nothing was seen of the Vishnu or her crew until yesterday afternoon, when they sailed into port after having sailed and searched over 400 miles, night and day.

Every nook and corner of Santa Cruz, Santa Rosa and Anacapa islands were explored, every boat was overtaken and examined carefully and island fishermen were carefully questioned.

Capt. Merry's unwelcome crew were Emil Engelike, John Canfield and T. J. Johnson of San Diego, all officers of the Federal government on a warm trail after a Chinese smuggler. They had traced him from far down on the coast of Lower California, located him off San Diego, and taking the train to this city attempted to intercept him as he came up the channel, but their plans miscarried. The government boat Madrona carelessly dropped into port on Sunday, as if she were expecting some government business here, but after lying at anchor for a day, shot out into the channel apparently without accomplishing anything. The officers went south today.

INJURED BY CARTRIDGE.

John Hammond, the young son of Engineer Hammond of the Edison Company's gas plant, was injured Sunday by the explosion of a giant powder cap, which he hammered with a rock. Parts of the shell lodged in the boy's face, and his eyes were also badly burned.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Brown of Los Angeles and Harry Lockman of San Francisco are on their way south, in a White automobile, having come down from San Francisco over the Santa Cruz Mountains.

KICKS THE GRAFTER DOWN FRONT STEPS.

FOREIGN physical culture methods? Bah!

In the eyes of the foregoing Mrs. Schweitzer is a heroine of the distinct melodramatic type.

Besides routing a persistent caller from her home, the woman has given publicity to one of the newest and smoothest methods of "easy money" workers; and in addition to the interest elicited from residents in her vicinity, Mrs. Schweitzer has placed the police department in possession of information which is likely to lead to the apprehension of the trio bent on victimizing residents of Los Angeles.

Mrs. Schweitzer was called to the door of her vine-covered cottage on Savoy street several days ago by a prepossessing man who desired to know whether or not there had been any deaths in the Schweitzer family for the past fifty years or more.

The woman replied that her mother had died in Baltimore several years ago, but presumed this information would be of no value.

The stranger resumed his polite inquiries, stating that as a representative of the city of Los Angeles, he was collecting the mortality statistics, and would be very pleased to learn the name, date of birth, etc., of the deceased person. The information was furnished and the man departed, to call at the house adjoining the Schweitzer home.

Mrs. Schweitzer had forgotten the incident. She was busy about the preparation of her noonday meal yesterday when a persistent knock called her to the front door.

A caller, garbed in ministerial dress, sought admittance to her home, and without awaiting an invitation, seated himself in the little front room. He carried a mysterious-looking package, which he shortly informed Mrs. Schweitzer had been sent to her by the woman's deceased mother.

So positive were his assurances that there was no deception that the woman was led to open the package.

What followed is best told in Mrs. Schweitzer's own words:

"I did not think there was anything wrong about it," said she, "but kept my eyes open all the time, nevertheless. When I removed the paper a frame, like an open coffin, bordered with black satin ribbon, stared me in the face. In the center was the name of my dead mother, and around the edges were several Scriptural quotations.

"I told the man I had nothing to do with it, and would not pay the express charges which he demanded, because I could not see how my dead mother could send me any sort of a present. Then he began to read the Scripture.

"At that I told him I probably knew more of the Bible than he, because I could recite the whole book by heart. He persisted, however, and when I told him it would be to his advantage to leave, he questioned my right to refuse the present.

"I just told him that unless he left my house I would put him out.

"Then he questioned my ability to do so. When I saw that he did not intend to leave I just grabbed him by the collar, and the way he went bumping up against the porch pillars and down the steps will probably teach him a lesson for awhile.

"I finally got him to the gate, and releasing my hold, let him proceed up the street, which he did in a hurry.

"No, he hasn't been back yet, and I don't think he will."

Mrs. Schweitzer was engaged in her housework when the reporter called. Her sleeves were rolled to the elbow, displaying a muscular arm which rather accentuated the forcibleness of her recital. At first she was very reluctant. She had nothing to say, and no knowledge of the visit of the strangers. When confronted with the story by a Times representative, however, she relented, and after counseling with her husband, decided to relate her part in the affair.

Then the Times man visited Mrs. Schweitzer's neighbors.

In a large percentage of the homes along Savoy street, and for several blocks on Buena Vista street, a copy of the mysterious "present" was found. It is a grewsome object, but designed to touch a tender spot in the heart of the prospective victim, and judging from the evidence at hand, the scheme has succeeded very admirably.

A bride, still in her 'teens, occupying a house adjoining the Schweitzer residence, admitted that she had been victimized. The unsuspecting girl had paid a cash deposit of $2 as express charges, and affixed her signature to an agreement, by the terms of which she promises to pay $10 additional in order to retain the memorial.

There have been meetings in the vicinity of the Schweitzer home, however, and as a result Savoy street will present a most formidable appearance upon the next visit of the "gentlemanly agents." Several of the neighbors were witnesses to the forcible ejection of the visitor from the Schweitzer home.

"We are going to follow suit," admitted one woman yesterday afternoon, "and I know that many of my neighbors have just as curious a collection of weapons as I."

Whereupon the speaker displayed an arrangement of rolling pins, which will make that a dangerous ground for the grafters.

It is ascertained by investigations by Times reporters, that a large amount of money has been secured in that section of the city, but the exposé made by Mrs. Schweitzer is likely to place a quietus on the operations of the trio. The matter has been reported to the police authorities and an interview with the grafters is now greatly desired.

Mrs. Schweitzer, the lady of muscle, who threw down stairs the grafter who tried to "work" her for a $10 passage of scripture that she didn't order.

AROUND THE WORLD.

Los Angeles People Complete Long Journey Filled With Interesting Incidents.

"Los Angeles is the only place to live in," is the opinion of two wealthy Los Angeleños who have just returned from a tour around the world. Having seen the most celebrated places and the most beautiful cities, and being able to live wherever they choose, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. McCan say, "there is no place like Los Angeles."

They returned yesterday after a trip of over a year, and were at their apartments in the Lankershim Hotel last night. "We went from Los Angeles to Los Angeles," said Mrs. McCan, "and were in Japan at the most exciting times of the war. That really was a great education to us. The Japanese, who had prepared for the war for years, took it as calmly as if it were all a matter of course.

"The way they went to war was a great contrast to the way we and Europeans do. We would see a detachment march to the station, accompanied by their wives, sweethearts and relatives. They have a few instruments, making unspeakable music, but before they got to the station they turn back and only the soldiers would go on. In fifteen minutes they would be off, and nobody would know that anything of the sort had ever happened."

Mr. McCan, who has one of the finest stamp collections in the United States, surpassed, in fact, by few in the world, made some notable additions on his tour. "I have one envelope that was given to me by the postmaster of the Bombay presidency, the most important district in India," he said. "There is probably nothing like it in existence, and Stanley Gibbons, the London stamp dealer, told me he had heard of nothing like it.

"One of the most extraordinary things we saw was the system of water tanks for irrigation built by the Buddists in Ceylon over 3000 years ago. The fall of the water and the system of locking is so perfect that all the science of modern engineering has not been able to improve on it. I was assured of this by the Englishman who is the head of the irrigation department of the Ceylon government. It seems extraordinary that those people twenty centuries ago should have had such perfect methods, for the science of engineering nowadays has reached a very high pitch."

Mrs. McCan will no longer believe that America is the only place where trains are held up. They were traveling over the plains of India one night, when she awoke and found that the door of their compartment was swinging open, and the entire contents of the carriage in danger of blowing out. They then found that an Eurasian, a half-caste, had sneaked in while they were asleep, and had pulled down the bunk near where Mrs. McCan was sleeping. It was two hours before they could have him arrested.

SPECULATORS SQUEALING.

REDONDO DOWN TO A SOLID BUSINESS BASIS.

Many Who Took Fake Options Are Now Short on the Cash to Pay. Huntington Company Has Many Orders—New Town is Projected by the Magnate.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

REDONDO, July 25.—Options taken by wild-eyed speculators during the excitement of the boom are coming due. In many cases, there is no money to pay. There are women speculators who are squealing with alarm.

The legitimate investors are glad of it. It means the squeezing of the gamblers out of Redondo. From now it will be a business proposition instead of a mild form of insanity.

One woman was around the real estate offices yesterday in a great state of excitement trying frantically to dispose of her property. It appears that her husband went East on a long business trip a few weeks ago, leaving her $1000 to take care of herself and the children until his return. She went down to Redondo and tied up the whole sum; can't get it out and has nothing left to live on; afraid to send for more money.

Another woman, in tears, was trying yesterday to get someone to take her bargain off her hands, this being the last day of her option.

These were of the wild, turbulent throng who stormed around the real estate offices that third day.

The most conservative business men agree that the real estate market is getting down to a bedrock, firm basis now. These are the last relics of the boom.

Although many of the real estate men make wilfully false reports as to the situation, one of the most conservative firms states that the values have fallen about 20 per cent. since the boom prices.

At the office of the Huntington company at Redondo, it was stated that nearly one hundred applications are on file for such lots as may be turned back by the failure to take up options. It is stated by the Huntington agents that the prices of property acually sold remain firm; but that the prices asked by the excited boomers have slumped, of course.

Most of the supposed bogus checks, it is stated, have turned out after all to be good. Many of them were on savings banks where checks are never cashed without presentation of the pass books.

Mr. Huntington has a new townsite adjoining Redondo. It is not ready to spring yet. When it is, every effort will be made to head off a boom. It lies immediately next to Redondo on the San Pedro side. It has a number of fine bluff lots and is now a hay field. The name Clifton has been suggested for it. The date of its opening is uncertain.

It will not be put upon the market until the present supply of Redondo lots has been disposed of. The making of the streets will be part of the system of improvements which will include a new wharf for shipping oil.

THE WRITING ON THE WALL.

Belshazzar Doom for Young Parry-Saunders.

Amazing Revelation Scrubbed Off With Brush.

Did the Student for Ministry Lead Dual Life?

Who scrawled the obscene sentences on the walls and the doors of the Piedmont lodging-house, thereby goading Miss Williamson, the landlady into the insane fury that resulted in her killing Richard Parry-Saunders on the night of July 17?

The solution of this problem, which the present owners of the lodging-house believe they have evolved, may have the most important bearing upon the case when Miss Williamson is brought up for trial, and may decide her fate with the jury.

It may also prove the murdered man to have been a type in real life of the Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde sort. For to connect him with the handwriting would be to upset the conclusions his friends have drawn as to his habits, and prove him to have been a man of dual personality, a striking combination of mental and moral opposites.

On the other hand, it may prove Parry-Saunders to have been the innocent victim of a consuming rage fanned into flame by the gross obscenity of another, possibly designing to involve Parry-Saunders in the consequences of a filthy joke.

Queerest lead to a tragic denouement was this clew to the motive for the crime discovered by a Times representative yesterday, a most salient clew unnoticed by the detectives, and now almost completely erased by the scrub brush in the hands of Mrs. H. M. Ellefson, successor to Miss Williamson at the Piedmont.

And Mrs. Ellefson was in a murderous mood herself yesterday, as she came upon the gross insults in the course of her house cleaning.

If the vile messages intended for another heated her blood to the boiling point, how much more furious must have been Miss Williamson, to whom they were personally directed.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Ellefson believe that the obscene proposals to Miss Williamson which they have found scrawled in places where she would be most likely to see them, were the direct cause of the shooting, for they goaded the former landlady to a frenzy of outraged indignation.

That she believed Parry-Saunders the author of these lines, there is no doubt. Whether her suspicions were well founded or not will probably ever remain a matter of conjecture. But a comparison made yesterday between the handwriting in which the insulting paragraphs were scrawled and Parry-Saunders's signature on the lodging-house register betrayed an astonishing resemblance.

The Ellefsons, who were negotiating with Miss Williamson for the purchase of her interest in the house at the time of the tragedy, throw an interesting side light upon the situation.

Ellefson says that at the time of their taking the inventory Parry-Saunders hung about Miss Williamson, ogling, smirking and interjecting impertinent remarks until her patience was exhausted, and she angrily ordered him to go to his room or leave the house.

"This is private business, and none of your affair," she exclaimed heatedly. Then to the intending purchasers she said, after Parry-Saunders was out of hearing: "That man annoys me constantly. He doesn't like me, and yet he is continually hanging around."

The Ellefsons soon after began to come upon the scrawls in question, and lost no time in erasing them from the walls.

The only possibly printable one of these obscene proposals and suggestions was: "The landlady looks good to me." The rest were too filthy for utterance. For the greater part they were written in the same running scrawl in which Parry-Saunders had signed his named in the register, but others were printed in a disguised hand in places where they would come especially under the notice of Miss Williamson. Both Mr. and Mrs. Ellefson are worked up, and do not hesitate to voice their conviction as to the identity of the author.

They say that even in the event of Parry-Saunders having offered no direct insult to Miss Williamson on the day of the shooting, they are convinced that she, from suspecting him of being the author of the obscenities, had brooded over the matter until she was in a desperate frame of mind, and boiling with indignation from a brutally ingenious piece of torture.

They speak in the highest terms of Miss Williamson, saying that she went out of her way in trading her lodging-house interests to them for a house and lot in the Bell tract, to apprise them of unsatisfactory conditions, which she might have concealed successfully and which might have resulted in calling the trade off.

G. H. Mallman of No. 1920 Park Grove, owner of the building, speaks in the highest terms of Miss Williamson, saying that her word is good enough for him. He says he was especially glad to give her the building in order to get a woman of her character in a part of the town which is not the best section of the city. All who know Miss Williamson scout the theory of Parry-Saunders having been robbed in her place.

On the other hand the friends of the young man at Compton, where he studied for the ministry, are still as strong in their conviction that he was killed without cause, and declare they will personally see that the prosecution is pushed with all possible vigor.

It is a striking feature of this case that the reputation of this young man should have undergone such a radical change after his leaving Compton. There he was and still is regarded as one of the most exemplary habits. When he came into the city it appears that he failed to create the same impression on those with whom he came in contact, and especially about the Piedmont lodging house.

It has just been ascertained that he had a wife and child living in the East. His friends declare that the wife left him. Miss Williamson's friends, who are looking the matter up, say that he deserted his family. Friends of Miss Williamson consider the change of name from Richard Parry Saunders to Richard Saunders Parry indicative of a past which he was attempting to cover up. His friends scoff the notion, saying such changes of names are common among the Welsh, and support the contention by declaring that he was in constant communication with those who knew him in the East and never made any attempt to conceal his whereabouts.

MRS. BISE'S PICTURE.

When the police took charge of Parry's effects they found among his personal belongings a picture of Mrs. S. M. Bise, wife of his employer at Compton. The next day Mrs. Bise asked to have the picture returned to her; but at the suggestion that there was anything out of the way in his having her picture, she only laughs, saying he looked upon her as a mother, and that if the police want the picture they are welcome to have it back again.

It is another peculiarity in a case which promises surprising developments, that at Compton Parry should have been universally regarded as a woman hater, and that the reputation he made for himself in the short period of his residence here was anything but that. It is even suggested that he may have been a man of dual personality, one side of which was brought out by his life at Compton, while opposite characteristics were developed and brought to light by conditions and surroundings of his life in Los Angeles.

Yesterday Miss Williamson was arraigned a second time before Police Justice Chambers, to plead to the corrected arraignment bearing the name of Parry instead of that of Saunders which was first incorporated in the charge, and the preliminary hearing was set for Friday at 10 o'clock.

Monday, on instructions received from Owen Parry, of Lake Crystal, Minn., brother of the deceased, the remains were taken from Bresee Brothers where they have lain since the shooting, and buried at Rosedale cemetery, the brother sending a draft to Rev. E. P. Thomas to cover the funeral expenses.

Mrs. H. R. Roberts, of No. 736 Towns avenue, who knew Parry in Minnesota, where he lived with his brother, says that the family is well to do, and has always borne a good reputation. It has so far proven impossible to locate the Owen Rose who is named as the beneficiary in Parry's insurance policy for $2000 with the Fraternal Brotherhood.

STRIKE THREAT IS BOLDLY MET.

LOCKOUT IN SIGHT FOR UNION METAL WORKERS.

Employers Refuse to Grant Unreasonable Demands of Walking Delegates and Will Fight Their Dupes to Finish if "Order" is Not Withdrawn.

Sheet metal workers who are members of the Los Angeles Sheet Metal Union threaten to strike unless the demands of the walking delegates are complied with, the wages of members increased and the hours of work shortened.

A formal demand was made on proprietors of shops in this city yesterday morning and of the fifteen or more places concerned only three returned an answer. In each case the reply was conservative and did not amount to a compromise.

As a consequence, a battle probably will be waged, the employers at a hurried conference deciding that the demand of the union is unreasonable and voting to fight the "order" to the end.

The wages of master metal workers here are 50 cents per hour; they work eight hours on five days of the week, and seven hours on Saturdays.

The union demand is for 55 cents per hour, eight hours for five days and four hours for Saturdays. This demand was presented and met with an almost unanimous refusal from the employers, who declare they will suspend building operations if necessary.

At the Builders' Exchange yesterday the claim was made that the sheet metal workers are better paid in Los Angeles than in almost any other city.

There are only a few non-union metal workers now in the city, but skilled mechanics will be brought to Los Angeles to break the local union should those in power persist in holding out for the demands.

C. Specht, proprietor of the California Cornice Works, said yesterday:

"The demand of the union is ridiculous and we will close our places of business rather than comply with the terms. We want to do the right thing and are willing to pay reasonable wages, but we will not be bamboozled into what these fellows are trying to force upon us.

"Our best men are not in favor of the demand and are opposed to a strike; but the scrubs, the deadbeats and drunkards, who have paid their dollar to join the union, outvote the decent men.

"They are ruining the trade, anyhow, as under the present system the sheet metal union only allows us to employ one apprentice for every five mechanics. The boys are taught scarcely anything and serve only to clean up the benches and do the dirty work for these union men.

"It would be a good thing for this city if the union busted."

Five Oriental Ranch Hands Without Certificates Are Trapped by Inspection Officials.

Despite their shining brass buttons and their conspicuous blue uniforms and caps with gilt braid, several officers of the Chinese Immigrant Inspection Service rounded up five Chinamen yesterday, charged with being illegally in the United States. The prisoners were taken before United States Commissioner Van Dyke, and were held for hearing on Friday.

It is only by making quick dashes into districts where offending Chinamen may be, that the officers now are able to apprehend the interlopers. The gay uniforms afford the best kind of danger signal for even the most stupid and most recent arrival from the Flowery Kingdom. Brass Buttons comes down the road, Chink sees him mile off and slips into hiding.

A number of the inspection officials slipped quietly into the ranch country south of the city yesterday, and, before the surprised Chinamen had an opportunity to escape, a quintette of them was corraled, not one of the number having the necessary certificate.

With yesterday's additions, there now are seventeen Chinamen in the County Jail, either awaiting deportation or being held for trial for wrongful presence here. Three of the number, already marked for deportation, also are accused of assisting others to evade the exclusion laws. They are certain to be sent back to China and probably will have to serve terms in the penitentiary before departure.

PUBLIC SERVICE—OFFICIAL DOINGS.

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

Fourteen saloon licenses have been placed in jeopardy because the proprietors took the recent vote of the Hahn-Chapman prohibition ordinance as an endorsement of the rum traffic, unrestricted by police surveillance.

The police commissioners yesterday morning took under consideration a proposal to employ a score of cowboys to patrol the streets and lasso all auto drivers who refuse to stop their machines when signaled by the police.

Great interest is taken in the fight before the District Court of Appeals over the game ordinance. The attack is so made that if the Game Protective Association wins, boards of supervisors will probably be debarred from interfering in the future.

Amos Hercules is being tried for murder.

AT THE CITY HALL.

NOW SORRY THEY GOT GAY.

FOURTEEN SALOON MEN MAY LOSE LICENSES.

Took Vote on Prohibition Ordinance for Endorsement of Liquor Traffic and Neglected to Obey Rules of Commission — Wild Scramble to Mayor's Office.

Fourteen saloon-keepers have placed their licenses in jeopardy by failure to observe the rules of the Police Commission regulating the sale of intoxicating liquors.

They mistook the recent vote on the Hahn-Chapman prohibition ordinance as an indorsement of the rum traffic unregulated by the police.

During the last ten days each of them has been directed by Chief Hammel to appear at the City Hall and show cause why his license shall not be revoked. A wild scramble to the Mayor's office followed. The saloon men are more panic-stricken than at any other time during the present administration.

Division of opinion over a report submitted to the Police Commission at an executive session yesterday morning, concerning the violations of the rules of the board by local cafés, has given rise to the rumor that the board is about to adopt a new rule more drastic than any that has gone before, entirely separating saloons from restaurants in which liquor is sold.

At the regular session Commissioners Johnson and Mason declined to vote for the transfer of title of a saloon and restaurant liquor license at No. 500 East Fifth street.

"I have no objection to the applicant on account of his past record," explained Commissioner Johnson. "I understand that it is good as saloon men go. If he will state to the board which he desires to conduct, a saloon or a restaurant, I will vote to transfer to him the title of the license he chooses, but not both."

"That is the way I feel about the matter," said Commissioner Mason; "it is time that we draw the dividing line."

"That would bring up the whole question again," protested Commissioner James. "Granting this transfer would have no effect on any subsequent action that the board may take."

Commissioner Gates and Mayor McAleer expressed opinions similar to those advanced by Mr. James; but Johnson and Mason declined to withdraw their objections and action was postponed for one week.

In the executive session there was a long and somewhat animated discussion over a report on cafés submitted by Commissioner Mason. This report had been made by a couple of well-known local prohibitionists and given to him to present to the board.

Both Mason and Johnson held that the report contained evidence sufficient to justify the revocation of the saloon licenses of the Palace, the Imperial and, in fact, all the cafés that insist on conducting both a saloon and a restaurant in which liquor is old. Mayor McAleer and Commissioners James and Gates were not ready to take such drastic action.

Against the report of the prohibitionists they offered the results of excursions which each of the three has made during the last week among the local saloons and restaurants. Each told of visiting these places in company with plain-clothes officers. They insisted that the reports of the water-wagon committee are colored.

All agreed that the saloon men have not been paying as much attention to the rules of the board as they did before the late prohibition campaign.

That campaign, according to two of the commissioners, resulted as such campaigns almost invariably do, in making the conditions affecting the liquor traffic worse instead of better.

The commissioners say that the saloon men recently became so arrogant that the commission considered for a time the revocation of a number of licenses. During the last ten days Chief Hammel, acting under instruction from the commission, has warned fourteen saloon-keepers that they must make radical reforms, under penalty of losing their licenses.

Each of the saloon men so notified has come to the City Hall and pledged himself to the Mayor to obey the rules of the commission. But it is not improbable that several of them will lose their licenses.

Apprised that there is division on the commission, the liquor interests have formed a combination against the board. When the saloon license now held by the board was offered at auction two weeks ago the commissioners expected to realize several thousand dollars from the proceeds of the sale. Yesterday Clerk McKeag reported that not a single donation has been offered.

The commission voted to continue the auction for one week. After the session they practically agreed to hold the license until next Tuesday only. If at that time no offers have been received the license may be offered to the "Gothenburg philanthropic trust" that it may give a practical demonstration of the Gothenburg system of reforming the traffic in liquor.

COWBOYS VS. CHAUFFEURS.

PLOT AGAINST AUTO DRIVERS.

Determined to resort to desperate measures as a last recourse for the apprehension of the drivers of fifty-miles-an-hour automobiles, the Police Commission yesterday morning discussed the feasibility of employing a gang of cowboys whose duty it shall be to lasso any auto driver who declines to stop when hailed.

"Numbers are of little service to our department," said Chief Hammel yesterday. "The number of a machine is not sufficient evidence to convict the owner of fast driving. It is necessary that the officer identify the person who was driving the machine.

"Last week I went out and tried it. Down on South Main street a machine came dashing by at a high rate of speed; I noted the number and motioned the driver to stop. He turned his head to one side and waved me a parting salute. He knew that I was helpless. I am not sure that we can secure convictions by using the block system. The question of identifying the man who sped past you at the rate of forty or fifty miles an hour, his face masked in visor and goggles, is exceedingly difficult."

Commissioner Johnson had protested because something is not done to check the speed of autos on South Main street.

"There is only one way to catch those hurricane drivers," declared Mayor McAleer. "If we were to hire a score of cowboys to go down on South Main street on their broncbos and lasso every driver who refused to stop when signaled, we could break up the scorching habit. I do not believe that we shall accomplish it any other way."

"Bravo! bravo!" exclaimed the Chief and the commissioners.

Mr. James promptly moved that the Mayor's suggestion be carried into effect. Commissioner Gates seconded the motion; but the Mayor asked that the City Attorney be consulted before any definite action is taken. At his request vote on the motion was deferred for one week.

Hensley Reinstated.

Police Captain S. B. Hensley, for two years on the retired list, has, at his own request, been instructed to report to Chief Hammel for active duty. Capt. Hensley is incapacitated for walking a beat on account of injuries he received while in the service. This injury affected his feet only. While on the retired list he receives a pension of $75 a month, in active service he will receive $150 a month.

AT THE COURTHOUSE.

HOT FIGHT ON THE DOVE LAW.

HABEAS-CORPUS IN DISTRICT COURT OF APPEALS.

If Prindle Wins the Supervisors Will be Debarred from Dallying With the Game Ordinance Each Season, and Will Have to Conform to the District Game Law.

Year after year the county game ordinance has been changed, wholly or in part, to suit the exigencies of the moment; but there is a probability that all county game ordinances may be invalidated under the ruling of the District Court of Appeals in the habeas-corpus proceedings of Lyman D. Prindle.

The last game ordiance passed by the Board of Supervisors cut down the season for dove shooting to one day, and sportsmen generally regard this as an unreasonable and unwarrantable curtailment of the provisions of the State law. It was determined to make a test case, but inasmuch as sportsmen have complained that it was impossible to keep track of the game seasons while the supervisors were amending and altogether changing the ordinances to please malcontents, the Game Protective Association, as well as sportsmen not affiliated, decided to take the test case to the very root of the matter. The power of the supervisors to legislate the State provisions law out of sight, not only is impugned but it is denied that they have any authority other than along the lines marked out by the State.

In order to bring the matter to issue Prindle went out on July 1 and banged away at a dove, and was at once arrested by Game Warden Morgan. Brought before Justice Pierce he pleaded "guilty" and was fined $25, with the alternative of spending twenty-five days in jail. So far he has done neither one or the other. A writ of habeas-corpus was sued out in the District Court of Appeals and the case will be decided there on its merits very shortly.

Under its police power the supervisors have exercised authority in the protection of game. But their ordinances were merely supposed to carry out the intent of the State law, inasmuch as the climatic conditions in the several counties made the State law work out in an unequal manner.

Leading counsel are engaged in the case, Lee, Scott, Bailey and Chase representing the appellant, and District Attorney Fredericks filing briefs for the respondent. Two days ago Attorney H. T. Gage filed an additional brief as amicus curiae—or friend of the court, and the whole matter will be taken up by the court for consideration about August 1.

This matter of game regulation has caused a great deal of ill feeling among sportsmen on the one hand, and the people who wish a close protection for game on the other. The Audubon Society and the Farmer's Institute of Pasadena were mainly instrumental in having this last ordinance passed, but it is contended by the opposition that these organizations do not desire protection for game in the breeding season, or when fledglings are beginning to fly, but to prohibit the sport. The Game Protective Association, on the other hand, desires protection that will give game the opportunity to multiply without interference, while giving sportsmen a chance.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

TO PROVIDE HOMES.

The Springdale Water Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $5870, of which $50 has been subscribed. The purpose of the company is to give shares of stock with each piece of land sold. The directors are: M. A. Bronson, C. H. Green, R. McGarvin, D. C. McGarvin and G. S. Smith, all of this city.

The Welcome Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000, of which $500 has been subscribed. The directors are: A. P. Welcome, Louise, Julia and E. B. Welcome and W. B. Dunn, all of Los Angeles.

Gates Bros. Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $100,000, of which $500 has been subscribed. The directors are: C. W. Gates, A. Mills, H. Levinson, R. K. Cumberworth and Donald Barker, all of this city.

The Long Beach Home Land and Water Company has incorporated with a capital stock of $50,000, of which $30,000 has been subscribed. The directors are: B. F. Bond, E. J. Doss, J. B. Coughran, G. W. Neece and F. W. Stearns, all of Long Beach.

McKain Manufacturing Company has incorporated for the manufacture of machinery, with a capital stock of $50,000, of which $5 has been subscribed. The directors are: E., B. D., J. J. and A. A. McKain and J. M. Finch, all of Los Angeles.

THE HANCOCK TRAGEDY.

DAMAGE SUIT AS AFTERMATH.

John Saul, the milkman who was run into by the Hancock automobile a few days ago when the millionaire owner of the machine was killed, yesterday began suit against Milton Taylor Hancock to recover $10,000 as damages, and $710 for losses entailed upon him by being injured in the accident on Main street.

The plaintiff sets out briefly the facts in connection with his having been run into by the defendant late at night on July 20, and that Hancock was running his machine at an unlawful speed viz. thirty-four miles an hour. It is also charged that Hancock "being imbued with malice and wantonness within the true meaning and intent of the law," drove the machine into the cart. Saul says that he was hurled high into the air and then dragged for a considerable distance, and suffered such injuries that he is still confined to his bed.

TEMPERANCE DIVISION.

MRS. MARSHALL LIKED WINE.

Charles James Marshall, an Englishman of means, was yesterday in Judge Conrey's court asking for a divorce from his English wife, Mrs. Elizabeth M. Marshall, on the ground of desertion. The facts were curious and very exceptional.

For a man to be divorced because he indulged too freely in alcoholic liquors is too common a happening to provoke any comment, but for a man to obtain a divorce for the same reason is altogether exceptional where the parties are people of refinement. But this is what happened with the Marshalls.

They were married in August 1867, and five children resulted from the union, four of these being grown up and themselves married. On the witness stand yesterday Mr. Marshall stated that at one time he was prominent in London in temperance work, but he and his wife could not agree upon the matter at all. She adhered to the use of wine, and, as he faintly insinuated, she at times indulged too freely and became no longer mistress of herself. At that time they were living in Dorsetshire, and in March 1897, a separation took place, the wife returning to her father's home in Devonshire. Mrs. Marshall took this step when she inherited a fortune from a relative.

Shortly afterward the husband came to this country and has made his home in this county. His testimony was corroborated by a neice living at Santa Barbara, whose deposition was read. The decree was granted subject to compliance by the plaintiff's counsel with a technical requirement in serving notice upon the defendant.

IS HERCULES INSANE?

ATTORNEY'S UP-HILL FIGHT.

Amos Hercules is being tried for the murder of Timothy Segrue at Redondo, in 1903, and the only possible defense is that he was insane at the time he committed the deed. For being discharged from his position in the car shops, he went down armed with two revolvers, and when he learned that he could not be reëmployed he opened fire from the vantage ground of a pile of lumber.

One man was shot through the shirt and in the foot, while the other one was killed outright. Almost immediately after his arrest Hercules developed a melancholy streak and in April of last year was committed to the insane asylum. By that time he had become violent and in his cell it took four men to hold him down.

After being returned to the Sheriff of this county as having recovered, the defendant made no effort particularly to save himself, and only four days before the date of trial Attorney J. H. Wilder was appointed by the court to take charge of the defense. There could be only the one defense—insanity, and to prove that the man actually was insane at the time of the act it became necessary to get testimony from his relatives and friends at his old home. But there was no time for that, and so Attorney Wilder was compelled to go to trial as matters were and do the best he could. Yesterday at midday he received a telegram from a brother of the defendant at Louisville, Ky., begging him to have the trial continued and saying that he would leave for this city last night. But the brother is doomed to arrive after the trial has ended, for it will probably close today.

Yesterday the defense put in evidence tending to show that the insane condition in which Hercules arrived at the asylum was not a sudden and spontaneous outbreak, but that it betokened an unbalanced mind.

COURTHOUSE NOTES.

BREVITIES MISCELLANEOUS.

SMEED SENTENCED. H. B. A. Smeed yesterday pleaded guilty to stealing a saddle horse from Cusik Bros., the liverymen at Pomona. Attorney Reymert before the plea was entered stated to the court that he was of the opinion that his client was insane, but Smeed owned up in a very matter of fact way. The defendant was sentenced to two years at San Quentin.

PLEADED DRUNKENNESS. Adolf Dufaure, who, in the hotel at Lancaster, stole $40 and a watch from another guest of the hotel, pleaded guilty before Judge Smith yesterday and was sentenced to two years at San Quentin.

THE MALLORY DIVORCE. Margaret Mallory was granted a divorce from Arza Mallory by Judge Monroe yesterday, on the ground of desertion. The parties have been married for eighteen years and have a boy 17 years old. The wife came to this city over a year ago for her health and at the solicitation of her husband. After she left her home in the East, however, the husband never sent any money for the support of his wife, and when she telegraphed he refused to respond. Finally he, too, came to this city, but never went near his wife.

PLAIN DESERTION. Lewis A. Scholes was granted a divorce from Christine Scholes by Judge Oster yesterday, sitting in Department Three, on the ground of desertion. A year ago the wife told her husband frankly that she was tired of him and that she was aching for a change. She packed her trunk and left for San Francisco, and that is the last he heard of her.

LIKED SPREEING. Lester U. Stutsman married at Cheyenne on January 31, 1899, but after a few years of married life his wife left him. She loved to go out on a drunken spree and one day when her husband and mother-in-law both remonstrated with her she became indignant and left the house. The next the husband heard was when she was arrested and placed in jail. He hurried to bail her out, but found that some other friend had got ahead. Judge Conrey granted the decree to the husband.

THE DOUGHERTY CONTEST. Martha and Charles Dougherty are contesting over a divorce, and all of yesterday was taken up in presenting the case for the consideration of Judge Bordwell. The parties married in 1898 at Artesia. The wife claims that her husband deserted her two years ago, and that having come to this city to visit her folks when she returned she discovered that her husband had skipped out. The husband denies the desertion, but says that he went to Indio for his health.

COUNTY'S CAUSE CELEBRE.

MORE LEONIS LITIGATION.

The fighting in court over the estate of Miguel Leonis has lasted for about eighteen years, and, with collateral suits at law growing out of it, is still very much in evidence.

The suit of Maria Espiritu Chipulla de Leonis, the old Indian wife of the Basque sheep herder who became a millionaire, who has nothing to show for the vast fortune accumulated by her husband save the homestead upon which she lives, has a suit against Elizabeth Murray, and a number of others pending in the District Court of Appeals. In the years long gone by Justice Smith was one of the attorneys in the case, and consequently is now disqualified from sitting when the case comes up on review. The Supreme Court of the State has paid Judge Trask the compliment of appointing him as justice pro tempore for the purpose of hearing this case on appeal, instead of appointing a justice from one of the other districts.

This is the first time since the District Court sprang into being that it has been found necessary to appoint a temporary justice in any of the districts.

THE OIL INDUSTRY.

ASSOCIATED IMPROVES LINE.

COMBINE TO INCREASE CAPACITY OF ITS PIPE.

New Pumps to be Put in and 10,000 Barrels May be Handled—Deep Wells at Kern—One Year's Storage in Kansas Nearly Equals Five in California.

The Associated's pipe line from Coalinga to Monterey is to be increased in capacity by the installation of twelve pumps in addition to the six already in operation. This is expected to enable the six-inch line to carry a much greater amount of oil. Its present capacity is about 7000 barrels a day. With the added power close to 10,000 barrels may be handled. The pumps are the Dow 16x5x12 variety.

With all this addition to its capacity the line can hardly come up to the big one now planned by the Producers' Union Company, which will be ten inches in diameter, the largest on the Pacific Coast. The right of way has now been secured.

NEW SAND AT KERN RIVER?

The deep well on the Petroleum Development's property on section 24 in the northwest portion of the field, which was rumored some time ago to have good indications of light oil, is now down about 2100 feet with nothing new being reported to indicate that there was any substantial foundation for the stories circulated.

The well that is being sunk by F. M. Carmen is down 2400 feet and is still in the shale similar to that found at Santa Maria above the light-oil sand. This has now continued for several hundred feet. There is much gas.

KANSAS PRODUCTION.

That production is growing in the Kansas, or what is now being frequently called the Mid-Continent field, is shown by the pipe-line reports of the Prairie Oil and Gas Company (Standard) for the first fourteen days of July, which were the heaviest on record, amounting to a total of 472,305.33 barrels—daily average, 33,736.10. The deliveries to consumers on the other hand are given as only 4548.21 daily average, and a total of 91,674.88 for the month, leaving a balance for storage of 205,630.50 barrels. These are the official figures of the Standard given in the Oil City Derrick.

These would indicate a probable production of close to a million barrels for the month. The pipe-line runs were increased by the completion of the Whiting line and by enlarged storage facilities. The runs on a number of days during the two weeks exceeded 50,000 barrels. On July 13 the runs from the Indian Territory fields alone amounted to 38,000 barrels and 10,000 more came from the Cleveland pool at the extreme western edge of the Osage district. A year ago the entire product of this district, where there are now several big pipe lines in operation, was handled in tank cars and about sixteen cars a day were shipped from Bartlesville with occasional cars from other points. Seven million barrels have been placed in storage by the Standard during the year, the price paid ranging up to $1.25 a barrel, the average being about $1.

In this State the Standard has not succeeded in accumulating more than ten million barrels at Kern River during the five years that field has been in existence, that being the highest estimate ever placed upon its present storage. During three years the Associated has never had one million barrels in storage at the field. The California oil has sold for a fraction of the price of Kansas oil, but it has found an ever-growing market as fuel with practically no competition, while the Kansas output has gone chiefly in the old lines of refining work. The storage at Kern River comprises by far the greater part of that in this State.

We Write Advertisements

Got something to sell?
Then advertise.
But first decide where to advertise, how much to spend, when to begin, and what to say.
We've been working along these lines in Los Angeles for the past five years. During this period we have purchased for our clients newspaper space to the amount of a quarter of a million dollars.
We invest in advertising each year more than $30,000 for one firm alone.
We have tested the pulling power of different newspapers, not once, but hundreds of times, not in one way, but in dozens of different ways.
We have tabulated results of advertising campaigns ranging from $50.00 per month up to $4,000 per month.
We are paid each month by thirty local concerns to pass judgment on what papers they should use, how much they should spend, and to confer with them on matters pertaining to their advertising and business policy.
When we direct the advertising for a firm we utilize facts and information which have cost thousands of dollars.
No other individual advertising firm or other business institution has the inside knowledge which we have for our guidance.
We do not promise a golden harvest for every man who advertises. But we do believe that if there is any way of putting an enterprise on a money-making basis that we can accomplish it.
We do know that we have turned failure into success.
If you will ask any newspaper man who, in his judgment, is the surest, safest man to get behind your advertising, he will tell you—"Better go see the

LOOLOOS WIN EASY FIGHT.

Hogan is Hit Hard and Often and Team Behind Him Gives Very Poor Support—Baum Pitches Well and Bats in One Run—Smith Steals Three Bases in One Inning.

Los Angeles, 7; Oakland, 2.

If the Commuters had been paid seven bags of stage money to read a "detective's" they couldn't have felt or acted any worse about it. Just when Peter Fishtail dives down with his airship and rescues Agamemnon the heiress from the green automobile in which three villians are eloping with her at ninety-three miles an hour, the Commuters began to throw things around and after that it was as easy as being the treasurer or walking delegate of the teamsters' union. All we had to do was to take what we needed and let someone else stand good for it when it came time for us to skip.

The principal cause of the trouble was Baum, who must have imagined himself some cheap street railway manager who wouldn't transfer a fellow from one of his own city lines to another one for fear he might accommodate somebody. He grabbed about everything in sight for himself and wouldn't give up any more than he was forced to, showing that he possesses the principal qualifications of a great, good and wealthy gentleman.

Looking the other way one could observe that Hogan was not unlike the pure preserved fruits and jam put up by some of the rich firms of this city. He was considered pure because the label said so; but when you made an examination it was ascertained that the principal ingredients were shoe laces, horse hide, fish glue, diamond dye and sulphuric acid and various other things with which Chicago's fashionable meat packers preserve the meat they sell the American soldiers. When the Looloos found this out they slapped him all over the lot. What he did have wasn't worth noticing at all and in addition to it the fellows behind him thought they were playing hide and seek with the ball and generally managed to get it in every place but the right one. As the result the game wasn't much of an exhibition of baseball. Kitty Brashear had a bad day, too, and one of his errors helped the visitors to get a run.

There were no particular alarms except the wild exceptions the visitors made to Bray's umpiring. Bill Devereaux wanted to know of Bray if he could see a certain easy out at first base and Bray raised him $5 worth. Byrnes had a little altercation with the umpire that didn't do him any good financially.

Oakland got its first run on singles by Hogan and Van Haltren and Francks' long fly to center and the second on Brashear's error of Strub's grounder, Strub's steal, Devereaux's out at first and Byrnes' fly to center. The Looloos made their first on two errors and a single; the next on a single and a double; the next two on a fielder's choice, a double, a single and an error and the next three on three singles, four steals, a pass, and an error. It was all very easy and less than a thousand fans were present.

The real thrill of the game was in the eighth inning when Jud Smith singled and then stole to second, third and the home plate.

KEEFE WINS FOR TACOMA.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—The inability of the home team to connect with Keefe's delivery won the game for Tacoma, today, by a score of 4 to 0. Keefe was in fine form. He struck out eight men and allowed but three hits. Williams walked three men, and was batted for eight hits, three of them in the last inning. Score:

GOLFING AT GLENVIEW.

MANY CLUBS REPRESENTED.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, July 25.—Play in the seventh annual western golf championship at the Glenview links was begun today with the qualifying round of thirty-six holes. Golfing conditions were ideal, and the championship course was trimmed for fast medal scoring. Titleholder H. Chandler Egan and about a score of young and dangerous rivals were in the field that was dispatched for the morning round of eighteen holes. About sixty golfers from twenty-five clubs assisted in giving the field a high-class stamp. Pittsburgh, with T. Fownes, and Denver with the Pacific Coast champion, Walter Fairbanks, were prominent in the list.

Norris Bokum of the home club, and his young partner, G. F. Clingman, had the honor of driving the first balls before the dew was off the green. Experts figured that the low score for the qualification would be two 80s. Thirty-two golfers qualified for the first round of match play.

E. R. Hunter, a Midlothian star, with a card of 76, furnished the sensation of the morning. This mark is not likely to be beaten. The card is:

Out—4 4 5 5 4 5 4 4 3—38.
In—4 3 4 5 3 6 5 4 4—38—76.

More than half the starters began poorly, putting in to the trough from the first tee. Rain began to fall before the morning round was concluded. With all of the morning round completed, G. A. Miller of Detroit, with a total of 80, held second honors.

When the afternoon round was begun, there were 21 under 90. Most of the players started better than they did in the morning. Champion H. Chandler Egan was off his game, and finished one-half of the qualifying round with a total of 88.

SPECTACULAR CLEAN-UP.

G. C. BENNETT MAKES $60,000.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

BRIGHTON BEACH, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] G. C. Bennett, western turf man and his friends, made one of the most spectacular clean-ups of the season on Au Revoir this afternoon. The Bennett horse was pounded from 7 to 1 down to 2 to 1 at post time, and Bennett and his following netted $60,000.

Au Revoir was one of the "bottled-up good things," that are every once in a while shoved over. On his last race he could not have been expected to beat the field he showed his heels to this afternoon. So well was the coup engineered that the money was down before the high-stool gentlemen realized how badly they were stung. Men were stationed in front of every book, and as soon as the odds were posted, they shoved up the money.

HUNTINGTON BROUGHT MONEY.

"KILLING" AT BRIGHTON BEACH.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—One of the biggest killings of the year occurred at Brighton Beach today, in the last race, when Huntington came home an easy winner. He opened at 8 to 1, but money began to pour into the ring. His price fell to 2 to 1, and while the horses were at the post, others were still betting on him. It is estimated that at least $50,000 was taken out of the ring on Huntington's victory. Results:

Six furlongs: Chinoona won, Veno second, Remington third; time 1:15.

One mile and a sixteenth: Au Revoir won, Geranium second, Don Royal third; time 1:45 2-5.

Six furlongs: Rosseben won, Israelite second, Robador third; time 1:14 1-5.

One mile and a furlong: The Southerner won, St. Valentine second, Palm Tree third; time 1:53 3-5.

Five and a half furlongs: Water Cress won, Vio second, Lady Toddington third; time 1:06 3-5.

MARKSMEN FROM ARMY.

FORT SHERIDAN TARGET SHOOT.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

CHICAGO, July 25.—Nearly two hundred of the best marksmen in the United States army contested for honors in the annual target competition of the northwestern division, begun yesterday at Fort Sheridan.

Eighteen States are represented in the contest, which will last a week. The twenty-two men winning the highest scores will represent the division in a competition between the divisions of the army to be held at Fort Sheridan August 3.

Sergt. Clark of the Twenty-third Infantry made 50 out of a possible 50 shots at a range of 500 yards. The men making the five highest scores were Sergt. Chester Sanders and Privates Alfred Bjornsted, Thomas Critchet, Charles Hern and Thomas Baldwin.

The first two days of the contest will be devoted to the preliminary, in which forty-four men will be chosen.

HAL CHASE ON DECK.

WILL START PLAYING SATURDAY

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Hal Chase, the Los Angeles youngster, who has earned the distinction of being the greatest first baseman in the American League, will get back into the game again Saturday, when the Highlanders open with Cleveland for the first game of the second invasion by the western clubs.

CURE FOR HAY FEVER

Your Druggist Says Hyomei Will Give Relief—Sold Under Guarantee.

When Hyomei is used as a preventive, or a cure, there will be no hay fever. We advise daily treatment with Hyomei for two or three weeks before the usual time for the annual appearance of hay fever. If this is done, the attack will be prevented. However, if the preventive treatment is not started soon enough, and the disease makes its appearance, use Hyomei six or seven times daily, and relief will be given at once.

There is no stomach dosing when Hyomei is used. Breathed through the neat pocket inhaler that comes with every outfit, its medicated air reaches the minutest air cells, killing all germs and soothing and healing the irritated mucous membrane.

The complete Hyomei outfit costs but $1, extra bottles 50 cents. It is the only treatment for hay fever sold under a guarantee to refund the money if it does not give satisfaction.

If you cannot get Hyomei of your druggist, it will be sent, postpaid, on receipt of price, $1.00 for complete outfit. 50 cents for extra bottles. THE R. T. BOOTH CO., Hyomei Bldg., Ithaca, N. Y.

Owner Frank Farrell said to The Times correspondent this afternoon that Chase had a very narrow escape and the injury had almost deprived the game of a player whom he believed was destined to be the greatest of his time.

"Chase, after being struck on the cheek bone in Chicago," said Farrell, "suffered greatly with headaches, and for a time we feared for the worst. He could not eat anything but liquid food, and was in constant pain. He fell away alarmingly, and a long rest was compulsory.

"Ever since he got back to New York, he has been improving, and will jump into harness again Saturday, better than ever. He has the making of the greatest player of his day. He is the most cheerful, willing lad I ever saw, and the whole team is stuck on him. Doc Newton is practicing regularly, and will pitch a game or two next week. I think the Highlander hoodoo has fled, so henceforth look out for fast climbing."

INTERLAKE YACHTING.

TWENTY-SIX CONTESTANTS.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—A.M.]

PUT-IN BAY (O.) July 25.—There were twenty-six entries to the various events when the first gun was fired for the first race of the Interlake Yachting Association meeting today. The boats started with a light wind, which steadily freshed.

CAN'T HAVE THEM.

SAINTS LOSE FOOTBALL MEN.

In spite of reports to the contrary, Acker and De Lappe, the famous U. S. C. football players will not go to St. Vincent College this fall. They have refused to play on any team in Southern California as arrangements have already been made, it is said, for both to play behind the line of one of the big Middle West elevens.

Frank Acker is undoubtedly one of the best halfbacks on a western football team, and De Lappe, his team mate, plays his position at fullback like a veteran.

Latonia Results.

Pen Points

When the Czar gets back to Russia after seeing the Kaiser, he'll have the goods with him.

Perhaps the riot in Nijni Novgorod was caused by a foreigner trying to pronounce the name as it is spelled.

With O'Yama commanding her armies and O'Kuma running things at Tokio, it is now seen that the Irish have Japan completely at their mercy.

The Japs will show Mr. Taft a lot of things, while he's among them, but it's safe to say they won't show him their hand. That's something they never show anybody.

The Indiana anti-cigarette law is evidently a dead letter. But it will come out all right, anyhow, if they just let nature take its course. Give the smokers time and they, as well as the law, will be dead.

It is no surprise that western roads are ordering all the steel rails in sight. We're mighty busy out West, just now, and it takes a good many new rails to do us at the rate we're wearing the old ones out.

It isn't hard to guess what was said at that historic meeting in the Gulf of Finland. The Kaiser is no fool, and only a fool could fail to realize the tight place the Czar is in.

That $10 raise which the trans-Atlantic steamers are about to put on the steerage rates, may be just what's needed to hold back the terrific hordes of Southern Europe that have been landing on the nation's eastern edge.

There are two ways by which you can infallibly spot a tenderfoot. One is that he will invariably call San Francisco "Frisco," and the other is his habit of using "Calif." as an abbreviation for California. Both of which are sins and abominations.

Komura throws out some hope to the United States, even though he doesn't say much that's comforting to Russia. He says Japanese emigration will be diverted from this country to Korea. Banzai, and likewise hurroo!

We learn that Mr. Taft has already received a welcome to Tokio through the Hochi, which is Count Okuma's organ. But, don't they use brass bands over there at all, that they can't do any better than trot out a blamed old organ to welcome a big man like William H. Taft?

There are not so many fleas hopping about Los Angeles and the anatomies of the inhabitants thereof this year as there were last year, but what few we have are eminently industrious and conscientious in their efforts to sustain the ancient reputation of the tribe for perspicacity and sesidulty.

After trying for 285 years to regulate their beastly climate, and the thing being in no better shape now than it was the year after the pilgrim fathers landed on Plymouth Rock, we should think the people of the Atlantic seaboard would give it up for a bad job and move to California en masse.

There are earthquakes flying around all over the globe, from Maine to Austria and back again to Mexico, but here in California we've got the ground nailed down now with such an all-fired lot of new buildings that old terra firma is at last worthy of the title and couldn't hump herself if she tried.

Philadelphia is apparently determined to shrive herself even if she must call in outside help to do it. And, if it be true that President Roosevelt is taking a hand in the affair, those rotten pothouse politicians like Penrose, Durham and Nichols should lose no time in hunting up good, big, tall trees and climbing them without delay.

It was a long session they had of it, these two Emperors, off Bjoerkoe Island. They smoked a few cigars, maybe, and possibly they took a drink or two together, but the chances are they used most of the time for talk. That is to say Emperor William used most of the time for talk, and it's safe to bet that the talk was straight from the shoulder, too.

The bugle blew taps above him, the guns fired their last salute, and then, at long last, they laid the Prince of Sailormen away to everlasting rest in the land he loved and fought so well to free. The Wanderer is returned, the sailor is home from the sea. Here will he bide, nor ever roam again. Peace to the ashes of Paul Jones, and God save the republic.

The news item recently printed concerning a woman who married a man "by affirmation" did not state whether the affirmation was made legally or logically. If the former was the case then they made a solemn declaration of the fact before a magistrate. If the latter, then they subjected themselves to the two terms of a proposition so as to produce a statement of judgment, for so does logic regard affirmation. But whichever way it was, we wish the happy couple good luck and a houseful of the logical conclusions of all well-intentioned combinations of a marital character.

MEETING OF THE EMPERORS.

The meeting between the Emperors of Russia and Germany, reported from Bjoerkoe Island in the Gulf of Finland, may yet occupy more than an ordinary place in history. There can be no question that the Czar sought out the Kaiser for the purpose of receiving the benefit of the German's advice. What advice it was that the Kaiser gave, and whether or not the Czar will follow and profit by it, the world must wait to know.

However, while it is a mere matter of guesswork as to what transpired at the meeting of the monarchs, it seems fair to assume that the Kaiser has left the Czar fully informed as to the real situation confronting him at the present fateful hour. It seems safe to assume that the Czar was advised to make peace with Japan if the same can be accomplished with honor and without undergoing undue or unwarranted humiliation. That he was, moreover, further advised to make peace with his own people, and to grant them at least some measure of representative government, it is also fair to assume. The Kaiser is known to favor peace between Russia and Japan. He is regarded as a man of farseeing judgment and, therefore, cannot but know that it is absolutely imperative that the demands of the Russian people for a voice in their own political affairs must be favorably met, at least to some extent. The Kaiser being friendly to both the Czar and Russia, we may, then, take it for granted that he has set the Czar "right."

Another great point which this meeting emphasizes is the fact that the German Emperor is today the one great, towering figure in the politics of Europe. He is the one man who must be either consulted or reckoned with before any important step can be taken by any of the powers, or by any combination of powers. In the diplomacy of Europe his is the master hand. Back of him stands a nation that fears no other on either land or sea. As fighting machines the army and navy of Prussia are in perfect condition. Prussia is strong, and the strongest man of the day sits on her throne.

During the next few days or weeks, we may confidently look for important developments in the Russian situation. That these developments may prove such as will make for that great nation's peace, prosperity and happiness, should be the wish of all the world, and especially of America whom Russia so signally befriended in more than one trying hour.

THE GILMAN MECHANICAL MAMA.

After all, there may be much wisdom in the theories advanced by Mrs. Charlotte Perkins Stetson Gilman now lecturing in Los Angeles.

It may be that a human mother is an archaic, unscientific institution, who has outlived her usefulness and should be abolished. The same work can be done cheaper and better with an incubator.

As we grow more enlightened, children will be raised in broods under strictly scientific conditions.

They will be spanked by squads with a revolving paddle in which the mechanism will be nicely adjusted according to the exact degree of moral turpitude.

Sixty-two revolutions per minute for stealing blackberry jam; thirty-six revolutions with sandpaper on the paddles for tying tin cans on dogs' tails.

Emergencies such as hurt fingers and hurt feelings will be duly provided for. An arrangement similar to a hammock will take the place of mother's comforting arms; soothing lullabies suitable for such contingencies will be provided by phonograph.

"B-r-r-r—Don't cry little g-b-r-r-r—girl, don't c b-r-r-r-r—cry ——"

It must be confessed that at first there seem to be some difficulties in the scheme of abolishing mothers. For instance the foolish sentiment that has been thrown around these perfectly useless members of society.

The public will soon become accustomed to the change however. Behold the future melodrama.

"Stop sir: do with me what you will but dare not to besmirch the sacred memory of my poor old gray haired incubator."

Again the famous forsaken heroine! No more will she say weepingly, "Mother, mother why do you desert your unhappy che-ild! Oh that I could feel your dear arms about me now!"

Instead she will say, "Incy pinky, lift the lid and lemme come back in."

This doesn't seem so convincing at first; but pshaw, we will soon get used to it. Before long authors will be thus dedicating their books:

"To the memory of my beloved kerosene lamp that incubated me; to whom I owe all."

THE MEETING PLACE.

The little city of Portsmouth on the coast of New Hampshire has been suddenly lifted into world prominence. It has been selected as the meeting place of the peace commissioners who are to discuss the conditions under which Russia and Japan shall cease hostilities, lay down their arms, withdraw their mighty armies from the field of conflict, and resume those amicable relations which ordinary intercourse between two great nations renders imperative.

It has not been unusual in times past for powerful nations to hold their peace conferences in unimportant towns, away from the political influences of great capitals, and from the disturbing atmosphere of commerce and trade. Napoleon signed the terms of peace between France and Prussia in 1807 at the little town of Tilsit, and gave it historic fame. The treaty of peace between the United States and Great Britain which ended the war of 1812 was signed at Ghent, an interior Belgian city. It was at Amiens, a cathedral city between Paris and the North Sea, that representatives of the signatory powers met in 1802 and fixed the terms of peace between Great Britain and France. Aix-la-Chapelle, in the Prussian Rhine province, has been selected three times for the adjustment of differences between the western nations of Europe.

But Portsmouth already had the distinction of being a United States naval station; or rather, the navy yard itself is just across the river in Kittery, Maine. At that point the government is just finishing the "big general store building," which is to be suitably fitted up for the occasion, and it is in this unpretentious place that the grave affairs of state, involving the future destiny of two great empires, and affecting the welfare of every civilized nation on the globe, will be discussed.

While the conference will be designated, and known in history, as the Washington Conference, the formal negotiations will take place at the government navy yard in Kittery, Me., opposite Portsmouth, but the plenipotentiaries will be accommodated at the Portsmouth hotels.

MIRACLES.

What prescient mortal knows
Whence springs the music of the note
That gushes from the songster's throat?
What soul by musing may disclose
The mystery of the garden? How the rose
Scents every wind that blows?

What bosom ever knew
Wherein the splendor of the dream,
Or beauty of the rainbow's beam?
And whence the mastery of the dew
That grasps with impulse strong and true
A heaven of gold and blue?

What passionate longing brings
The mystic vision large and free
That gives the prophet power to see
Beneath the outer husk of things,
To soar on far-off journeyings,
Without the gift of wings?

What wisdom may reveal
The miracle of the poet's art
That fires his brain and stirs his heart?
And whence the secret of his zeal
That dares provoke a world to feel

Education Won.

On a warm and sultry day two tramps were playing a game of poker behind a haystack. One of them dealt.

"What are you going to bet?" he asked the other.

"Good! I'll just make it a billion dollars."

"I'll see your billion, and, just to make it interesting, I'll raise you a trillion dollars."

"Whem! you must have a good hand. But I'll stay and go you just a quadrillion better."

The other tramp hesitated and looked at his cards intently. Finally he said:

"The pot is yours. You win on education."—[Judge.

PEOPLE OF THE COAST.

Con O'Keefe, of Nogales, Treasurer of Santa Cruz, Ariz., has, by the death of an uncle in Texas, fallen heir to a fortune estimated at $2,000,000.

Congressman Smith of Bakersfield has gone for an outing to the Giant Forest in Tulare county. He expects to extend his tour to Mount Whitney.

In the June number of the American Geologist is printed an article on "The Pegmatite Views of Pala, San Diego County," written by Gerald A. Waring.

Charles Rollo Peters, the California artist, has found time, in the intervals between pictures, to invent a steak broiler which epicures pronounce a success.

Horace Campbell of Portland has just completed what is said to be the smallest working engine in the world. It is 10x4 inches and is a rotary machine.

Rev. W. K. Bean of Los Angeles is in Portland and last Sunday occupied the pulpit in the Centenary Methodist Episcopal Church, of which he was formerly pastor.

Ernest Wheeler of Ukiah, who has been employed in the Bureau of Construction in the Philippines for the past three years, has returned to Manila after spending a vacation in his old home.

a young geologist of Fallbrook.

Mrs. K. Brandigee, a botanist of San Diego, left Visalia a few days since for the Sierra, where she hopes to find some rare flora, indigenous to the mountain region.

Rev. Frederick B. J. Lloyd, recently elected bishop coadjutor of the Episcopal diocese of Oregon, has formally cancelled his acceptance of the position. His action was the result of a protest against Mr. Lloyd's confirmation filed by five rectors of the diocese.

Henry C. Finckler, who, for twenty years has been secretary of the Supreme Court, is nearly ready to make a trial of an airship on which he has been working a long time. Mr. Finckler says that his craft will not have a propeller but that the means of propulsion will remain his secret until a public exhibition occurs.

George A. Barry, editor of the Santa Paula Chronicle, received a letter a few days since from his son Richard, who is now at Gen. Nogi's headquarters in Manchuria. The latter writes: "Last week at Gen. Nogi's tent we drank the health of the Emperor and Togo in honor of the destruction of the Russian fleet, since then—nothing."

J. Burritt, a mining man, now residing in Colorado, is visiting his sister, Mrs. A. W. Sumner, in San José. The brother and sister have not seen each other for fifty years. Since they parted back in Wisconsin half a century ago, Mr. Burritt's life has been filled with adventure. During the Civil War he served as commissary sergeant in Kit Carson's regiment.

TALKS WITH TRAVELERS.

"I am astonished at the splendid car service here. I intend to learn what I can and change the street-car system of Lima from one of horse to trolley traction on this model." This is what Señor de Velasco of Lima, Peru, said to a Times reporter in the lobby of the Angelus yesterday.

Señor de Velasco is practically the sole owner of the street-car system of Lima, the capital of Peru, and one of the richest men of that country. With his wife, family and secretary, E. Zevallos, he came to the United States some time ago, intending to make heavy purchases in the East. But since he has been in California he has changed his mind completely, and will purchase almost his entire plant on the Pacific Coast.

"We have a concession, what you call a franchise, for sixty years that gives us a monopoly in the whole town," he went on to say, explaining his plans. "Up to date horse cars have had to be sufficient for the people of Lima. We have about thirty miles of lines at that. But recently electric lines were tried at a seaside town near the capital, a summer resort for the Lima people. These were such a success that I came to this country to examine the different systems and make inquiries for the purchase of a plant.

"And really I have been astonished and delighted with what I have seen of Los Angeles. Although I only arrived today, I have serious intentions of buying a residence here. The city, the climate and the surroundings are so charming that I can appreciate the truth of all that people have told me about the city. But I never expected to find such a modern and elaborate city. Such hotels as these, and such buildings come as a surprise to me. The cities in the East I have found either extremely hot or extremely cold and unpleasantly damp at all times.

"I came to this country, with the intention of making heavy contracts in the East. But what I saw in San Francisco was an enlightenment to me.

"I came down here for pleasure. But I am going to write for letters and credentials that I may be shown something of this system of the electric cars. I am told they travel sixty miles an hour and over.

"People in this country know surprisingly little of my country. Down there we are more or less conversant with conditions over here. But there is an enormously rich field for capital and enterprise in Peru that Americans are only just beginning to appreciate."

As becomes a man who has got a monopoly of the street cars in a large capital, Señor de Velasco looks very much an American captain of industry. Although a wealthy man, he dresses quietly and unobstrusively. He talks English, French and German besides his native Spanish.

Two Elihu Roots.

It is as well to remember the highly important fact that there are two Elihu Root—the shrewd, far-seeing attorney and the equally shrewd and thoroughly devoted public servant. It is only six years or so ago since Elihu Root, the attorney, had a New York client who meditated a profitable deal with the Havana authorities. He did the best he could for this client, and prepared for him a contract which needed only sound anchorage at the other end to transfer several millions of Havana money to the bank account of the New York philanthropist.

Not long afterwards Mr. Root became Secretary of War under Mr. McKinley, and therefore, during the period of our occupation, trustee and attorney for the island of Cuba. In this latter capacity Secretary of War Root promptly turned down the bargain which Attorney Root had done his best to expedite. The would-be contractor, whose standards had been modeled on those of Tammany, could not understand it. He doesn't understand today. He's like that sick man who couldn't take a full bottle of champagne every morning because he only held a pint, but the incident is worth recalling at this time for it sheds an illuminating light upon one aspect of Mr. Root's character.—[Chicago Tribune.

THE PRINCE OF SAILORMEN.

By Franklin Jordan.

Who comes from out the nether gloom
Where flags are flaunting high;
Who comes, a demi-god of war?
No answer; no reply.

John Paul Jones was one of those heroes of genius who make a great deal to write about. In 1777, he sailed for France in the Ranger, and when in that country the confidence felt in him by Franklin and Vergennes was such that he received orders to proceed in that vessel to the British coast, to operate there against the enemy at his own discretion. On this cruise he captured the British frigate Drake, and seized a number of valuable prizes. In May 9, 1777, he was commissioned to command the Amphitrite, but was unable to obtain force enough to properly man his ship, and it was not until August 13, 1779, that he was again ready to take the offensive. On that day he sailed on an old Indiaman (the Duke of Duras) which he called, in compliment to Franklin, the Bon Homme Richard, and with which he was able to associate the Alliance, the Pallas and one smaller vessel officered by Frenchmen, though under the American flag.

The particulars of the oft-told story of that terrible engagement resulting in the capture of the Serapis, are now familiar to all. During that fight Paul Jones was severely wounded in the head, which afterward greatly affected his eyes, and at various times he received other injuries, but there is no mention of his wounds in any of his official reports. His wound and the hardships he had undergone kept him closely confined at L'Orient for some time; but when he was able to visit Paris he was the hero of the hour. He sat in the Queen's box at the opera, and on his first appearance the audience rose and cheered him. At the end of the performance a laurel wreath was suspended from the ceiling directly over his head.

He rose quietly and moved away; an instance of modesty which is to this day held up as a model to French school boys.

The King gave him a superb gold-hilted sword inscribed "Ludovicus XVI, Remunerator strenuo vindici." Jones mentions that it was much handsomer than the one presented to Lafayette. The sword descended to his lifelong friend and first lieutenant, Richard Dale, the heirs of whom presented it to the Pennsylvania Historical Society, where it now is. It cost about $2400, a large sum in those days. Lieut. Dale could fight better than he could spell, and in his correspondence refers to a "pair of blue britches."

There is no doubt that our hero was a lion among the ladies, but there is no evidence to show that his character suffered in any way by contact with the easy going, and not very austere women who frequented the courts when the winds began to howl and the storm began to beat upon the house of Bourbon. The Countess Laventhal de Bourbon is mentioned as one more renowned for wit than discretion. She painted Paul Jones's portrait and wrote verses under it. He so far lost his head over this lady that he wrote her most violent love letters, enclosing locks of his hair, and asked her to take care of his sword on his approaching voyage to America, and to correspond with him in cipher. The court was fearfully corrupt, and what could such a bluff, open-hearted sailor do in such an atmosphere? The remarkable fact remains, however, that of over 1300 letters written by him and now preserved, there is not a single coarse expression, and no woman's name is mentioned except in terms of the highest respect.

The landing on St. Mary's Isle thoroughly alarmed the coasts. When the Ranger was seen beating up the Solway toward the "lang town o' Kircaldy," the frightened people assembled on the shore, and presently down came their "meenister," the Rev. Mr. Shirra, lugging a huge arm chair, which he flung down on the shore and then plumped himself violently into it. He was short of breath, and very angry with the Deity for permitting such doings as Paul Jones's; and puffing and blowing, he made the following prayer that tradition has preserved:

"Now, Lord, dinna Ye think it a shame for Ye to send this vile pirate to rob our folk o' Kircaldy? For Ye ken they are puir enough already, and hae nothing to spare. They are all fairly guid, and it wad be a pity to serve them in sic a wa'. The wa' the wind blows, he'll be here in a jiffy, and wha kens what he may do? He is nane too guid for onything. Muckle's the mischief he has done already. Ony pocket gear they hae gathered together, he will gang wi' the whole o't, and maybe burn their houses, tak' their cla'es, and strip them to their sarks. And wae's me. Wha kens but the bluidy villain may tak' their lives? The puir women are maist frightened out o' their wuts, and the bairns skreeking after them. I canna tho't it. I hae been long a faithfu' servant to Ye, Lord, but gin Ye dinna turn the wind about, and blow the scoundrel out o' our gate, I'll nae stir a foot, but just sit here until the tide comes in and drowns me. Sae tak' Your wull o't Lord."

In the perilous situation in Holland the conduct of Jones drew the Dutch into the war, and eventually abridged the revolution. He received in addition to the sword already mention from King Louis XVI, the Order of Military Merit. Congress bestowed upon him the following honors: The thanks of the United States, April 14, 1781; election as first officer of the navy, June 26, 1781, and a gold medal, October 16, 1787.

In 1783 he entered temporarily the Russian service as rear-admiral, in which capacity he still continued to exhibit his genius for command. He returned to Paris in 1790, and when there received the appointment of commissioner and consul to Algiers. He died, however, before his commission reached him. His life in France was beset with many storms. His troubles with Landais, with his own officers, with the French authorities and with Arthur Lee, are, together with the incidents of his own splendid naval achievements, his daring, his chivalry, and his generosity, in striking contrast.

His seamanship was superb. There is that wonderful account by Cooper of his piloting an American frigate among the shoals off the coast of Scotland in a gale:

"'Tis a perilous thing to loosen canvas in such a tempest,' observed the doubtful captain.

"'It must be done,' returned the collected stranger; 'we perish without it. See! the light already touches the edge of the hom-moc; the sea casts to leeward.'

"'It shall be done,' cried the first lieutenant, seizing the trumpet from the hands of the pilot.

"The orders of the lieutenant were executed almost as soon as issued, and everything being ready, the enormous folds of the mainsail were trusted, loose to the blast. There was an instant, when the result was doubtful, the tremendous thrashing of the heavy sail, seeming to bid defiance to all restraint, shaking the ship to her center; but art and strength prevailed, and gradually the canvas was distended, and as it filled, was drawn down to its usual place by the power of a hundred men. The vessel yielded to this immense addition of force, and bowed before it like a reed bending to a breeze. But the success of the measure was announced by a joyful cry from the pilot, that seemed to burst from his inmost soul:

"'She feels it! she springs her luff! Observe,' he said, 'the light opens from the hom-moc already; if she will only bear her canvas we shall go clear.'

"A report, like that of a cannon, interrupted his exclamation, and something resembling a white cloud was seen drifting before the wind from the head of the ship, till it was driven into the gloom far to leeward.

"'Tis the jib blown from the bolt-ropes,' said the commander of the frigate. 'This is no time to spread light duck; but the mainsail may stand yet.'

"'The sail would laugh at a tornado,' returned the lieutenant; "but that mast springs like a piece of steel."

"'Silence, all!' cried the pilot. 'Now, gentlemen, you shall soon know your fate. Let her luff; luff you can.'

"This warning effectually closed all discourse, and the hardy mariners, knowing that they had already done all in the power of man to insure their safety, stood in breathless anxiety awaiting the result. At a short distance ahead of them the whole ocean was white with foam, and the waves, instead of rolling on in regular succession, appeared to be tossing about in mad gambols. A single streak of dark billows, not half a cable's length in width, could be discerned running into this chaos of water; but it was soon lost to the eye, amid the confusion of the disturbed element. Along this narrow path the vessel moved more heavily than before, being brought so near the wind as to keep her sails touching.

"The pilot silently proceeded to the wheel, and with his own hands he undertook the steerage of the ship. No noise, proceeded from the frigate to interrupt the horrid tumult of the ocean, and she entered the channel among the breakers with the silence of a desperate calmness. Twenty times, as the foam rolled away to leeward, the crew were on the eve of uttering their joy, as they supposed the vessel past the danger; but breaker after breaker would still rise before them, following each other into the general mass, to check their exultation. Occasionally, the fluttering of the sails would be heard; and when the looks of the startled seamen were turned to the wheel, they beheld the pilot grasping its spokes, with his quick eye glancing from the water to the canvas. At length the ship reached a point where she appeared to be running directly into the jaws of destruction, when suddenly her course was changed, and her head receded rapidly from the wind. At the same instant the voice of the pilot was heard, shouting:

"'Square away the yards!—in mainsail!'

"A general burst from the crew echoed 'Square away the yards!' and quick as thought, the frigate was seen gliding along the channel, before the wind. The eye had hardly time to dwell on the foam, which seemed like clouds driving in the heavens, and directly the gallant vessel issued from her perils, and rose and fell on the heavy waves of the open sea."

It has been generally believed that Paul Jones died poor and neglected. On the contrary, he was attended by an eminent doctor, formerly physican to the Queen, and Gouverneur Morris, who was then American Minister at Paris, paid him every attention. The end came to the great captain July 18, 1792, when in the afternoon he was induced to draw up his will, leaving Robert Morris as sole executor. He was then able to sit up in an arm chair. At 8 o'clock the Queen's physician came, and on entering his bedroom, there on the bed, face downward, lay the lifeless body of Paul Jones.

In America he was the ranking officer of the navy; in France he was a chevalier of the Most Noble Order of Military Merit; in Great Britain he was a "traitor, pirate and felon," with a price of 10,000 guineas put upon his head; and at one time forty-two ships of the line were scouring the seas in search of him.

MINES AND MINING.

WHAT IT COSTS TO SHIP ORE.

VIA LAS VEGAS AND BY WAY OF TONOPAH.

Los Angeles Syndicate to Work Properties Deposits in San Diego County—Red Raven Changes Hands—Cedros Island Smelter to Close—Overnight Notes.

According to the published rates ore can be shipped from Las Vegas to the smelter near Salt Lake for less than it can be sent via Tonopah to San Francisco. Notwithstanding this fact the Montgomery-Shoshone has discontinued shipping ore by Las Vegas to Salt Lake and is sending its product to Tonopah, claiming it is cheaper. The difference, it is plain, must be in favor of hauling across the desert and goes to show the need for the completion of the "Borax" Smith road from the Salt Lake line an entrance to the mining district, also the need of another R Southern California that would be nearer to the mines.

Ore up to value of $25 per ton, $5.25; from $26, $6.75; up to $50, $8.50; up to $100; from $200 to $300, $14.30; with 10 cent. added for all ore over $300 per ton.

From Tonopah the rates, the same are considerably reduced a short distance from those formerly in force, as follows:

Ore up to $25, $6; up to $40, $7.50; up to $60; up to $100, $14.50; up to $200, up to $300, $18.50; over $300, 2 cent. added.

RAVEN TRANSFERRED.

It is reported that an important mining deal, particulars of which have not been made public, has just been consummated whereby the controlling interest in the Red Raven Mining Company of this city, whose properties adjoin the Mother Lode in El Dorado county, is to pass into the control of Messrs. General Manager Leavitt and others. The property is now in the best shape and it is said recent reports by experts on behalf of the new management show it to be even more valuable than first believed to be the case. The property is declared to be fairly capitalized, free from debt and equipped with ten stamp mill, Union Iron Works mill, boarding house, residences, stables and other improvements.

FAILURE TO REORGANIZE.

The Amalie mining district of Kern county, which has been coming prominently to the front of late, is about to be reorganized and again have a company which it has not had since the legislature some years ago repealed the law under which the district was then organized and put itself out of existence. None of the mining men of Kern county have been reorganized.

TOURMALINE MINING.

The Los Angeles syndicate has just been formed to operate a tourmaline property in San Diego county which was recently purchased from C. O. Parcher of Rosa Grande. The holdings consist of 604 acres and adjoins the Shannenbaum and the San Tourmaline Company. The company is capitalized at $1,000,000 and operate the property handling only the tourmaline in the rough leaving in the by-products of the rock.

Mr. Carroll, the former owner, will be manager for the new company. It is the intention to put a force of men actively at work at once increasing the number with the growth of business. It is also said that orders obtained many orders for output.

The Esperanza Mining Company expects to blow in its new smelter on Cedros Island as soon as Manager Wilson returns to the mines. The smelter was set up at San Diego two years ago and then shut down for lack of ore when it was bought by the Esperanza Company and moved to the island. The ore has hitherto been shipped to San Diego and then reshipped to Cedros.

SEARCHLIGHT NOTES.

The Searchlight paper reports that Mr. Bonner, a prospector who has spent the last twelve years of his life in the desert for hidden treasure, has located what appeared to be a good proposition in the foothills of the Crescent range eight miles from Searchlight. The property consists of having strong croppings on the surface and values of $35 per ton for sixty feet. Water had been struck in plentiful.

The Searchlight Nevada cyanide plant, which is successfully treating 100 tons of tailings a day running $5 to $6 silver per ton. It is estimated there are 22,000 tons on the dump.

A mining group of claims four miles south of Searchlight at Summit Peak, owned by G. B. Smith and E. Bonner, has been bonded to O. B. Hall of Los Angeles and George Montgomery, brother of the original owners of the Montgomery-Shoshone mine, for $35,000. A contract has been signed and development work. It is said that the similarity of the name caused the bonding party to first become interested to examine the property.

CLOSING SALE OFF.

BISBEE COPPER DEALS.

(CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.)

BISBEE (Ariz.) July 22.—The sale of the Bisbee Copper Company's properties at Prescott a couple of days ago has been declared off by Messrs. Ben Blanchard, former owner of the property, and Tom Gird of Los Angeles, who bid $115,000 for the same. They have failed to put up a forfeit, it is generally thought, and it would be a very great surprise if the sale is not consummated. The next sale is set for August 15 and the successful bidder must deposit $5000 cash on account as an indication that he is ready to close with the court.

The Bisbee Company has ordered the development of a copper property owned by them on Lynx Creek road, only a few miles from Prescott. One of the ledges showing of copper ore is said to be 300 feet.

Mr. Gird of Los Angeles, president of the Black Hills Mining Company, is at the mines near Jerome.

The smelting plant of the Old Dominion Mining and Smelting Company is nearing completion and will probably be started on August 1. One of the improvements put in this past year is $1,350,000. The mill is a concentrator, and is the most nearly perfect of any on the Coast. Its capacity is decidedly increased by the addition of bullion and other forms of operation. Under the system of conveyors and labor saving expense will be reduced to a minimum. All ore hereafter mined through the new shaft of the Old Dominion Company has been run deeply into debt by the improvements and development work, but it is estimated that all indebtedness will be cleared away within a year from the inauguration of the new system. At present the profit is understood to be in the neighborhood of $50,000 a month, with product of something over 2,600,000 pounds of bullion a month.

MORE COPPER FOUND.

The upper end of the Bisbee copper-bearing district is back of the big open cut made thirty years ago in the hillside just above the business center of the camp. There the copper was on the surface. Followed down the cañon the copper was found deeper and deeper. A late report from Bisbee tells that an old California prospector, "Bill" Morgan, claims to have discovered the upper continuation of the Copper Queen ore "dykes."

Work has been resumed on the famous Commenwealth mine at Pearce, abandoned for more than a year, since troubles with strikers and with caving ground. Swattling & Smith have leased the mine and are employing seventy-five men in the mill and cyaniding plant. Thirty-five of the mill's seventy-five stamps are being operated.

Inimitable "Bob" Burdette.

Again readers of The Times may enjoy the quaint humor in the writings of this famous newspaper paragrapher, lecturer and preacher. Now journeying on an extended European tour, Mr. Burdette will write one of his inimitable letters for The Times each Sunday during his journey.

Oriental Rugs

Oriental Rugs and fancy prices nearly always go together. Mighty few Americans outside of those in the rug business can be called judges of Oriental Rugs—and that fact usually results in the seller doing business on the elastic price plan.

We open tomorrow a sale of new and antique Oriental Rugs that gives wide-awake housekeepers an unusual opportunity—for, instead of being marked at the highest prices we think it possible to get, we've marked them at the very lowest prices we can possibly afford to accept.

—At— $3.50

Our south window shows a few of the hundred or more patterns that are to be sold tomorrow at $3.50 each. Sizes 1 ft. 9, by 3 ft. 3 inches to 2 by 3 ft.

Just what's needed for piano stools and many other places around the home.

Other Rare Values

Nearly five hundred antique Hamadans, Gundjes, Kazaks, Shirvans, etc., in various sizes. 3x5 ft. size at $5. 3 ft. 6, x 4 ft. to 4x6 ft. at $7.50 to $10.50.

Many odd sizes in fine silky rugs at $12.50 to $17.50—up into the HUNDREDS, in fact.

TRAINS CLAIM TWO VICTIMS.

Death on Rail Comes to Two Unidentified Men.

One Run Down by Engine on Salt Lake Tracks.

Los Angeles Pacific Locomotive Tosses Other.

Two unidentified victims of railway accidents—one of them crushed out of all semblance of human form and the other with a fractured skull—were taken to the Receiving Hospital within half an hour early last evening.

Three hours afterward death relieved the sufferings of one of the unfortunates and half an hour later the other died. Neither had anything in his effects by which identification could be established and both are now lying in morgues awaiting a Coroner's investigation and a possible visit of friends or acquaintances who can identify the remains.

A construction train drawn by a locomotive on the Los Angeles-Pacific Railway was responsible for the death of the first man. A gravel train was en route to the city near Sentous station when a man tried to cross the tracks. Before the engineer could stop the train the man had been hurled a distance of twenty feet, and when the crew went back a limp, unconscious body was found alongside the track.

The victim was placed aboard the train and hurried to the Receiving Hospital. Surgeon Quint found a fracture at the base of the brain, and though he worked over him for three hours, no skill could save the injured man. A search of the man's effects showed a purse containing $50.75, a knife and pipe, but no papers. The victim appeared to be about 50 years old. He was fairly well dressed and wore a gray mustache. The body was sent to Bresee Bros.' morgue to await identification and a Coroner's inquest.

SALT LAKE TRAIN CRUSHES.

Blind and deaf to the approach of a Verdugo Park train, the other victim walked along the track of the Salt Lake road near Aliso street shortly after 6 o'clock, and, though Engineer Olsen blew his whistle and rang his bell repeatedly, the man apparently did not see or hear. The pilot of the locomotive struck the man and he fell directly on the rails.

Then the big driving wheels crushed and mangled the unfortunate until one arm and a leg were reduced to a pulp. After the train had been stopped the body was dragged from beneath the wheels and sent to the Receiving Hospital. Horribly crushed and mutilated as the man appeared, surgeons worked over him and amputated the leg and arm, but the patient could not recover from the shock and he died at 9:30 o'clock. The body was sent to Pierce Bros.' morgue. The man appeared to be about 55 years old and was dressed as a laborer. He possessed nothing save a watch and a knife.

Big Addition on New High-street Side, Where Main Entrance is to be—Wonderful Growth of Principal Downtown Office Since Removal to Present Location.

Station C, the baby postoffice that was taken from North Main street three years ago and put in swaddling clothes on Franklin street, going into short dresses a year later, is just about to put on long skirts. Postmaster Flint has arranged for the second increase in the size of the office, which, by September 1, will be four times what it was when the station was moved to its present location.

The latest addition acquired for the principal downtown postoffice is the ground floor space in the Union Mutual building on New High street, adjoining the present quarters, and lately used as a lunchroom by employés of the Hamburger store. Like the other rooms occupied by the station, this addition is a part of the Phillips estate.

According to the plans prepared for the enlarged office, there will be a complete rearrangement of the space and a radical change in the entrance, which is to be on New High street.

There is to be a considerable increase in the number of lockboxes at the office and there will be additions to and improvements in the furniture.

Ever since the branch station has been located on Franklin street there has been difficulty in handling the business because of the extreme narrowness of that bustling thoroughfare—the Nassau street of Los Angeles. The cramped quarters inside also made it difficult for the large number of clerks and carriers to attend properly to their duties.

With the change of the entrance to New High street there promises to be a relief in the situation, affording better accommodations alike to the public and to the postoffice employés.

The entrance as now planned is to be at the extreme north side of the New High street front, extending the depth of that building and forming an "L" at the rear. The stamp, registry and money order windows will face north on the corridor. The original quarters of the station, together with the first addition at Franklin and New High streets, will be used entirely by the working forces of the office. It is likely that an entrance will be provided on Franklin street for the call delivery of mail on Sunday, while the receipt and dispatch of bulk mail will be accommodated on the same street.

The enormous business transacted at Station C is responsible for this latest change. This branch now is second only in importance to the main postoffice, and in some respects ranks ahead of the parent establishment—in the sale of stamps, for instance, and in postal receipts, it is said to lead.

In March, 1902, the month preceding removal to Franklin street, the postal receipts of the station were $5075. Last March they were $13,322. In the final year of its existence on Main street the receipts were $60,205; last year they were $154,024.

The station came to Franklin street with three clerks and six carriers; now it has nineteen clerks and twenty-six carriers. There would be more carriers than this, but the mother postoffice became jealous and sliced off a bit of Station C's territory. Even now the station has more carriers than the main office.

In the face of such a showing no wonder is expressed that the new general postoffice should be located at Temple and Main street, about two blocks from the present station. When the new government building, now in project, is completed, the career of Station C in its present location probably will cease. Until that time it will continue as the principal central postoffice, its functions being, with the exception of the general delivery, the same as those of the main office.

RIVERSIDE TO PUT UP SIGNS.

SUPERVISORS REPLY TO LETTER URGING ACTION.

San Bernardino Officials Also Act and Inyo Wants Other Counties to Co-operate—Interest Greater Than Ever and Many Inquiries Are Received.

The Board of Supervisors of Riverside county has replied to the letter of the Chamber of Commerce urging action to stop the hideous loss of life on the desert, stating that steps have already been taken to procure signs and that within a few days it will be decided where they will be placed. This makes three counties that have responded by letter to the Chamber of Commerce, while Inyo has communicated with other counties with a view to coöperation, and has appointed a committee to take charge of the matter. Inyo, in whose limits lies Death Valley, is certainly as badly in need of prompt action as any county in the two States.

In San Bernardino Supervisor West of Needles, in whose district the desert country is situated, has sent out a request that persons knowing of water holes communicate with him at once so that he may decide upon the location of signs. He has already taken steps to have the work done.

So far, however, no county, except Los Angeles, has hinted at any intention of having the wells taken care of or to insure the presence of water fit to use at any of the places to which travelers are to be directed. While there are probably no State funds available for this purpose, the cost would hardly be beyond the power of the county to pay and no community should hesitate a minute over such a trifle when human life is at stake. The long neglect may be justly termed "the shame of the West."

So far no replies have come from Nevada, where only a few days ago a whole family nearly perished on the desert for want of water, and, for no other reason than that the authorities for fifty years have neglected to put up guiding signs and maintain them, wandered 100 miles off their path when rescued.

Every day inquiries are being received as to the maps which will no doubt be issued shortly from the data which G. E. Bailey has so kindly donated and which the Chamber of Commerce has indorsed. As yet there are none available, which is very unfortunate at this season when suffering is greatest, but in the fall there will be a rush of prospectors that will create a demand for these guide maps. Many of these letters of inquiry have come to George W. Parsons, who has been mostly instrumental in keeping the horrors of the desert before the public for several years.

PRICES FAR ABOVE APPRAISEMENT ARE REALIZED.

Lee A. McConnell as commissioner sold yesterday noon on the Courthouse steps three parcels of real estate belonging to the Alexander heirs. For the purpose of distributing the estate the court ordered the property sold. The house on Beacon street was appraised at $15,000. It is a good house, but a little old-fashioned as things are looked at now, having been built some fifteen years ago for Hewes, the shoeman, whose shoe store used to be about where Hale's dry goods store is now. The house is large and finished in redwood on the inside. The lot is 96x150 feet. There is a good barn on the property.

The first bid on this was $7500, the next $10,000. It went up at first from this point rapidly $1000 at each bid until it reached $13,000. Then the contest narrowed down to two bidders who raised the price $500 at one bid, then $250 at the next, then $50, then $100, each bid until $14,000 was reached. Then the bidding went up $250 each bid, then $200, and last $150, making the price $14,800 at which figure one of the contestants drew out and could not be induced to come in again, in spite of the fact that the auctioneer, Ben O. Rhoades, used all his blandest tones, and most persuasive arguments on him. So the property was knocked down to Henry Loewenthal at only $200 less than the appraised price. There is no doubt that the court will confirm a sale made at so good a figure.

The Hollywood Sale.

The ten-acre lot at East Hollywood in the Lick tract was appraised at $5500. It lies along Sunset boulevard and near two car lines, running to Los Angeles. The first bid was $5000; the next $6000, or $500 more than the appraiser's figure. The bidding was very brisk at a rise of $250 nearly every time until $9000 was reached. Then it went up $100 each bid to $9500, at which price it was knocked down to T. Wiesendanger. This was $4000, or over 72 per cent. above the appraiser's estimate.

The Lot at Santa Monica.

A lot at Santa Monica, being lot 37 in Scott's addition to that town, had been appraised at $2500. It fronts on Ocean avenue, 150 feet south of the Arcadia Hotel, and runs back to the bluff overlooking the sea. There is a beach lot between the rear end of this and tidewater. The first bid was $1000 and the second $2000. It then advanced rapidly to $2750, when the bidding was at $50 a clip until $3000 was reached. R. A. Collins, a real estate man of Los Angeles, bid it in for a client, Mrs. Teeserack. This was $500 over the estimate of the appraiser, or 20 per cent. The aggregate sum realized was $27,300.

There was a big crowd on hand for the sale and Ben Rhoades wielded the hammer to stimulate things, not to knock. The result was a great surprise to all the real estate men present. Some came doubting if prices sufficiently near the appraisers' estimates to make certain the confirmation of the sales by the court would be obtained. As a matter of fact the sum of the appraisements was $23,000, and the total realized was $4200 more than this. All three parcels were excellent properties, all in good locations, each for its class. The sale is one of the best tests of the firmness of the market made in a long time and shows that for anything with merit the market is very strong.

Big Broadway Sale.

D. H. Hart of the Hotel Natick has just consummated a sale of thirty feet on the west side of Broadway between Seventh and Eighth streets for $59,000, or nearly $2000 per front foot. Dr. Stewart is the buyer.

The Times Prize Cook Book.

All the recipes brought out by the recent prize contest, numbering nearly 1000, and including over 75 Spanish dishes, original recipes of old-time California, have been published by The Times in book form. On sale at The Times Office for 25 cents. In special oilcloth cover, 35 cents. By mail 5 cents extra.

OCEAN PARK AND VENICE

Ocean Park and Venice are conceded by noted tourists and travelers to be among the most attractive sea-side cities of the world. The fame of these ocean gems extends from coast to coast. Money invested here today is as safe as in treasury bonds.

Phenomenal Growth in Population

Beautiful Venice

Venice—that masterful creation of Mr. Abbott Kinney, which lies 14 miles due west of Los Angeles on the ocean front, is attracting widespread attention because of its many novel and magnificent attractions, not duplicated anywhere on the globe. Among these attractions may be mentioned the magnificent canal system, the open air bath-house, with its enclosed salt water plunge, the great auditorium, the amusement pavilion, the unique ship hotel, etc. The floricultural features alone will surpass anything previously attempted in the West. The value of Venice property today is a mere pittance to what it will be in the not far distant future.

Let Investors Beware

BUY CAREFULLY—Don't confine your operations to locations where prices are not justifiable; and avoid unreliable brokers—particularly those of the "curbstone genus." The members of the Ocean Park and Venice Realty Board comprise reliable real estate firms. Unfair operations are not permitted.

Stately Ocean Park

Ocean Park is essentially a seaside city of homes for the business element of Los Angeles. It is one of the beauty spots of the western coast, and is a city that will at once appeal to people of refinement and culture. The undesirable has been carefully eliminated here. The active realty market has been based upon a solid, steady growth, and the expenditures of hundreds of thousands of dollars. Never has even the shadow of a boom been cast over Ocean Park. Nevertheless this beautiful city abounds in opportunities for substantial, profitable investment. In fact, the entire chain of resorts from Ocean Park to Del Rey offers conservative investments at today's reasonable figures.

The "sand" and "dirt" lots are bound to increase in value. They are being placed in a high state of improvement.

Venice Annex, Walgrove and Venice Gateway will be among the most desirable places of residence on the Coast.

EDNA SCHROCK,
Little Quakeress contestant at Pasadena.

ARTHUR CARPENTER, "the little giant of Compton," continues to lead the scholarship contest.

Rex R. Gile, the incessant hustler of Long Beach, made the high score yesterdaw by turning in 4730 points. This raised him from the tenth to the eighth position.

Robert Scott took a sudden bound forward to thirty-seventh position. A long time without active friends to advocate his cause, he is now on the road to scholarship prosperity. Having made a good beginning he is not beyond the need of help, however.

Other contestants to make scores worthy of mention are the following: St. Clair Morton, 2250; Mable Soule, 2219; Helen Pitner, 2134; Bruce Moore, 1653; Albert Capron, 1090; Jessie King, 1035; Myrtle Varney, 1175.

Charlie Yglesais, the boy violinist in the contest, has received a number of letters from admirers and devotees of the sacred instrument since his picture was printed in The Times, with his violin in his hands. Laura Mabel Johnson, No. 834 Mallard street, sent for the little man and had him play for her to make sure that she was bestowing her scholarship patronage deservingly. She was fully satisfied and is now one of the boy's staunchest supporters.

Harold Beeson is another scholarship contestant who has undergone a siege of sickness and who has been retarded in his progress thereby. Bruce Moore, a rival contestant, calls the attention of the Scholarship Manager to Beeson's sickness. That shows the liberal spirt of Bruce Moore. Some fine traits of character are brought out in the scholarship race.

Idell H. King, the dimpled daughter of California, was so unfortunate as to have a fall from her wheel today which will retard her work for several days. She was rushing around on her coupon route and endeavoring with all her might to elevate herself in the score list, when the unexpected happened. Undaunted she says she will use the telephone for canvassing until she is able to walk and wheel again.

Myrtle Graham of Covina has developed an influential and wealthy friend in Oregon by being in the scholarship contest. She is promised subscriptions from the Webfoot State. As a result of her visit on Bonnie Brae street last week she is assembling a considerable support in Los Angeles. Added to her home strength, these outside influences tend to make her one of the leading contestants.

LETTER FROM W. S. LIVENGOOD.

One of the contestants of 1905 is so fortunate as to receive the support and indorsement of W. S. Livengood, the manager of former scholarship contests for The Times. This year Mr. Livengood is promoting educational and newspaper interests in Washington State by establishing there the scholarship plan, as carried on by The Times through a series of dve years. A long residence in Southern California caused him to regard as attractive and beneficial a working vacation among the giant evergreens, snow-capped mountains and forest-bound lakes of the Puget Sound region. Mr. Livengood's reappearance on the scholarship page will be hailed with delight by his many admirers who have followed his writings in The Times. His letter follows:

SEATTLE (Wash.) July 18, 1905.

Mr. Wilbur F. Brock, Manager Scholarship Contest, Times-Mirror Company, Los Angeles, Cal.—Dear Sir: In looking over your list of scholarship contestants I find among them the name of a little cousin of mine, Miss Edna Schrock of No. 183 Bruce avenue, Pasadena. Knowing her to be a very worthy girl and as deserving of winning a scholarship as anyone, I take great pleasure in renewing my subscription to the Daily Times, for one year, in her favor. Find inclosed check for $9, and please see to it that she gets the votes.

Having had the honor of being your predecessor as Scholarship Manager of The Times for three years past, you may believe that I am deeply interested in this year's contest, and I am glad to see that the new crop of contestants is quite as numerous and efficient as the old, even more so, it seems. Miss Schrock is the only contestant I know personally, I believe, and as she is a blood relative of mine I take double pleasure in helping her to win a scholarship, and I hope some of my friends in Southern California will do likewise, as I know her to be entirely worthy.

Edna is a modest little "Dunkard" girl, the word "Dunkard" being a name colloquially applied to the religious sect officially known as German Baptist Brethren, the tenets of whose faith are similar to those of the Friends, or Quakers. Edna looks like a little Quakeress in her little "Dunkard" bonnet, and she is just as good as she looks, and that is very good indeed.

She is of Pennsylvania German stock, but was born in West Virginia. Her father, who was a farmer, died when his four children were quite young. Since her husband's death, Mrs. Schrock has supported herself and children by hard labor. About ten years ago the widow emigrated from West Virginia to Pasadena with her little family, so her children would have a better opportunity to go to school than in their native mountains. The eldest of the family, Edna's only brother, Irving, graduated from Throop Polytechnic Institute this summer and gives promise of developing into a first-class mechanical engineer and useful citizen. Edna, who is the third of the children, and her sisters have been attending the Lake avenue public school and stand high in their classes. I do not know what scholarship she wants, but I am sure she will make good use of whatever she gets.

Edna and her sisters have for some years been partly supporting themselves by raising flowers and selling them at the Pasadena hotels during the tourist season. They are well known as the little flower girls in the quaint "Dunkard" garb.

As the "Dunkard" population of Southern California is becoming quite numerous, there ought to be at least one scholarship winner to represent that denomination.

Yours respectfully,
W. S. LIVENGOOD.

PRIZES AT STAKE.

CASH PRIZES ARE ADDED.

The contestant having the highest score at the close of the contest will have first choice of the following scholarships. The second highest will have second choice and so on to the bottom of the list. From time to time the list of scholarships will be enlarged as the number of contestants multiply. CLAREMONT.

IMPROVEMENTS FOR ATHLETICS.

CLAREMONT, July 25.—Work on the Pomona College alumni field will begin next Monday, so says Frank Seaver, '06, who has the laying out of the new athletic grounds in charge.

The field, which, when completed is to be one of the finest of the kind on the Coast, will be constructed just east of the college campus, in Blanchard Park, consisting of sixty-five acres recently donated to the college by George W. Marston of San Diego. The field when completed will contain not only a first-class circular track twenty-five feet wide, but will have as well the only 220-yard straight-away on the Coast. The field will contain the baseball and football grounds and also the tennis courts, and will be perfectly level. As far as possible the beautiful oak trees and natural surroundings will be preserved. The laying out will alone cost over $5000 and $3000 will be put at once into the new enterprise.

The Alumni Association, which is now an incorporated body, is backing the scheme, which has long been the cherished hope of the students of the college. The officers of the association are: Dr. A. M. Smith, '94, Claremont, president; Arthur McFadden, '01, Santa Ana, vice-president; Miss Edith Parker, '03, Pasadena, secretary; R. K. Pitzer, '00, Pomona, treasurer; Frank Seaver, '05, Pomona, manager of construction.

Bank Stock for Sale

AT ONLY $5 PER SHARE

Plan to Secure 1000 Stockholders

No One Allowed to Purchase More Than $500 of Stock.

The people of Los Angeles can now buy bank stock at only $5 per share. No one will be allowed to purchase more than $500 of stock. Capital is to be increased to $500,000, making bank of a thousand small stockholders, thereby becoming the people's bank of Los Angeles. The Consolidated Bank of Los Angeles has decided to place its stock with the people, believing that in securing a thousand stockholders it will secure a thousand depositors at the same time. Investors can purchase such stock with absolute safety as to perfect security, and realize a handsome profit therefrom, as has been done by the owners of stock in the various other banks of Los Angeles. This is the only opportunity ever offered the general public to buy stock in a Los Angeles bank at $5 per share. We would rather have 5000 stockholders of $100 as the more stockholders there are each than 1000 of $500 each. We want the greatest number of stockholders, the stronger the bank. All stock fully paid up at Five Dollars per share. Purchasers can buy from 1 to 100 shares at $5 per share, but no one can buy more than $500 of stock. Subscription books just opened. Purchasers can subscribe for 100 shares and pay for the same in weekly payments of Five Dollars, and receive one share of paid-up stock as each $5 payment is made. We want the people to become the stockholders in the people's bank of Los Angeles. Officers: William H. Carlson (Ex-Mayor of the City of San Diego,) President; J. G. Estudillo (Ex-State Treasurer of California,) First Vice-President; F. H. Dixon (Ex-State Harbor Commissioner of California,) Second Vice-President; A. W. Carver, Cashier. Call or write for further information. Pamphlets, etc., mailed free on application. CONSOLIDATED BANK, 124 South Broadway, (Ground Floor Chamber of Commerce Building,) Los Angeles, Cal.

REFORM DOINGS IN MOUNTAINS.

CATCH MADE BY OFFICER OF SAN BERNARDINO COUNTY.

Arden Keller, for Many Years Identified With Saloon and Gambling Interests, Arrested on Charge of Conducting a Blind Pig on the Heap Ranch Near Arrowhead Work.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN BERNARDINO, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Arden Keller, for many years identified with the saloon and gambling interests of the community, was arrested this morning by Deputy Sheriff Utman of Upland. He is charged with having conducted a "blind pig" at Heap ranch, in the San Bernardino mountains, where it is said he had a large trade among laborers employed on the Arrowhead dam project.

HOW ABOUT THIS SEWAGE?

The City Council met in special session last night, intending to award a contract for taking care of the sewage water, but, owing to the absence of the City Attorney, who has gone to Portland, the matter was laid over until the next regular session on Monday, August 7. The meeting was exciting at times. The various persons seeking the contract engaged in frequent wordy wars, each declaring the other to be bluffing. As the matter now stands the Council has four bids. The highest is from J. G. Brubaker. He offers to pay the city $250 per year, if he can have a a contract for a period of from ten to thirty years, and also to pipe the water from its present outfall.

F. A. Tetley of Riverside threatened to appeal to the State Board of Health unless the city diverts the sewage from Warm Creek immediately. He says that the people of West Riverside have been drinking the water for years, not realizing that the stream was being polluted by this sewage, which pours a steady stream of from sixty to eighty inches into Warm Creek. Tetley also stated that there are a number of typhoid cases at West Riverside, traceable to the use of this vile water.

MONKEY WRENCHES HIS MANIA.

"I can't help but steal. Monkey wrenches have a strange fascination for me, that I have not power to resist," exclaimed E. C. Oliver of Needles, as he was lead into the County Jail this morning to serve a term of six months for stealing a monkey wrench from O. W. Newcomb.

The man's statement seems supported by the facts. He was sent in from Needles three months ago to serve ninety days for stealing a monkey wrench. He had just completed his term when he began collecting monkey wrenches right and left. His string of thefts reached from this city to Colton.

Had he been allowed a little longer rope he would probably have been traced by his thefts to Riverside, for wherever the opportunity offered he would purloin a monkey wrench. The officers say that he wanted nothing else, and never showed an inclination to molest any other property, which he might have stolen with as much ease as the wrenches.

TWO MARRIAGES.

Miss Carolyne Decrow and Everett Patterson were married at Highland yesterday, a few moments after the bride had shaken the dust of travel from her gowns. She had just arrived from her home at Somerville, Mass. Patterson and Miss Decrow were boy and girl lovers in Boston. He worked for the Ginn Publishing Company as a stationary engineer, and was sent out to the Ginn ranch at Highland to live. Miss Decrow soon followed him, the romance culminating in the Methodist parsonage at Highland.

Miss Fern Ethel Herring and Roi Ingersoll Farris, both of Watts, Los Angeles county, planned to get married some time in the fall, but changed their plans suddenly, when Farris dropped into town Sunday to visit Miss Herring, who had come here to visit with a sister, Mrs. I. E. Casner. The young folks had a long hunt for some one with authority to issue a license, but were finally successful, and the marriage was performed at the Casner residence by Rev. A. K. Holden of the Congregational Church. Today the couple left for Watts to tell their surprised friends how it happened.

BLACK EYE FOR LOCOMOTIVE.

The Santa Fé engine which blew up at Needles the other day killing the fireman and Engineer Frank Copeland, is a hoodoo. So say the Santa Fé employés, for it has claimed another victim. Machinist C. J. Phillips, who, while assisting in taking the engine dead to the local shops, fell from the oil tank, and so badly shattered his left arm that it may have to be amputated. He can assign no reason for his fall, other than that the engine must be hoodooed.

RIALTO ROAD RALLY.

Citizens of Rialto are busily raising a purse of $5000, which they will dangle before anyone desiring to build an electric line between Rialto and this city. Last night a rousing mass meeting was held, and a subscription fund was started. The idea is to notify Promoter Seth Hartley that his offer to build the road has been accepted, but that in raising the bonus of $5000, the citizens retain the right to hold it out as an inducement to any other promoter under certain conditions.

TAMPER WITH SWITCHES.

It was discovered this morning that some one had poured plaster of Paris in the switch locks on a way siding of the Santa Fé near the depot, necessitating breaking locks before the switches could be thrown. Officials of the company believe it was a deliberate attempt to wreck a train.

SAN BERNARDINO BRIEFS.

George Brockaway was granted a divorce this afternoon by Judge Wilburn of Los Angeles. Brockaway charged desertion, naming as corespondent, a former neighbor at Victorville, where Brockaway kept a dairy. This man is now conducting a hotel at Acton. Mrs. Brockaway and daughter are alleged to be living in the hotel.

HIGHLAND.

WHY THE DAM BROKE.

HIGHLAND, July 25.—The cause of the East Highland dam breaking last week is said to have been from the earthquake on Saturday. For some time the water had been seeping through the dam in the small part of the lake, opening into Bledsoe gulch. The earthquake appears to have jarred it loose. The water rushed down the gulch in a large volume and threatened to wash around the crossing recently completed by the county. The lake belongs to the East Highland Orange Company.

The price paid for a car of Highland lemons in Boston last Monday exceeds any sale of recent years, it is said. The car, which was packed by the Independent Packing-house, contained 364 boxes and brought $2017. This averages $5.54, all the way through and there were a number of boxes of standards in the car.

The East Highland Orange Growers' Association is to have one of the largest packing-houses in this district. The building is being erected east of the Santa Fé depot. The dimensions are said to be 120x180 feet. A basement will double the floor space of the house. Instead of employing box makers, a box making machine will be used. If the number of cars for next season reaches 400, as has been reported from the fruit now in sight, this company will perhaps handle the largest part of the East Highland output. Last season the association withdrew from the Southern California Fruit Exchange, but will be back in the fold again this coming season.

A party left last week for Dup Creek, on the Bear Valley road, to camp during the summer. The company was made up of the following: Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Madden, Mr. and Mrs. W. Lindsay, Mrs. L. V. Jones, Mrs. Mark Hooker, Mrs. Rohrer; the Misses Mattie and Emma Rohrer, Lenore Hooker, Maude Kunzman and Beatrice Jones; William Jones, Roy Madden and George H. Barnes.

The Edison Electric Company is reported to be making arrangements to run a line through Highland, in order to supply power to the packing-houses in the west end of the township. It is said that the line will continue all the way to the Arrowhead Hotel, which the Edison Company is also to supply.

FREDALBA.

LUMBER AND RESORT NOTES.

FREDALBA, July 25.—The lumber season is now at its height. The big mill of the Brookings Lumber and Box Company is turning out from 50,000 to 57,000 feet of lumber per day. A large amount of timber has been cut this season, by the logging crew, despite the long winter weather and enough logs have been dumped into the pond at the mill to keep it in operation continuously, with the number being added to each day. Two trains are now used to haul the logs to the mill.

The mill hands gave a dance on Wednesday evening in the dance hall.

The cottages in the Park are now all full and a number of tents are used to accommodate the campers. The weather is warm during the middle part of the day, but cool in the shade of the pines.

The Fredalba school has opened with Miss A. Coy of San Bernardino as teacher. The enrollment is sixteen pupils. The session will continue until December. A summer term is necessary in order that the children of the employés of the lumber mill may keep up in their studies. When the lumber season closes the school is discontinued.

A party made up of residents of Fredalba and visitors here enjoyed a picnic at Deer Lick Flat on Sunday. The party was taken over in the Fredalba stage, by Charles Longmire. The day was spent in target shooting, taking snap shots, and other diversions. The return trip was made late in the evening. Those who attended were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Longmire, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. Shropshire, Mr. and Mrs. John Thornton, the Misses Garner, Shultz, Thornton, Longmire, and Shropshire, and Opie L. Warner of Highland.

Mrs. James Cave and sister Miss May Feode have gone to San Bernardino after a couple of months' vacation in the park.

Miss Fay of Oregon is the guest of her sister, Mrs. P. J. Shropshire.

W. Du B. Brookings returned Wednesday from an eastern trip of several weeys' duration. While absent he attended a reunion at Harvard of the class of '95, of which he was a member.

RIALTO.

VALLEY NEWS NOTES.

RIALTO, July 25.—Mrs. M. Lemarquand and son returned to Los Angeles yesterday after a fortnight's stay with Mrs. J. L. Sweetman.

Dr. Trapert and wife of Minneapolis, who are touring Southern California, were recent visitors at "Corylin" with Mr. and Mrs. Christian Getz.

Dr. Emory and wife and Miss Gleason of Defiance, O., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Frank Furguson and Mr. and Mrs. E. Howard.

COLTON.

MORE TROLLEY RUMORS.

COLTON, July 25.—Work will begin soon on the Huntington electric road between Colton and Riverside, according to current rumors. Laborers have been shipped into Colton in large numbers recently to work for the Southern Pacific, but now it is reported that 500 more are expected to arrive in a few days from El Paso and that they are to be employed in building the new electric road.

The contract for the interior finish of the Anderson Hotel has been awarded to J. H. Creamer of Riverside.

Dr. A. G. Toprahannean has gone to Imperial.

Mrs. W. H. Ham is expected to arrive soon from Rawlins, Wy., after an absence of several months.

HUNTINGTON BEACH.

INCORPORATION RIPPLES.

HUNTINGTON BEACH, July 25.—Merely methods of procedure halted the Huntington Beach Board of Trade in its plans for incorporation last night. H. G. Ames, assistant district attorney of Orange county, was there to tell them just how to learn their qualifications, and among the new residents who were outspoken in advocating the measure was Col. Finley, a former Mayor of Santa Ana.

The growth of the town demands improvements outside those provided by the Huntington Beach Company, and, according to the views of those present, incorporation as a city of the sixth class is the solution of the problem.

A canvas of the town will be made, the Huntington Beach Company will be asked as to its views on the details of the work, and at next Monday night's session the board will start definite work.

J. J. Graham, one of the largest land owners on the mesa back of here, has 10,000 sacks of barley to put up, and D. O. Stewart and S. E. Wells, who farm on company land, run him closely in amount. The threshers are just going into the region and the hay balers are working overtime to supply the local demand.

Poles for the local exchange of the Home Telephone Company are here and fifty subscribers are now enrolled, to whom lines will be extended as rapidly as they can be built. The Sunset people report that they expect to put in an exchange at an early date.

STORM WATERS TO BE STAYED.

ORANGE COUNTY RANCHMEN TAKE THE FIRST STEPS.

Supervisors Sanction Formation of Levee and Protection District for Santa Ana River Country—Laborer Falls to Ground and Strikes on Open Shears.

SANTA ANA, July 25.—By a vote of four to one the Board of Supervisors today decided to sanction the formation of a levee and protection district to care for the overflow waters of the Santa Ana River, as outlined in a petition of ranchmen. Supervisor MacMullan registered the only vote against the plan, explaining that he did not consider the Act of 1895, under which it is proposed to incorporate, one favorable to local conditions.

Following the passage of the motion to grant the petition for incorporation, a resolution was passed fixing the boundaries of the district in accordance with the survey made by Col. S. H. Finley. This makes the district include the Bolsa, Talbert, Newhope and Newport territory and fixes the northern boundary at the West Orange crossing of the Southern Pacific.

Having gained the desired concession from the Supervisors, the ranchmen will proceed at once to take the necessary legal steps for putting the district upon a working basis, with a view to voting bonds and starting the work of making the new river channel in time to be prepared for next winter's storms.

CHAPTER OF ACCIDENTS.

Tomas Varela, while pruning trees yesterday afternoon, fell a distance of ten feet to the ground in such a manner that his right side came down upon the open blades of the shears. The points jabbed an ugly gash in his flesh several inches long, cut through and broke three ribs and penetrated to the lungs. The injured man was removed to the Santa Ana Hospital, where his wound was dressed and the broken bones set in place. He will probably recover.

While playing with a colt on the Boyd ranch this morning, Lester Nimmo, aged 14 years, was kicked in the face by the fractious animal. The boy was brought to town, where several cuts on his lips and tongue were sewed up.

Misses Lizzie Turner and Marcella Madden were tipped out of their buggy on North Bush street yesterday evening, but escaped without injury. Their horse took fright at a passing auto, and, swerving suddenly to one side, overturned the rig.

W. W. Halsworth reelved an ugly hit on the jaw this morning by the rebound of a spring in one of the new traps at the Santa Ana Gun Club's grounds on West First street. Mr. Halesworth was shooting bluerocks with a party of friends when the accident occurred.

ANAHEIM.

BUDGET OF NEWSY NOTES.

ANAHEIM, July 25.—W. McLaughlin, who purchased the Spooner ranch near town three months ago, has sold the Valencia oranges from five acres for $3200 net, on the trees, which is considered a fancy price here. The fruit is of the best quality. McLaughlin set forty acres to oranges this season.

Arthur Thompson, assistant inspector in the Quartermaster's Department, U.S.A., in Manila, will arrive here this week to visit friends at Magnolia.

J. H. Eichlor, a brother of Mrs. William Keonig, has patented an improvement on an acetylene gas machine and sold it for $12,000.

The Buena Park condensed milk factory shipped two cars of cream this week. The capacity of the factory is now 800 cases a day, forty-eight cans to the case, every ten hours.

Mr. Bonkosky of this city says the red and purple scale are worse in some of the orange sections this year than ordinarily, but that the black scale is very light.

Miss Ethel Chapman, daughter of Hon. C. C. Chapman of Fullerton, was thrown from a buggy while her horse was running away last evening, and when picked up by friends was unconscious. She was injured slightly.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence of Caliente, Nev., are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Sandilands.

The new pumping plant of the Anaheim Union Water Company, up the river, will be in operation by August 1. It will be operated by a sixty-horsepower gasoline engine and the four water wells will be pumped twenty-four hours daily. The stream will be pumped into the Anaheim irrigation canal.

D. W. Hatfield, a brother of Joseph Hatfield, will arrive here soon from Jackson county, Iowa, accompanied by eleven families who will locate in this section.

Mr. Oakley, who has been head bookkeeper with the Puente Oil Company, has gone to Searchlight, Nev., where he has a position with a new mining company.

C. I. Swisher has returned from a business trip to Las Vegas, Nev.

RIVERSIDE.

BIG ORANGE PROJECT.

RIVERSIDE, July 25.—A new company is developing a tract to the west of town that promises well. They have purchased 163 acres just across the San Bernardino county line, to the south of Bloomington. The land is splendid, being on an elevation of about twenty-five feet above the surrounding country, and entirely frostless.

The company incorporates under the name of the California Orange Company, and the papers of incorporation were filed yesterday. The stockholders are Francis Cuttle, W. W. Wilson, George Frost, Frank F. Chase and H. B. Chase.

Improvements are going along rapidly; the first well is down 150 feet, and water-bearing gravel being found at 45 feet; the Concrete Pipe and Construction Company is constructing concrete pipe throughout the tract, and by a system of wells, a good and inexpensive supply of water will be available at any point.

The Chase Nursery Company is planting trees this week on the tract, 60 per cent. navels and the remainder Valencias.

WOMAN'S SAD DEATH.

Mrs. J. M. Kinsey, wife of the Salt Lake ticket agent, met death last night very suddenly, and under sad circumstances.

The Kinsey family have been living in the second story of the passenger depot. About 8:30 o'clock last evening, Mrs. Kinsey was at the window watching her four-year-old son at play down below. While clambering over a truck he fell suddenly, and struck the cement pavement. His mother rushed to his aid at once and, after carrying him upstairs, ran down again to telephone for a doctor.

Dr. Parker, the first to arrive, found Mrs. Kinsey suffering greatly and leaning against the stair railing. She was in a serious condition. He immediately took her to her room, where he administered a strong heart stimulant. She said repeatedly that she had broken something inside and was in intense agony.

Dr. Sawyer joined Dr. Parker in his efforts to relieve the sufferer, but she died after an hour of the greatest suffering. Death was attributed to a ruptured blood vessel, or possibly to an injury to the heart itself.

In the excitement over the condition of Mrs. Kinsey, the child was neglected; but examination showed that he had been merely stunned.

CORONA.

JUSTICE REFUSES TO GO.

CORONA, July 25.—When Rincon township was abandoned and that territory was turned over to Temescal township the Supervisors requested the officers in Rincon to turn their books over to the Corona authorities. Now Justice of the Peace G. J. Cota of Rincon says as he was elected by the people, and as he has yet two years to serve out his term, he does not see how he can be ousted from office, consequently he intends to serve as heretofore.

PIONEER DIES IN LOS ANGELES.

Mrs. Eliza L. Foster, mother of Herb C. Foster, recently of Corona, died at her son's home in Los Angeles yesterday aged 74. The funeral was held in the city today by Rev. W. N. Burr of Corona. Mrs. Foster was well known here, having been one of the pioneers.

CIRCLE CITY BRIEFS.

Frank W. Alden yesterday bought of M. W. Findley the two-story frame building at Main and Sixth streets, formerly known as the Hamilton property; price stated, $4375.

The Library Trustees have extended the time for opening bids for construction of the Carnegie library from the 27th inst. to August 3.

The Sunset Telephone Company is to reconstruct its system here both as to inside and outside work. Night service will be furnished as soon as an operator is secured.

Manuel Feros an employé at the Fuller ranch was arrested yesterday pending the arrival of a Los Angeles officer who wanted two persons resembling Feros, one on a grand larceny charge. The resemblance was so strong Feros admitted one picture was his own, but a scar on his face resulted in his release.

A Serious Mistake.

The moment you detect any weakness or irregularity, such as short breath after exercise, palpitation, fluttering, weak or hungry spells, pain in breast, side or shoulder, or uneasiness when lying on left side, you should take Dr. Miles' Heart Cure; it rarely ever fails to relieve all these symptoms.

If not promptly restored, chronic heart disease soon develops, and then it only remains for some sudden strain to completely exhaust the heart.

Thousands of hopeless cases have been cured, and if you do not try it, it will be the greatest mistake of your life.

"When I began taking Dr. Miles' Remedies I was in a very bad condition. I had stomach trouble, with severe distress after eating. My heart hurt me, and I had shortness of breath, palpitation. My pulse was irregular, and my feet, ankles and hands were swollen. Every month at regular periods I had severe pain. I wrote Dr. Miles' Medical Co., and they advised me to take Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine and Heart Cure. I soon noticed an improvement, and I continued the medicine until I was completely cured. I feel like a different person. In fact I have not felt so well for 20 years."

HELP FOR WEAK MEN

How many men are suffering miseries for want of a simple remedy. They do not live; they simply exist. In the faces of thousands can be read the story of a wasted life and blighted hopes; joys and pleasures are unknown to them because of the Weakness which is taking their vitality. Varicocele and Weakness have exhausted nature's electric forces, and left them wrecks upon the shores of life. Many have sought in drugs and patent remedies to relieve their mental and physical sufferings. They are soothed for a day, or may be a week, falsely braced up, until the effects of the drug wearing off, like the momentary bracing of whisky, they sink still lower in vitality, and with hope exhausted, lose confidence in themselves and their fellow man and decide to abandon all efforts to recover their powers, telling that there is no help for them. Man, do not sacrifice yourself in this way. Do not endure this living death while Nature holds out to you relief in the form of Electricity—

Dr. McLaughlin's Electric Belt

No matter what ails you, there is a cure for you in Nature's Remedy—Electricity. The greatest cures on record have been performed by this famous Belt, and it is recognized today as the greatest remedial agent known to mankind. It cures every form of weakness, restores the fire and vigor of youth, cures all forms of Nervous Diseases, Kidney and Bladder Troubles, Rheumatism, Sciatica, Varicocele, Lumbago and many other complaints, after every other known system of medical treatment has failed.

Chronic indigestion, catarrh of stomach, belching of gases, stomach trouble of all kinds, no matter how severe or long standing the case, will make a complete cure. We mean a cure. Pepsin, soda, and the many dyspepsia tablets may relieve the symptoms, but they do not cure the cause. We want the very worst cases, those that can hardly eat the blandest kind of food, and are suffering with what they may think incurable stomach trouble.

"For the past 6 years I have been a great sufferer with catarrh of stomach, and no one will ever have any idea how I suffered. I was hungry, and could not eat. I seemed relieved when I could starve myself. After continued perseverance by friends I was persuaded to try Nau's Dyspepsia Cure, and after taking 2 bottles, I am happy to say I am cured. I hope this letter will encourage some of the many sufferers to try this wonderful remedy, Nau's Dyspepsia Cure.

"MRS. WM. MASTERSON,
"Lostine, Oregon."

"I wish to state for a period of 5 years I was an extreme sufferer from heartburn and indigestion. With first dose of Nau's Dyspepsia Cure, taken three months ago, I experienced a distinct relief, and I can now eat any kind of food without distress.

A committee will investigate.

PEPPER THROWER SENTENCED.

William J. Collison, the young plumber who is alleged to have thrown pepper in the eyes of William Tate during an altercation over Collison's attention to Tate's sister pleaded guilty to battery before Judge Congdon in the Police Court yesterday morning. He was sentenced to serve 180 days in the County Jail, the limit under such a charge.

Collison is said to have admitted to the officers that he purchased the pepper with the avowed intention of putting out his former brother-in-law's eyes. The condition of the victim's eyes continues to improve.

CATALINA ISLAND.

BIG BLACK BASS LANDED.

AVALON, July 25.—Fishing for the big black sea bass is at present the most popular sport for the anglers at Catalina, and much interest centers in it, because of the fact that the fish of this species run quite large this season. All previous records have been twice broken this month. Each angler as he goes to battle with the huge creatures is on the qui vive of expectation, hoping that luck may make him the world's champion angler.

Three big fellows were brought in this morning. Jim Gardner, after an absence of two years, having returned, and secured his original boat, the Black Cat. He brought in the first of the trio. T. L. Westlake of Muncie, Ind., handling the rod. His fish weighed 230 pounds and it took an hour and seven minutes to land it.

Edgar E. Mason's fish was the heaviest of the lot, weighing 232 pounds, and it cost him an hour and nine minutes of effort to make a landing. He was with Will Matthews. George Patton, Jr., took the third, a fish that weighed 200 and fought an hour and forty-six minutes before surrendering.

MONROVIA.

CAMPERS NOT ENCOURAGED.

MONROVIA, July 25.—Any teamster who dumps a camper out into the forbidden premises of Sawpit Cañon is responsible for his removal, says Ranger Willard Sevier.

He recently wrote to I. W. McClellan to this effect. McClellan doubts that he has police authority to remove his former passenger, who has pitched his tent too close to the water supply. Monrovia's Marshal will ask the intruder to vacate. Only certain parts of the reserves are open to campers, and they are under the surveillance of the rangers.

The Board of Trade wants more light—on White Oak avenue, for instance—where a member of that commercial body who came to talk the matter over with the City Fathers was lost recently. He got himself into a ditch in the darkness, but struck matches to find the way.

A new pumping plant just installed for the city is powerful enough to generate 400 incandescent lights of sixteen candle power, and engineers estimate that a generator can be installed at a cost of $1000. A municipal lighting plant would result, which several Trustees believe could be economically operated. Consideration of this plan has kept in abeyance enlargements of contracts for lighting the streets that are held by the Edison Electric Company.

SANTA MONICA.

DROWNING ACCIDENTAL.

SANTA MONICA, July 25.—Coroner Trout and a jury this afternoon made official inquiry into the circumstances attending the drowning of Lewis, the 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Schmidt, in the swimming lake at Venice, yesterday. The boy's hat and coat found near the bank of the pool were mute witnesses that his body might be found in the water, but none were found who remembered to have seen him swimming in the lake. The presumption of the jury was that the lad had gone down unobserved, while suffering from cramps. Death was determined to have been by accident. The boy's father is expected to arrive from Arizona tomorrow night.

BAR DRUG STORE WHISKY.

In order to confine the sale of whisky to the saloons, the City Trustees have passed an ordinance that is calculated to prevent drug stores from selling any spirits, other than alcohol. Complaint was made that whisky could be obtained by the pint or quart upon a physician's prescription and it was to correct this abuse that the new ordinance was suggested.

POMONA.

REVIVAL CAMPAIGN STARTED.

POMONA, July 25.—A joint meeting of the local church denominations was held at Pilgrim Congregational Church last night to arrange the matter of holding union revival services here in the coming fall. It was unanimously decided to call Rev. Dr. Bulgin, the evangelist, and Prof. Gates, the singer, to conduct a series of such services here commencing on November 12.

The valuable African parrot belonging to J. L. Stanton of the Rock Island route, which escaped from its cage on Third street last Sunday afternoon and for which a general search has been made, was found by a Mexican lemon picker in the old Packard orange grove tract this forenoon. The bird was unjured and really made known its whereabouts by piping "Polly wants a drink."

DEADLY CYANIDE, NARROW MISS.

GIRL OVERCOME WITH FUMES AT LONG BEACH.

Enters Cottage Which Had Been Recently Fumigated, is Rendered Unconscious by Gas, but Has Instinct to Reach Window Through Which She Falls Into Open Air.

LONG BEACH, July 25.—News has been received here from Azusa, of the rapid recovery of Oriena Whitcomb from a peculiar accident in this city last week. Mrs. Carrol S. Whitcomb and daughter, Oriena, came down from Azusa to join the family of W. G. Hall, already domiciled at the beach. Messrs. Hall and Whitcomb followed a day or so later, and found their families absent from the house. Mr. Hall brought along some cyanide to fumigate the cottage, and, after using it, went on to the beach. They found Mrs. Hall and children, but Oriena had gone back to the cottage.

An hour later Mrs. Whitcomb had a presentiment that something had happened and returning to the house found the child lying in the yard unconscious. Dr. Dodworth was called and after a time restored her to consciousness. The child had arrived soon after Mr. Hall had used the cyanide, and finding the door locked entered by a window and was overcome by the fumes, but vaguely remembers turning to the window and falling through it to the ground below.

The vacation of the families came to an abrupt end and they returned home where the victim has been under the care of a physician.

PASSING OF VETERAN.

Nathan T. Kinman, who was stricken with paralysis Sunday night, died last night without recovering consciousness. He had an eventful life. Born in Pekin, N. Y., in 1851, he enlisted as bugle boy in 1862, in a Pennsylvania regiment, but being ordered to the front was entered as a private. He served through the Civil War, entered the regular service at its close and was sent to California. After four years he left the service as a corporal and went to San Bernardino, where he married. He came to Long Beach twenty years ago. A widow and ten children survive. Funeral services will be held Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Kinman was a member of the G. A. R., Knights of Pythias, and Foresters.

SEASHORE NEWS JOTTINGS.

Saturday morning the following gentlemen and ladies left Long Beach in three Ramblers and one Ford automobile: Charles L. Heartwell and wife, W. L. Porterfield, Miss Daisy Porterfield, and Miss Virginia I. Kelley of St. Louis; W. M. Varney and wife, W. A. Kennedy and wife, and Miss Edna Porterfield; Frank S. Craig, wife and son, and I. B. Kelley and wife of St. Louis; A. M. Goodhue, Mrs. Cutter and daughter and George C. Flint and wife. The party left at 8:25 a. m. by way of Pomona and Ontario to Riverside, arriving at 4:30 p. m. Returning by way of Redlands and San Bernardino, the party arrived home Sunday night at 10:45, making a 203-mile trip without accident and averaging fifteen miles an hour.

Long Beach Aerie of Eagles celebrated their first birthday last night and entertained 300 guests from San Pedro, Santa Ana, San Bernardino, Redondo and Los Angeles. The Sun parlor was decorated with flags and bunting, while 7000 carnations were distributed among the guests. After a dance at the pavilion an elaborate banquet was served in the Bixby Block. A. H. Murray acted as toastmaster.

One hundred and seven citizens have petitioned the City Trustees to remove patrolman Leslie W. Folsom, on account of the troubles in the police force and as a relief from prevailing differences.

The City Trustees have passed to its second reading an ordinance prohibiting spitting in public places, on sidewalks and the upper deck of the wharf. A fine of $25 or twenty-five days is the penalty for an offense of this kind.

City Trustee Losee has displayed from the Sun pavilion a full set of signal flags of all nations, while the word welcome in large letters is stretched across the front.

The sloop Hiawatha of Terminal Island anchored off the pier last night, but chafed through her hawser and came ashore at the foot of American avenue. Unsuccessful efforts have been made all day to float her.

Amateur burglars last night attempted to break into the Mission grocery on Third street, but after breaking both locks were evidently frightened away without effecting an entrance.

Samuel Heller, president of the School Board, is ill with typhoid fever. He is in a critical condition today and grave doubts of his recovery are entertained.

OCEAN PARK.

PLAN RINK FOR PIER.

OCEAN PARK, July 25.—A public meeting is to be held at the Casino Friday evening for the purpose, if possible, of perfecting an organization and capitalizing it to complete and maintain a horseshoe pleasure pier. The present structures on Pier and Marine streets are to be incorporated into the semi-circle. For the crescent at the ocean end a giant skating rink is being planned. John B. Arthur, a capitalist and amusement promoter from Green Bay, Wis., who has extensive interests on this bay, expects to father the rink feature of the enterprise.

Pier avenue and Venice are encouraged to believe that the Catholic Association of Southern California may select South Beach as the site for the annual picnic and seashore outing. A date late in August is to be named. Several members of the Committee on Location have expressed their preference for this locality.

Rose-avenue property owners are asking the City Trustees to treat that highway from the ocean to Lake street to a coat of asphalt. When that is accomplished the owners of lots near the east end of the street will ask that the paving be continued eastward to the Compton road.

The city last night sold a $15,000 issue of sewer bonds. The premium paid was $482.

The City Trustees last night passed a vocation tax ordinance. Fortune tellers, necromancers, draymen and all business houses will contribute to the support of the municipal government.

E. W. Enos of Pier avenue is in receipt of news of the death of his father at Milwaukee. The elder Enos, who leaves an estate of more than $50,000 to be divided between a son and a daughter, had resided in Milwaukee continuously since 1837. He was the publisher of the first newspaper in Wisconsin.

PRISON SHOULD BE HOSPITAL.

Declares that the Penal Institution Ought to Be a Place to Which Men Are Committed Until They Are Cured, With Early Parole Provided for Accidental Offenders.

VENICE, July 25.—"Prisons and Prison Systems" was the subject of an address delivered at the Assembly here today by Frank E. Lyon of Chicago.

"Among the many problems of practical philanthropy of our time," he said, "there is that of prison reform, or the reformation of the prisoner, which is the ultimate end of it all. This is a question which comes home to our hearts and homes, not only because of our humanitarian impulses, but because we believe in the prevention of crime. The prisons of the past have been the chief causes of crime, but we are coming toward new prison systems that shall prevent it. We are learning that the relation of society to the prisoner is one which is too deep for tears, too permanent to be treated with indifference, and too sacred to be violated by the expression of vengeance.

"In methods of prison discipline it is dawning upon us that punishment is not a deterrent from crime, but that enlightenment is. Kindness will control the most vicious, while fear will only suppress temporarily the baser passions awaiting eruption.

"The star of hope for the prisoner arose when John Howard became the Warden of Bedford Jail in 1773. Great things have been done since his time, but greater things remain to be accomplished by all of us who believe in the brotherhood of man.

"The modern prison and reformatory should be a hospital, to which men are committed until they are cured, and in the case of accidental offenders, released early on parole.

"'A man's a man for a' that,' and should have the right to earn an honest living without fear or discrimination, even though he has been a prisoner."

ONE CO-OPERATIVE COLONY.

N. O. Nelson, the millionaire profit sharer of St. Louis, told the story of "Leclaire," his cooperative colony. By way of introduction he said: "Leclaire is not a fairy story of a fairy land. It is not a theory realized nor a personality glorified. It is made up of common people and common things. In our business plan we differ from others only in giving the profits to the employés who do the work and the customers who make the demand. In Leclaire we make it beautiful in all the public places at the expense of the business organization, and the individual homes are made beautiful by the owners because, being their own, they would rather have them beautiful than ugly.

"Leclaire was started fifteen years ago on the 125 acres of high and rich land in Illinois, about eighteen miles from St. Louis. It was intended to be a place where there should be steady work in healthy factories, education in rational ways, homes for those who wanted them and out-door beauty. There was no intention to make it conform in any respect to any one man or pet theory. It was to be what the people wanted.

"We built factories on the best models, started a kindergarten, a bowling alley, billiard hall, baseball grounds, and laid out part of the tract in winding streets, planted trees, made cinder roads, board sidewalks, and built houses for the employés who wanted them, payable in monthly installments about equivalent to rents.

"Of rules and authority we have none. We have neither civil organization nor policemen—not even a boss.

"People in the place enjoy themselves in all the natural ways. We have lectures and musicals. We have singing and dancing, hay rides, ball games, tennis and boat riding. Other people besides employés also live in the town and have all its privileges. The business corporation has shared its profits with employés for the last twenty years, the dividends or wages ranging from 4 to 10 per cent. Beginning with this year, the entire profits of the business, except that which goes to the stock already held by employés, is divided between the employés and the customers and philanthropy. The employés get about three-tenths of the entire profits, the customers about four-tenths and the public (that is, for philanthropic purposes) about three-tenths.

"We have successfully avoided the usual pitfalls of community making, by not undertaking to carry out preconceived ideas, but arriving by experiment at what is wanted by the people and not departing too far from the accustomed channels. We have followed a scientific, experimental, evolutionary method instead of one purely theoretical."

In the evening Miss Lottita Carella's class of children gave an exhibition of fancy drills as introductory to Prof. Raymond's lecture on "Rome: The Passing of Authority." He reviewed the military, legal, artistic and religious traditions of Rome and her modern great land-owners and great employers as the sources of the Roman idea of authority.

Tomorrow Mr. Mills will deliver an address in the morning. Mr. Emory will discuss "The Hope of the Prisoner," and Mr. Nelson will answer the question, "Ought a Captain of Industry to Accumulate Wealth?" In the evening as a prelude Miss Bertha Amet, soprano, will sing. The musical numbers will be followed by Prof. Raymond's lecture on "Copenhagen: The Progress of the North."

A Typical Montebello Apricot Orchard

The fame of Montebello as a fruit and garden district has attracted scores of people within the last few months and many 5 and 10 acre tracts have been sold. Eighty fine homes have been erected and a number of others are now in course of construction.

Montebello is just four miles east of the city limits. The Salt Lake road passes through the property, affording excellent transportation facilities for the marketing of products. Oranges, lemons, olives, nuts, deciduous fruits and all the vegetables thrive to perfection here. The photograph above shows a small section of a 10-acre apricot orchard on the tract.

One of the distinctive features of Montebello is the inexhaustible supply of pure water—pronounced by a local water expert to be "as permanent as the very hills themselves." Water is piped in front of every lot and five water shares are deeded with each five acre tract.

S. T. Denton, recently in speaking of Montebello said: "Some time ago I purchased a 10-acre tract in this beautiful district. It has proved to be exactly what I have been looking for, for 10 years. The elevation, the climate and water facilities are to my mind perfect."

Five acre lots are offered from $258 to $370 per acre. The terms are 1-4 cash, balance in from 1 to 4 years at 6 per cent. There are free excursions to Montebello every day. Trains leave at 8 a. m., 11 a. m. and 3:40 p. m. Tickets may be secured at the office of D. O. Stewart & Co., 138 S. Broadway. The office is open Sunday from 9 to 12 a. m.

Office, Woodward Iron & Hardware Co
Cairo, Illinois.

Gentlemen: Your wonderful discovery D. D. D. cured me of a bad case of Eczema of long standing, which the various skin specialists I consulted could not cure. My profound gratitude for the marvelous result accomplished by the use of your famous prescription leads me to write you this letter.

Yours truly,
C. H. WOODWARD,
(Ex-Mayor of Cairo.)

Associated Oil stock again led in interest on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange yesterday. Trading was more active in this security than it has been for sometime, which forced up the price another point and made a strong market for Associated. Transactions were over 19,000 shares at prices ranging from 60 to 61¾. Central was also a feature of the session, 500 shares changing hands at 65, a gain of 5 points over the closing of the day before. This stock closed at 64. Union made a sharp gain, going to 103, but there were no offerings. United Petroleum gained 16¾ points, closing at 179½ without offerings.

Butte Lode closed 1¾ under the quotation of the previous day. Johnnie Consolidated was in request, 2000 shares selling at 14 to 14¼.

Home Savings Bank made another gain of ¼, and Southwestern National Bank gained 2 points, closing at 120 without offerings. There was also some interest in State Bank and Trust, 5 shares being sold at 102½.

Los Angeles Home Telephone stock lost 1¾ points, and United States Long Distance Telephone preferred closed firm at 62¾.

A sale of 15,000 shares of Associated Oil stock was made the other day at 60¾ to 61¼; which shows considerable confidence in the stiffening of this security.

W. S. Bartlett, president of the Union Bank of Savings has gone on a two months' vacation to Japan.

STOCK EXCHANGE MEETING. L. Blankenhorn writes The Times that aside from some modifications incurred at the meeting he is in sympathy with the action taken by the exchange Monday. He is against the policy of making the exchange a margin-trading or wash sales affair, he says, desiring to make it a place for the establishment of true investment values. It is now apparent to some people that it was a mistake to bar

DAILY REPORT OF THE ORANGE MARKET.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Oranges were fairly firm at today's sales, when of good quality. A good deal of buying is now being done for storage purposes, and sales are limited to a small number of cars. Wholesalers get no business, excepting small lots, mostly to special trade. Prices on good fruit rule high, though generally concessions are possible. Retail business is limited, and trade amounts to comparatively little. Lemons continue strong and active, with Californias held higher and firm. Sicily lemons firm and active. Supplies have been increased by the arrival of 77,000 boxes.

NEW YORK CITY, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] The sale of citrus fruits today consisted of three cars. The market continues strong on all varieties, Valencias continue to bring fancy prices, the fancy grade realizing $5.85, while choice brought $5.25 and standards $3.10. Fancy Mediterranean Sweets brought $3.25 and choice $2.95. There were no California lemons offered today.

BOSTON MARKET.

BOSTON (Mass.) July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] Only one car of citrus fruit was offered at auction today. This was a car of California lemons. The demand continues strong and fancy lemons brought $4.80 while choice brought $4.05. The weather is warm and pleasant.

Local Citrus Movements.

The shipments of citrus fruits Monday were 16 carloads of oranges and 13 carloads of lemons; grand total, 27,998, of which 3425 were lemons.

reporters from the meeting. Such action always leads to the suspicion that something is doing which won't bear day light. No more foolish or damaging thing could be done by a board of this sort.

Time money, 60 to 90 days, 6 per cent.; from 4 to 6 months, 6 per cent.

Commercial paper, 60 to 90 days, indorsed bills, 6 per cent.; from 4 to 6 months, single names, 7 per cent.

LOCAL PRODUCE MARKET.

The receipts for July 24 as reported by the Produce Exchange were: Eggs 178 cases; butter, 22,751 pounds; cheese, 2280 pounds; Irish potatoes, 144 sacks; sweet potatoes, 37 sacks; onions, 9 sacks; beans, none.

The price of eggs is again the burning question in the produce market. The egg quotation committee which is usually on the bull side of the market advanced local ranch eggs to 23 cents beginning Monday and eastern and seconds in proportion. Yesterday its prices were: Local ranch, 27; eastern 24; seconds, 21. On Monday the dealers were selling ranch eggs at 24 to 25 cents, and yesterday from 25 to 26 cents, the majority of the sales however being made at 25 cents. One dealer was found who said the market was firm at 26 cents with an upward tendency and looked for a 27 cent market, today; but one of the best egg authorities in the produce market said the Times that 25 cents was the outside price, explaining that there were something like 2000 cases of local ranch eggs in storage and about 100 cars of eastern, which were being freely drawn upon by the dealers. He said that if these supplies were not available fresh ranch eggs would be selling at from 27 to 30 cents, but with a comparatively easy market in supplies 27 cents was out of the question. It, he added, the ranch eggs that were coming into the market were first class in every respect, dealers might get more money for their stock, but most of the eggs he said were small, and worth only 25 cents.

The local Butter Board of Trade has advanced the price of its creamery to 57½ cents, and the other varieties have gone up in proportion. Valley 55 to 57½, Coast, 47½ to 50; Coast dairy, 46½ to 47½.

Apples arrived in good supply, but prices were unchanged, though the market was weak. Bartlett pears were jobbing at 1.50 to 1.75 in standard pear boxes, but trading was quiet and prices may decline.

Apricots were slightly firmer jobbing at 50 to 60 cents.

Peaches were in plenty, but dealers had no difficulty in getting from 45 to 75 cents.

Pluma were in good request and fair advance, almost selling at 1.25; Burbanks 75 to 1.00; tragedies, 1.10.

Tropico strawberries were moving at 4½ to 5 cents, and Monetas 90 to 1.10. The arrivals of the latter were 100 crates, but trading was only fair, and the market weak at the prices quoted. Raspberries were in less supply than they have been and were comparatively firm at 10 cents; blackberries 4½ cents; loganberries 6 cents.

Tomatoes were jobbing at 50 cents; cucumbers 25 to 40 cents; cabbage 50 to 60 cents; peas 4 to 5; beans, 2; green corn 75 to 1.25, according to quality; chiles 2 cents; eggplant 4 to 5.

The fish market was well supplied with barracuda and halibut; but the demand was slow. Small fish were scarce, excepting rock bass, enough Northern came in to meet the demand, and crabs were in plenty.

SHARES AND MONEY.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

NEW YORK, July 25.—Today's stock market had clearly enough fallen back into the hands of the smaller professional element which trades at the board room day in and day out the year round, as against the element which embarks in extensive speculative campaigns with intervals away from the stock market. The latter element is indulging in vacation idleness at this period. The general public shows no sign of interest in the market. The buying movement of Monday to cover short contracts put out Saturday was carried over into the early part of the day, and small speculative parties operated for a advance in one or two stocks in which there were a plausible reason for an advance. Reading rebounded sharply from Saturday's attack, owing to the disclaimers publicly expressed by the president of the United Mine Workers of the alleged danger of a strike. The United States Steel stocks were taken in anticipation of a strong showing to be made by the quarterly report of net earnings, which was not expected to be published, however, until after the closing of the market. The bear attack of last Saturday is principally attributed in the comment current about the stock exchange to the account of a large bucket shop interest, the customers of which had made extensive commitments on the long side, entailing the deposit of marginal securities in the hands of the bucket shops. The demand for stocks was not extended largely beyond the needs of the short sellers of last week. The normal uncertainty of crop estimates at this season of the year and the irregular movement of stocks likely to result seem to discourage activity. The recovery in the price of wheat, today, was accompanied by some trivial black rust reports from the Washington region. The glaring discrepancy between the tenor of these reports and those of the Weather Bureau crop bulletin did not deprive them of influence both in the wheat and stock markets, and the late reaction in stocks was largely attributed to this cause. Reports from the West spoke of a hardening tendency in the money market there and the expectation of higher rates within a short time, owing to the loaned up condition of the banks and the prospect of active business conditions as the crops are harvested. The New York money market was called easy, but principally from the lightness of the demand, the funds offering showing no notable increase in volume. The stock market, the latter part of the day fell into a state of neglect, but the decline was partly recovered, and the closing was steady. Total sales of bonds, par value, $1,814,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

GENERAL EASTERN MARKETS.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE.

[BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS—P.M.]

CHICAGO, July 25.—Nervousness pervaded the wheat pit throughout the entire session. At the start, the market was decidedly weak, initial quotations on September being down ½ to 1, at 79@79⅞. Conditions in the Northwest constituted the chief source of weakness. The weather throughout the Dakotas and Minnesota is still of a kind to minimize the danger of spread of black rust, clear skies prevailing generally over that section. Another reason for heavy selling that prevailed at the opening was found in the liberal arrivals of new wheat at Chicago. A decline in the price of wheat at Liverpool was an additional depressing influence. Toward the end of the first hour sentiment changed, the tone of the market becoming decidedly bullish. The cause was information contained in numerous advices from Minneapolis regarding damage by rust, one of the reports asserting that samples of wheat from Manitoba showed signs of the dreaded blight. While the buying enthusiasm was at its height, a fresh factor of bearish portent became available. This was the weekly report of the weather bureau commenting on the condition of springsown wheat. The report claimed that all known black rust had been discovered in scattered districts no material damage has thus far resulted. Renewed weakness followed this announcement, many of the earlier buyers becoming active sellers. The market closed weak, with prices nearest the lowest the point reached. Final quotations on September were 78¾@78⅞. Corn was somewhat bullish as a result of smaller receipts than estimated. September opened unchanged to ¼ higher, at 54¾@54⅝; sold between 54⅜ and 54⅞, and closed at 54¾@54⅝. Heavy liquidation caused weakness in the oats market. September opened ¼ lower, at 29⅜, sold between 29⅛@29⅜, and closed at the lowest point. Provisions were easy early in the session, on account of apprehension concerning yellow fever in the South. At the close, September pork was up 7½; lard was 2½ to 5 higher and ribs were unchanged.

The leading futures closed as follows:

Dairy Markets.

CHICAGO, July 25.—On the Produce Exchange today the butter market was steady; creamery, 16½@20; dairy, 15@19½. Eggs, firm at mark, 14; cheese, steady, 9¾@10½.

Boston Wool Market.

BOSTON, July 25.—New strength is found in the wool market. This is partly the result of the satisfactory opening of the better grades of men's wear woolens for spring. In view of large sales and satisfactory condition of goods market, lower prices in the near future are not looked for; on the contrary, the tendency is believed to be distinctly upward.

New York Metal Market.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The London tin market scored a further sensational advance, with spot over £2 higher at £145, 15s, while futures closed at £148, 17s, 6d, a gain of about £3, 17s, 6d as compared with yesterday. The local market, responding to the foreign strength was also higher, closing at 31.60@32.75. Copper shared to some extent in the tin advance abroad, closing at 24@?. Lbs for spot and 23@ for futures. Locally the market continues firm, with lake and electrolytic quoted at 15.12½@15.25, and casting at 14.75. Lead was unchanged in both markets. London quoted at £13. Is and the local prices are 4.20@4.40. Spelter remained firm in the New York market at 4.50@4.60, but was lower at £23, 15s in London. Locally iron shows continued steadiness.

Chicago Live Stock Market.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Cattle: Receipts 5000; good to prime steers, 5.15@5.85; poor to medium, 3.60@5.10; stockers and feeders, 2.25@4.25; cows, 2.00@4.60; heifers, 2.00@4.75; canners, 1.25@3.60; bulls, 2.25@4.25; calves, 3.00@6.25. Texas fed steers, 3.50@4.75. Sheep—Receipts, 22,000; steady; good to choice wethers 4.50@5.25; fair to choice mixed, 4.00@4.60; western sheep, 4.00@5.25; native lambs, 5.00@7.00; western lambs, 5.50@7.00.

New Orleans Cotton.

NEW ORLEANS—July 25.—The cotton market recorded a new high level of prices for the season today, the active positions being 17 to 24 points higher than yesterday's final. October sold at 11.35, an advance of 19 points; December 11.30, an advance of 20 points and January at 11.32, an advance of 17 points. Bad crop reports and news of large areas of abandoned land because of overflows valleys were the principal causes, together with the assurance that Manchester was again in the market, and that prices of goods had been raised at Fall River.

California Dried Fruits.

NEW YORK, July 25.—The market for evaporated apples is unchanged, holders remaining firm, while demand is quiet; good to prime 4@4½; prime at 4¾@5; choice at 6¼@7; fancy at 7¾. Prunes remain about as last reported, with quotations ranging from 3@4 for California fruit. Apricots are quiet, with choice quoted at 9½@10¼; extra choice at 10¼@11; and fancy at 12½@13. Peaches continue steady with choice quoted at 10@10¼; extra choice 10¾@10¾, fancy at 11¼@12. Raisins are meeting with very little demand for the time being, and the market is flat. Loose muscatels are quoted at 6¼@6¾; seeded raisins at 6½@6¾; London layers at 1.60@1.15.

New York General Market.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Wheat: Spot options closed: May 81½; July 80½; September 91½; December 82. Hops and wool steady. Hides and petroleum quiet. Coffee: Spot Rio steady; mild quiet; Cordova dull.

Callboard Sales.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—Wheat: Stronger; December 1.04¾. Barley easy. December 97. Corn, large yellow, 1.37@1.42½. Bran: 21.00@22.00.

New York Cotton Market.

SAN FRANCISCO MARKETS.

GRAIN, FRUIT AND PRODUCE.

[BY DIRECT WIRE TO THE TIMES.]

SAN FRANCISCO, July 25.—[Exclusive Dispatch.] There was no noteworthy change in the market for deciduous fruits today, general trading continuing mainly of routine character, with values wideranged. Liberal lines of ordinary peaches dragged to irside rates. Values for apricots were firmer, arrivals being lighter and the demand for fancy stock of good volume. Grapes were neglected and quoted at sharp decline, while nectarines were steadier under lighter offerings. Figs held up well at quotations, with supplies moderate and demand buoyant. All descriptions of berries are in lighter supply, and the market was firmer. The demand for melons was moderate and prevailing prices about steady. In citrus fruits, two carloads of Valencia oranges were marketed, but with no outside demand the movement was slow at unchanged rates. Fancy lemons were in limited supply, and steady at highest quotation, but common lines were plentiful and somewhat easy in price. Limes were steady at unaltered rates. Dull markets were again reported for potatoes. Tomatoes met with good demand, and the market for fancy lines was steadier. Peppers are higher under lighter arrivals. Cucumbers and summer squash are more plentiful and a trifle cheaper. Fluctuations in values for other vegetables were of minor importance. A small lot of early marrowfat squash arrived, and was held at one cent a pound.

TRAIN RIFLES ON THE AUTOS.

San Marcos Pass Ranchmen Have Organized.

Say Machines Mustn't Run Through that Defile.

Runaways of Teams Urged as a Reason.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

SANTA BARBARA, July 25.—Ranchmen in the neighborhood of San Marcos Pass have organized a rifle brigade in order to enforce the county ordinances against automobilists using that road for their machines, and are threatening to take stringent means for the protection of those who use that mountain pass for other vehicles.

Many record-breakers both on their runs and while getting familiar with the roads between San Francisco and Los Angeles have gone over the pass on their machines, and frightened teams and runaways have been the result. The San Marcos Pass is one of the steepest and most dangerous mountain defiles on this popular automobile run, and mountain residents have decided to put an end to the use of that road by the "devil machines."

The county authorities have been unable to make arrests of automobilists on account of lack of communication with the pass and because the record-breakers left the city long before it was known what road they came over.

Some of the members of the rifle brigade have come into this city and have been studying the mechanism of automobiles in order to discover how they can puncture the works of the machines with a rifle ball and cripple the machine without injuring the occupants.

One party of automobilists who came over the pass early this morning just escaped an encounter with the vigilance committee, as they came through earlier than most of the auto tourists. They were informed of the status of affairs, however, and are very thankful that they were not a few hours later on the road. The same party, which came south from San Francisco, report that they have been going over roads in the neighborhood of San José, Milpitas, Alviso and Mountain View where notices were posted that the roads were not open to automobilists and as they were not molested, they thought that other automobilists should know that these highways were virtually open to any machine that dared to pass the signs.

ARIZONA.

OFFICIAL STATEMENT ABOUT LAGUNA BARRIER.

It Will Flood a Space of Nineteen Square Miles, Says a Notice Filed by Uncle Sam's Representative With County Recorder—Canal to Mexican Boundary.

[SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE OF THE TIMES.]

YUMA (Ariz.) July 24.—Under authority of the Secretary of the Interior, Engineer Lippincott has filed in the office of the Recorder of Yuma county a notice that the United States government claims all unappropriated water of the Colorado River, both surface and underflow, to the extent of 2000 second feet. The location notice tells, among many things, that the reservoir to be created by the proposed Laguna dam across the Colorado River above Yuma, will cover with water a space of nineteen square miles and that a canal, 100 feet wide and ten feet deep, is to be constructed from the dam around Yuma to the international boundary.

RIVER LEAVES SOGGY FIELDS.

The Colorado has so far retreated within its ordinary boundaries that the lowland dwellers have been enabled to return to their flooded homes and soggy fields. Very little real damage was done by the flood in the bottoms around Yuma, though many cattle are reported to have been drowned farther up the river.

UP A TREE—BUT HAPPY.

About the best tale of the floodtime that has drifted in is one of an old woodchopper, named Myers, whose main work has been the furnishing of fuel for the Searchlight steamer. When the water rose, Myers fixed his cot in the branches of a great mesquite tree and set his stove hard by on a large box. The stove he had to elevate several times till its base was tower-like and the cot went up till it rested in the very uppermost branches. The old man was on an island, forgotten and without a boat. But he cared not. He had plenty of food and plenty of reading matter and up the tree he stayed in comfort for sixty days till the river again resumed its channel.

BEATS WAY TO DEATH.

At Casa Grande a few days ago the body of a young man was brought in by a passenger train, the day after he had started from the town, "beating his way" on a freight train. It is told that he had been discovered clinging to a freight car ladder by a brakeman who had kicked him in the face and mouth till he had to relinquish his hold and drop to the ground, though the train was running at high speed. It is told that the deadly wounds were those inflicted by the train hand, though he suffered necessarily in falling. In Casa Grande he had given his name as West, saying his home was at Springfield, Mo.

BIG MONEY IN FIGS.

Though the canals are clogged with silt from the flood, agricultural prospects around Yuma are excellent. The hope that the locality will yet gain its greatest income through the growing of special and uncommon products seems to be justified by the early summer's experience with figs. Five hundred boxes of early figs were shipped to San Francisco, where they sold for the enormous price of even $10 a box, which meant about 10 cents a fig. The early crop was of magnificent quality, averaging fourteen to the pound. At present shipments are being made to Los Angeles and more northerly points, the growers realizing from 75 cents to $1 a box of seven pounds.

Sale 200 Doz. White Lawn Shirt Waists

PRICES LESS THAN COST OF MATERIAL BY THE YARD

We are just in receipt by express of this large lot of 200 doz. waists which were purchased by our New York Buying Organization from the manufacturer at a big concession in price. The waists are all new and were made for a large Eastern house, but owing to lateness of delivery were refused and as the factory had them on its hands, they made it an object to us to take the entire amount. This great purchase will be appreciated by our public, as it is the middle of the summer season when white waists are the most acceptable. They are divided into two lots and go on sale Wednesday, described and priced as follows:

$1.50 White Shirt Waists at 98c

About 25 different styles; open front or back effects; trimmed with lace insertion, medallions, blind and open work embroideries with self tucking and knife plaits; also yoke and surplice front styles; all sizes in the lot and are the kinds that sell in most stores at $2.00, but which we would have to sell in the regular way at $1.50.
